IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of cabinets of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Where an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, commander, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the same which are destined to the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such information than is required by the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, master, commander, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, localities, with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, commander, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were employed fourteen at the time of the arrival but who will leave port fourteen at the time of per departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, commander, or master so to deliver either of the said lists or any alien employee who is found on board without having been reported, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains pending; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alleviate deserting, temporarily or for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily as a bona fide member of the crew of the vessel while in port, and unless adequate provision is made by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel for the maintenance and removal of such alien seaman when required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or of such alien to obtain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if ordered by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties wholly independent to June 2, 1940.

(d) Every alien seaman who did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship on such vessel, giving the position they respectively held in the ship's company when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the same which are destined to the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such information than is required by the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, master, commander, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, localities, with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, commander, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were employed fourteen at the time of the arrival but who will leave port fourteen at the time of per departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, commander, or master so to deliver either of the said lists or any alien employee who is found on board without having been reported, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains pending; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of entry, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I–418) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an attorney assumes it a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens assumed, including names of attorney American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of entry; or list containing as much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, if aliens in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival put who will leave port thereon at the time or for departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and a brief statement of the cause and circumstances of such departure. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall fail to report any alien employee or to deliver a complete list as herein required, or to report any alien illegally landed, or to deliver to such immigration officer any such alien for inspection, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such default occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section as amended, shall apply to all domestic ports independent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Front that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such default occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer in charge of the vessel or aircraft, and it shall be the duty of the master of any vessel bound for the United States from any foreign port or place to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or, if the vessel be not bound for a port of entry, to the immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival, lists or manifests of all persons on board such vessel, or aircraft, which shall be prepared at the time of embarkation of the passengers, in such form and manner and containing such information as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and such additional information relative to such persons or other persons who may be on board such vessel or aircraft coming to the United States as the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall at any time require. Such lists or manifests shall be delivered before the vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance papers, or in the case of vessels or aircraft sailing without clearance papers before such vessel or aircraft departs from the last port where such papers are granted. Such lists or manifests shall be corrected, in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, if any additional persons are carried on board before the departure is finally taken for the United States. Such lists or manifests shall be prima facie evidence, in any proceeding brought for the purpose, of the right of any person named therein to enter the United States, in the case of any immigrant who has been duly certified at the place of his embarkation for the United States by a consular officer, and in the case of any other person of the possession of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of the vessel or aircraft of a certificate from the Secretary of Labor that such person is not entitled to enter the United States. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any such vessel or aircraft who shall refuse or fail to deliver such lists or manifests, or to deliver them within the time prescribed by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien on board thereof when ordered so to do by an immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse or fail to report, record, or detain any such alien in pursuance of the provisions of this section or of any rule made in pursuance thereof, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the tax imposed by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver a certificate from the Secretary of Labor, when required by this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Any fine collected under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and shall constitute a part of the immigrant fund provided for by section 2 of this Act. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any such vessel or aircraft who shall refuse or fail to deliver to any immigrant inspector any list or manifest required by this section

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. The list or manifest of passengers or alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be required or deemed to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 14.[1] Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied.—Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 1317) have been furnished and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative authorities by said section or to that prescribed by section 33 of said Act (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 1033) have been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

SEC. 30.[2] Time when alien may land from vessel in United States from foreign port.—(a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory or adjacent islands (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), except an alien seaman employed on board any vessel duly inspected by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and a member of the crew in possession of a valid unexpired seaman's visa, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Every alien seaman employed on any vessel duly inspected on such vessel shall be permitted to land in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory or adjacent islands for a period not to exceed five days, except temporarily for such longer period as may be necessary on account of illness or other cause beyond the control of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(c) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory or adjacent islands shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, before disembarkation of any alien seaman employed on such vessel, a complete list of such alien seamen in quadruplicate, and shall deliver to the immigration officer at each subsequent port in the United States, before such vessel departs therefrom, a list in quadruplicate of such alien seamen who have been discharged, and of all alien seamen who have been shipped or engaged, and shall take from the immigration officer at such subsequent port a receipt therefor. Such lists shall be prepared in the form and manner prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and shall contain as to each alien seaman the name, nationality, last known address, date and place of birth, race, last foreign residence, calling, port of embarkation, vessel on which he arrived, date of arrival, immigration visa number, if any, and such additional information relative to such alien seaman as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 167.)

(d) Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who fails to deliver lists required by subdivision (c) of this section, or who refuses to permit any immigration officer to board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the crew thereof, or who refuses to deliver to any immigration officer any person on board such vessel, or who refuses to detain any alien seaman on board any vessel when requested so to do by any immigration officer, or who refuses to permit any immigration officer to take from such vessel any alien seaman, or who refuses to detain any alien seaman on board such vessel after notice that such alien seaman has been ordered to be deported from the United States, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such offense. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

(e) Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who fails to report, detain, or deliver any alien seaman in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Such penalty shall constitute a lien upon the vessel to which the alien seaman belongs, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States in which the vessel may arrive. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 169.)

(f) Upon the arrival in the United States of any alien seaman who has been ordered deported from the United States, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived shall be responsible for the safekeeping of such alien seaman and shall detain him on board or in such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, pending the completion of the necessary arrangements for the departure of such alien seaman. Such detention on board or elsewhere shall not exceed a period of five days, unless further detention is specifically directed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. The cost of detaining such alien seaman on board or elsewhere shall be paid by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States in which the port of arrival is located. The cost of detaining such alien seaman elsewhere than on board shall be determined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the use of the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 170.)

(g) Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who fails to pay the cost of detaining any alien seaman, as provided in subdivision (f) of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. The vessel shall be granted clearance papers notwithstanding the default in payment of such cost, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Such penalty shall constitute a lien upon the vessel to which the alien seaman belongs, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States in which the vessel may arrive. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty or any part thereof upon the payment of such cost. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

(h) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States as a member of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or to depart after readmission by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(i) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 171 (a), 171 (c))

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the adjustment of such seaman's case. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall cause or permit any alien seaman employed on such vessel duly licensed immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (or, if there be no such officer at the port, the officer in charge at the nearest port of entry) to detain such alien seaman on board such vessel until such seaman is examined by such immigration officer or to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, ill cases in which the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe, the name of such alien seaman and the cause or causes for which he was not detained. Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States in violation of this section, as amended, shall upon the warrant of the Attorney General be arrested and deported as provided in the immigration laws, and shall not be admitted to the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he did not depart voluntarily.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deliver alien landing certificate by the immigration officer at the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such presumption may be rebutted by the production of such certificate or by other evidence satisfactory to the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, including insular possessions of the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because detained to assist in the investigation or prosecution of such alien seaman, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation or removal of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board while such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty, or any part thereof, in such amount as he may deem appropriate, not exceeding $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such seaman became a member of the crew by reason of the operation of the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. This section as amended shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1930.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien seamen by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival such complete and accurate list or manifest of all the crew, including the master, as may be required by the Attorney General, which list or manifest shall be delivered to such immigration officer at the time of the vessel's entry into the port of arrival; or such list or manifest may be delivered to such immigration officer at any time after the vessel has been granted entry but before the departure of any such vessel for a foreign port, and such list or manifest shall contain the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position or duty on board the vessel of each alien employed on such vessel, the nationality, last permanent residence, and intended final destination of each alien employed on such vessel, the date and port of his last arrival in the United States, whether in possession of an immigrant visa, if required by law, and whether in possession of a passport, and such other information relative to each alien employed on such vessel as may be required by the Attorney General. Such list or manifest shall also contain the names of all persons employed as members of the crew of such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival and the cause of the separation. Such list or manifest shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commander of such vessel shall, if required by the Attorney General, deliver a true copy of such list or manifest to the boarding officer. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such list or manifest, or who makes a false statement in any such list or manifest concerning the right or privilege of any person to enter the United States, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. (39 Stat. 880, 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to file additional list, if any, has been given as to alien employees, or to the effect that no alien employees are to be employed after the departure of such vessel, or that such employees are to be employed only at ports specified in the application for clearance. (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.16. Penalty for violation of section 36. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any vessel who violates any of the provisions of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. (39 Stat. 880, 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.17. Penalty for failure to deport alien seamen. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any vessel who fails to deport any alien seaman employed on such vessel, as required by section 30 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166), or who fails to deport any alien seaman on board such vessel after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty, or any part thereof, in such amount as he may deem appropriate, not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such seaman became a member of the crew by reason of the operation of the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. This section as amended shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1930.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-430) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the primary immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an arriving alien is a "non-immigrant," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seeking admission, include names of arriving American citizens seeking admission as well as aliens.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for the ultimate deportation of such seaman, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or temporary landing of such seaman. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 208.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory who fails to deport on board the vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deport such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the case is pending, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such returns as the Attorney General in the direction shall think proper. This section as amended shall apply to all hereafter arising violations of the provisions of section 2, June 2, 1840.

(b) Every alien seaman who does not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after readmission by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of new cause for deportation arising after the departure of the vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and such other lists and information in regard to aliens as the Attorney General may require. Such lists shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the Attorney General may require the production of the original manifest of the vessel. Such lists shall be verified before the deputy or clerk of such owner, agent, consignee, or master by the oath of the person making the same, and shall show the full name, nationality, last residence, calling, and destination of every such alien, and such other information regarding each alien as the Attorney General may prescribe, and such additional lists or information as the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival may require. Such lists shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival, and no such vessel shall depart from any foreign port or place for any port or place in the United States without having on board the lists required by this section, complete and correct to such time, and the master thereof shall, before departure from such foreign port or place, make oath before the consular officer of the United States at such port or place to the correctness and completeness of such lists, and deliver to such consular officer a certified copy thereof, and produce to such officer the original manifest of the vessel. Such consular officer shall certify on the manifest the number of such aliens, if any, who have been delivered on board such vessel, and shall report to the Secretary of Labor the name of the master, the name of the vessel, and the number of aliens, if any, who have been so delivered, and shall deliver to the master a certified copy of such report, and the master shall deliver the same to the immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival in the United States. Such consular officer may, if he deems it necessary, refuse a clearance to the vessel, or may cancel any clearance granted, and detain the vessel until the full complement of crew, as shown by the manifest, is on board, or may require the payment of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the return passage to the port of destination of any alien who may be specified in the manifest and who may be prevented from proceeding on the vessel by reason of the refusal of a visa to his passport by the United States consular officer, or by reason of his detention by the United States immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and may, in his discretion, require the deposit of such sum before granting clearance to the vessel. Such sum shall be held to insure the departure of such alien and may be used to pay the cost of his return passage if he fails to depart on the vessel. Any master who knowingly fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien in respect of whom he so fails to comply, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the payment of such fine, or while the master thereof is in default with respect thereto, or pending the application for remission or mitigation thereof, but clearance may be granted prior to the payment of such fine upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the amount thereof, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may upon application in writing therefor mitigate such fine to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such returns as the Attorney General in the direction shall think proper.

(As amended June 21, 1930, 46 Stat. 762; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 15. (a) That from and after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and seventeen, it shall be unlawful for any person, including masters, owners, agents, charterers, officers, or members of the crew of any vessel, to bring to the United States from any foreign port or place any alien who is not in possession of a valid passport and an unexpired immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu of a passport, if such passport, visa, or other travel document is required by the provisions of this Act or by such rules and regulations as may be prescribed hereunder, or to bring to the United States from any foreign port or place any alien who is not in possession of a valid certificate of identity, if such certificate

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Clarence E. Mundell, of the City Point Farm, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew presently in said vessel from any port or place outside the United States, excepting persons employed in the Engineering Department, and that the entries made by me on the said list are correct to the best of my knowledge and belief and that in each case the nationality of the person entered thereon is correctly stated, so far as I have been able to ascertain the same.

I further declare that I have carefully examined the certificate of each person on board who has been shipped outside the United States since the vessel last arrived at a port therein, and that no person has been taken on board except those whose certificates are in due form and who are specified in the said list.

Clarence E. Mundell
Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 3rd day of December, 1954.

[illegible]
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of crew (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board after the vessel shall be cleared by the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any member of the crew (D.P. Form I-418) shall not be permitted to land temporarily in the United States unless he shall have been duly examined by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and has been granted a landing permit. Any member of the crew who is not a citizen of the United States who desires to land temporarily in the United States shall present to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a valid passport and shall obtain a nonimmigrant visa unless he is specifically exempted by the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, or by the Passport Act of 1918, as amended, or by regulations made pursuant to such Acts. Any member of the crew who is not a citizen of the United States who is given shore leave must present to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a valid passport and such other documentation as may be required by the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, or by regulations made pursuant to such Act. Any member of the crew who is not a citizen of the United States who is given shore leave must present to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a valid passport and such other documentation as may be required by the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, or by regulations made pursuant to such Act. Any member of the crew who is not a citizen of the United States who is given shore leave must present to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a valid passport and such other documentation as may be required by the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, or by regulations made pursuant to such Act.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any alien seaman on the vessel or which he arrived would endanger the public interest if he were permitted to land temporarily, he may require the master to detain such alien on board the vessel or to deliver him to the custody of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and the master shall comply with such requirement. The master may appeal from any such requirement to the Attorney General, but pending decision on appeal the alien seaman shall be detained on board or delivered to the immigration officer. Such appeal shall not be entertained unless it is taken within 48 hours after the requirement appealed from is made, excluding Sundays and holidays, and unless a bond with sufficient surety in such amount, not less than $500 nor more than $2,000, as the Attorney General may prescribe, is deposited to assure the payment of the expenses of detention and passage provided for in this section. The decision of the Attorney General shall be final and shall be communicated to the master in writing.

(d) Upon the arrival of the vessel at the port of destination in the United States, the master shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a complete and accurate list containing the name, nationality, last permanent address, and status on board the vessel of each alien seaman employed on board the vessel who is to be discharged in the United States, and shall furnish such additional information relative to such alien seamen as the immigration officer may require. Such list shall be prepared in accordance with instructions issued by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

(e) Any alien seaman who is ordered deported from the United States and who is not a native, citizen, subject, or national of the country to which he is ordered deported, or who has resided continuously in the United States for five years next preceding the date of the vessel on which he arrived at a port in the United States, shall be deported to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen, subject, or national, if such country will accept him into its territory. If deportation to such country is impracticable, inadvisable, or impossible, the alien seaman may be deported to any country which is willing to accept him into its territory. Any alien seaman who is ordered deported and who, after reasonable opportunity, fails or refuses to secure a visa within the proper period, if required, or to depart from the United States within the time specified, or any alien seaman who, without the consent of the master or the immigration officer at the port of arrival, deserts or attempts to desert from the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deemed to be a deserter. Any alien seaman who is ordered deported shall be detained on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of an emergency as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or departure of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof destined to any other port in the United States, or any vessel departing from the United States for any place outside thereof, shall before the departure of such vessel from the port at which it is then located file with the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure a list containing the name, nationality, last permanent address, and status on board the vessel of each alien seaman employed on board, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival may require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to file with him a list containing such information in respect to each alien seaman employed on board such vessel. The Attorney General may prescribe rules and regulations governing the preparation of such lists or manifests, the information to be furnished therein, and the procedure to be followed in connection with the boarding and inspection of vessels for the purpose of obtaining such information. Any master, owner, agent, charterer, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who fails to comply with the requirements of this section or any such rules or regulations shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs: No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty in whole or in part under such conditions and to such extent as he may prescribe if he shall be satisfied that the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure acted improperly in the matter of the imposition of the penalty or that the vessel on which the alien seaman departed had sailed before the expiration of the time prescribed for the filing of the list or that the master had no reasonable cause to believe that any of the persons on board were aliens or that the vessel was to depart from the United States within the time prescribed.

This section as amended shall apply to all nonimmigrant aliens apprehended on or after October 1, 1940.

(b) Upon that an alien seaman did not appear upon the customs manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or upon the discovery by the master of the vessel on which an alien seaman arrived in the United States that such alien seaman had left the vessel without permission, the master shall report the fact to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and deliver to him a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel if shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted, with the date of such desertion; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such alien seamen arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report each case of desertion or landing such owner, agent, consignee, or master of a vessel shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty in whole or in part under such conditions and to such extent as he may prescribe if he shall be satisfied that the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure acted improperly in the matter of the imposition of the penalty or that the vessel on which the alien seaman departed had sailed before the expiration of the time prescribed for the filing of the list or that the master had no reasonable cause to believe that any of the persons on board were aliens or that the vessel was to depart from the United States within the time prescribed.

This section as amended shall apply to all nonimmigrant aliens apprehended on or after October 1, 1940.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any alien seaman on the vessel or which he arrived would endanger the public interest if he were permitted to land temporarily, he may require the master to detain such alien on board the vessel or to deliver him to the custody of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and the master shall comply with such requirement. The master may appeal from any such requirement to the Attorney General, but pending decision on appeal the alien seaman shall be detained on board or delivered to the immigration officer. Such appeal shall not be entertained unless it is taken within 48 hours after the requirement appealed from is made, excluding Sundays and holidays, and unless a bond with sufficient surety in such amount, not less than $500 nor more than $2,000, as the Attorney General may prescribe, is deposited to assure the payment of the expenses of detention and passage provided for in this section. The decision of the Attorney General shall be final and shall be communicated to the master in writing.

(d) Upon that an alien seaman did not appear upon the customs manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or upon the discovery by the master of the vessel on which an alien seaman arrived in the United States that such alien seaman had left the vessel without permission, the master shall report the fact to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and deliver to him a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel if shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted, with the date of such desertion; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such alien seamen arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report each case of desertion or landing such owner, agent, consignee, or master of a vessel shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty in whole or in part under such conditions and to such extent as he may prescribe if he shall be satisfied that the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure acted improperly in the matter of the imposition of the penalty or that the vessel on which the alien seaman departed had sailed before the expiration of the time prescribed for the filing of the list or that the master had no reasonable cause to believe that any of the persons on board were aliens or that the vessel was to depart from the United States within the time prescribed.

This section as amended shall apply to all nonimmigrant aliens apprehended on or after October 1, 1940.

(e) Any alien seaman who is ordered deported from the United States and who is not a native, citizen, subject, or national of the country to which he is ordered deported, or who has resided continuously in the United States for five years next preceding the date of the vessel on which he arrived at a port in the United States, shall be deported to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen, subject, or national, if such country will accept him into its territory. If deportation to such country is impracticable, inadvisable, or impossible, the alien seaman may be deported to any country which is willing to accept him into its territory. Any alien seaman who is ordered deported and who, after reasonable opportunity, fails or refuses to secure a visa within the proper period, if required, or to depart from the United States within the time specified, or any alien seaman who, without the consent of the master or the immigration officer at the port of arrival, deserts or attempts to desert from the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deemed to be a deserter. Any alien seaman who is ordered deported shall be detained on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned in section 16 of the Act of May 26, 1924, entitled as above, is a duplicate to that called for by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and is to include names of all aliens employed on board the vessel, whether they are to be landed or not, and also the names of all aliens who may be signed on as members of the crew after the vessel's departure from the last port in the United States. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector to go on board such vessel for the purpose of examining the list, or who shall refuse to allow the inspector to muster the crew, or who shall refuse to deliver to such inspector any alien employed on board such vessel, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each such offense.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization to such extent and for such length of time as the Attorney General may prescribe, pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or pending his removal in pursuance of the provisions of section 19 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; U. S. C., Supp. VII, title 8, sec. 155).

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to which such alien came from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit same.

The section as amended shall apply to all hereinbefore alien seamen employed to June 5, 1920.

$500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall deem proper.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain at depart alien landsman; or that he was employed on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue prejudice to such seaman by such cause him to be detained on shoreat expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors at destination the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I-426) shall not be furnished or noted but shall be delivered by the master to the primary immigration officer at the port of arrival. A separate original list must be delivered for each vessel. The list of aliens must contain the names of all aliens employed on board the vessel, regardless of whether they are to be landed at the port of arrival or are destined to some other port of the United States or foreign country, and shall show with respect to each alien the following: Full name; age; sex; nationality (country of which a citizen or subject); country of birth; race; last foreign residence; calling or occupation; whether in possession of passport and, if so, the number and date and place of issuance thereof; whether in possession of a valid immigration visa and, if so, the number, date, and place of issuance thereof; the port at which application for admission into the United States was made; whether coming to the United States in pursuance of a prepaid railroad ticket purchased in the country whence he came, or in pursuance of a ticket purchased in the United States by himself or others; whether in possession of $50 or more and, if so, the amount; whether ever before in the United States and, if so, when and where; whether ever before refused admission to the United States and, if so, when and where; whether ever before deported from the United States and, if so, when and where; whether ever before arrested or imprisoned and, if so, when, where, and for what offense; whether coming to the United States in pursuance of a contract or agreement to perform labor and, if so, whether such contract or agreement is oral or written; whether going to join a relative or friend and, if so, what relative or friend, his name and complete address, and the relationship, if any; whether going to the United States with intention of returning to his native country after temporary residence; whether a polygamist; whether a believer in the practice of polygamy; whether a believer in the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law; whether a member of the anarchistic or other class of aliens excluded by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1917; and whether he has been specially inquired of by any consular officer and, if so, the result thereof. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I-426) shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. "Master" as used herein includes owner, agent, charterer, and any officer in charge or command of a vessel. A separate list must be delivered for each vessel. All blank spaces in which no entry is made will be regarded as answered in the negative. Any master who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses to answer truthfully any question contained therein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged or enrolled, and specifying those who are to be landed at the port of arrival; or lists corresponding as nearly as may be to the manifests required on the entry of vessels from foreign ports, which lists or manifests shall be produced at the time of the entry of the vessel if demanded by the immigrant inspector in charge, and such inspector shall have the right to go on board any vessel for the purpose of examining the list or manifest in relation to any alien on board. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who refuses to deliver such list or manifest, or who refuses to permit any immigrant inspector to go on board any vessel for the purpose aforesaid, or who refuses to answer truthfully any question relative to any alien on board, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse to detain any alien on board when ordered by an immigrant inspector so to do, or to prevent such alien from landing in violation of law, or who shall refuse to deliver to such alien any permit to land which may be required by law, or who shall land or permit to be landed any alien in violation of law

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness of such seaman requiring his detention, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof with intent to depart therefrom as a seaman (which inspection may include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), shall have inspected such seaman on board such vessel and secure a certificate from an immigration officer that he has been found not afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be the ground for debarring such seaman from admission into the United States, and shall deliver such certificate to the master of such vessel, who shall deliver it to the immigration officer at the port of departure. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel failing to secure such certificate or to deliver it to the immigration officer at the port of departure, or knowingly bringing to the United States any such seaman who has become afflicted with any of such diseases or defects or disabilities between the time of inspection and the departure of the vessel from a foreign port, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Any vessel which shall be cleared without the certificate required by this section may be refused clearance by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure is located, and a fine of $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs may be imposed in addition to the penalty hereinbefore provided. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than the amount of the expenses actually incurred in the case of the alien as the result of his physical or mental condition. The Attorney General shall prescribe rules and regulations for the administration of this section, as amended, and shall apply to all immigration officers in charge at ports of entry in the United States.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in accordance with the conditions of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or a similar vessel of the same owner sailing from the same port within 24 hours after the departure of such vessel, unless prevented from so doing by illness or other cause beyond his control, shall be deported as a deserter, shall be taken into custody and returned to the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expenses have been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense have been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the earliest possible time after the vessel arrives at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned therein shall be prepared in duplicate, and signed by the master of the vessel. If no aliens are carried, a list to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens entering the United States, it is recommended that the names of the passengers be arranged in the manifest according to the nationality or race, as indicated in the above table.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That from arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens embarked on such vessel, stating the nationality, race, and last residence (that is, city or town and country) of each such alien, as specified in the ship's company's, master's, and cabin passenger's manifests of incoming vessels, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel for further examination or hospital treatment, and those not to be admitted to the United States, and the ports for which they were respectively destined; and no such vessel shall depart from any port in the United States for any foreign port until the master thereof has delivered to the proper immigration officer or to the boarding officer duly authorized by him a list of all aliens, if any, who have been taken on board at any port in the United States, specifying the names of all such aliens, their nationality, race, last residence, and destination, and the certificate of the medical officer of the vessel that each of the aliens specified in said list has been carefully examined by him and is free from any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities for which aliens may be excluded under the provisions of this Act. Any master who knowingly disembarks or permits to be disembarked from his vessel at any port in the United States any alien not included in the lists herein required to be delivered to the immigration officer in charge at such port, unless such alien be a stowaway, a deserting seaman, or a seaman permitted to land temporarily under bond, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so disembarked, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who knowingly or willfully refuses to deliver lists required by this section, or who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to board the vessel for the purpose of performing his duties, or who refuses to detain any alien on board the vessel after notice by such inspector, or who refuses to carry back to a foreign port any alien ordered deported by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below shall be observed on board United States vessels approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The use of the chevron or union insignia of the United States (Act of May 30, 1934, 48 Stat. 799) is limited to vessels documented under the laws of the United States.

Any vessel or aircraft, including those of foreign registry, arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place is required to have on board a true list of all persons on board, including the crew, and their nationality, residence, and destination, and to present such list to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Such list must be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of entry (Form I-418) before the vessel is granted pratique. The list or manifest of aliens must be prepared in duplicate, one copy to be delivered to the immigration officer and the other to be retained by the master for presentation to the immigration officer at the last port of departure from foreign territory before sailing for the United States. Such list or manifest must show the full name, age, sex, marital status, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether in transit through the United States, whether in possession of an immigration visa, if required, and whether previously a visitor to the United States, of every alien on board, whether he is a passenger or a member of the crew, and the port for which he has taken passage. Such list or manifest must show the place of birth of every alien, the name and address of the nearest relative in the country from which he came, the last permanent residence of himself and wife, whether he has been in prison or a public institution, and whether he is a polygamist, anarchist, or believer in the overthrow by force of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law. Such list or manifest must show whether each alien has a ticket to his ultimate destination, and whether he has been assisted in coming, and if so, by whom; whether he has the money required by law, and how much; whether he is in good health, mentally and physically, and whether he is deformed or crippled, and if so, how. Such list or manifest must show the last occupation, the calling in the country from which he came, and the calling he intends to follow in the United States of every alien. Such list or manifest must show whether each alien has been in the United States before, and if so, when, how long he remained, and whether he has been deported or has ever applied for a visa. Such list or manifest must show whether each alien is coming to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his name and complete address. Such list or manifest must show whether each alien is going to the United States in pursuance of a contract or agreement to perform labor, skilled or unskilled, and if so, what the contract or agreement is. Such list or manifest must show whether each alien has been in a penal institution or reformatory, or in a almshouse, asylum, or hospital, or supported by charity, or a mendicant, or an anarchist, or a believer in the overthrow by force of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or a polygamist, or a prostitute, or has been deported as an alien contract laborer, or as likely to become a public charge, or has come in violation of the contract labor laws, or has been deported as an assisted alien, or has been refused admission as an immigrant and returned at the expense of the transportation company which brought him, or has been convicted of a felony or other infamous crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or has been convicted of a violation of the Immigration Act of 1917, or has been convicted of violating any law relating to the immigration of aliens, or has been convicted of violating any law relating to the importation of prostitutes, or has been convicted of violating any law relating to the importation of contract laborers, or has been convicted of violating any law relating to the importation of persons for any immoral purpose, or has been convicted of violating any law relating to the importation of persons who have been excluded from admission and deported

The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens on every vessel bound for a port of the United States from any foreign port or place shall be prepared and delivered to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival. When no alien passenger is a "non-quota" immigrant as defined in that term in the immigration laws, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel shall so state in the list. The list or manifest of aliens on every vessel shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The master shall also sign the list or manifest administered by the immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place. The list or manifest shall contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, as to the sex, marital condition, age, race, nationality, last permanent residence, literacy, ability to read and write, seaworthiness, health, and mental and physical condition of each alien mentioned therein, and such other information pertaining to each alien as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, the Secretary of Labor, or the Secretary of the Treasury. The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place a list containing the names of all persons who have been taken on board the vessel at any foreign port or place subsequent to the sailing of the vessel from the last foreign port or place, and also the names of those, if any, who have been discharged from the vessel since the sailing thereof, together with the cause of the discharge of each person so discharged. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who refuses or neglects to deliver the list or manifest required by this section, or who refuses or neglects to answer truthfully and completely any question touching the matters about which information is required by this section, or who refuses or neglects to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place a list containing the names of all persons who have been taken on board the vessel at any foreign port or place subsequent to the sailing of the vessel from the last foreign port or place, shall be subject to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom any of the facts required to be stated in the list or manifest is not correctly stated: Provided, That clearance shall not be withheld or delayed on account of any defect in the list or manifest if the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall make oath before the proper officer that he has not knowingly or intentionally concealed any of the facts required to be stated therein, and that he has no reason to believe that the list or manifest is defective or incorrect in any particular stated: And provided further, That the penalty prescribed by this section shall not be incurred by any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of a vessel for the failure of any person to be listed or reported whose presence in the United States at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place is not known by and could not reasonably have been known by such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except temporarily to land in the United States, except pursuant to such rules and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance for medical treatment, or treatment to such institutions as the Attorney General may designate, temporarily or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 208.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof with more than a total of one alien seaman on board who has been allotted to land in the United States, except temporarily to land in the United States, except pursuant to such rules and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance for medical treatment, or treatment to such institutions as the Attorney General may designate, of any alien seaman who has been certified by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival as afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders set forth in section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended (relating to the exclusion of aliens), or who fails to obtain such seaman on board his vessel after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the time of departure of such vessel from the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman so allotted to land, or who fails to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the time of departure of such vessel from the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman so allotted to land. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Front fine an alien seaman who does not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

I, KENNETH A. MCCANN, MASTER of the USNS PVT JOE P MARTINEZ (T-MP67), do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew presently in said vessel from said Port or Ports quoting per Treasury columns I have noted the color of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and color of sections 16 and 20, Act of May 26, 1924, noted thereon.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors designated for receipt of the same. Whoever knowingly prints, publishes, or causes to be printed or published any false or forged form or document purporting to be printed or published by the Department and pertaining to the admission of aliens into the United States, or knowingly uses, sells, or possesses with intent to use, sell, or furnish any such false or forged form or document for the purpose of evading the laws regulating the admission of aliens into the United States, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Upon an arrival of aliens by water at a port of entry, the master or commanding officer or agent of the vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of entry a manifest of all aliens on board the vessel, which manifest shall be prepared and delivered in accordance with the following instructions and in the form prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor. Such manifest shall be typewritten or printed in ink, and shall be legible. Any illegible manifest may be returned to the master for correction. The list or manifest shall contain the names of all aliens, including children, employed as members of the crew or otherwise, who are to be landed at the port of entry, and also the names of all aliens, including children, who have been employed as members of the crew or otherwise, who are to be transferred at that port to other vessels for transportation to foreign ports. The manifest shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with the first alien mentioned on each sheet, and the last number shall show the total number of aliens listed. The manifest shall contain answers to questions as indicated at the head of the following columns, which answers shall be written in the order indicated:

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Bolton M. Jones, of the City of Galveston, do depose and state that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, promptly in said vessel from any port or place during the present voyage.

I have noted the color of section 30 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and color of sections 13 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, supra, about point.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 12th day of January, 19 52

Immigration Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a duplicate so listed either should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 28. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying the ports or places at which they severally are to be paid off, and the intended destination of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory to which the provisions of section 28 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been applied, and not then duly taken out a permit to land, or who shall have violated any of the provisions of section 32 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 173), shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, and in the event such alien is removed while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and final destination so far as known of each such alien, and specifying which aliens are in possession of valid immigration visas and which are not. Such lists shall be delivered before the departure of the vessel from the port at which the same are required. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and completely all questions propounded to him by the immigrant inspector at the time of the departure of the vessel from the port, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of the arrival at the port of destination of any alien on board such vessel any information in his possession concerning such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien concerning whom such information is not furnished, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court: Provided, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall have delivered lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, and who shall have reported to the immigrant inspector any additional aliens subsequently employed on board such vessel before the departure of such vessel from the port, shall not be subject to the penalties imposed by this section for the failure of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to report such aliens.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or in case of the shipwreck of the vessel on which employed, and when specifically certified by the Secretary of Labor to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival and approved by the Secretary of Labor. Such certification may be made in the case of any seaman employed on board any vessel touching at a foreign port or place in the course of a voyage from one part of the United States to another or others through the Panama Canal, and return to the port of departure without breaking bulk, under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any seaman employed on board any vessel which arrives at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, or which departs therefrom for any place outside thereof, who refuses or neglects to perform any duty required of him by the master or officers of the vessel, or who is incapacitated from performing his duties by reason of injury or illness not caused by his own culpable negligence, may, in the discretion of the master, be discharged from the vessel, but the cost of his maintenance and transportation to the port at which he was shipped, or to the port of departure, if destined to a foreign port, shall be a charge against the vessel, and the master shall be required to furnish security for such cost or to deposit with the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to cover the same, or to give a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Any seaman who refuses to depart on the vessel on which he arrived or on any vessel sailing within a period of one month to the port at which such vessel first arrived after the refusal of such seaman to depart, or who departs from the United States or attempts to depart therefrom without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any seaman who, after having been granted a temporary permit to land during the period his vessel remains in port, fails to report on board his vessel before departure, or at such other time as may be required by immigration officers, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 13. (a) The master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or the master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel departing from the United States for any place outside thereof, shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and departure, respectively, manifests in duplicate, containing such information in regard to each alien on board such vessel, and such other information, as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such manifests shall be prepared and delivered at such time before the departure of the vessel from the port, and such manifests shall be verified by the oath of the master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, or by the oath of such other officer of the vessel as may have charge of the list of the crew and passengers, as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such verification may be made before any consular officer of the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. A. 180.)

(b) Any master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel failing to deliver manifests in the manner and at the time prescribed, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and completely any question propounded to him by the immigrant inspector at the time of departure of the vessel from the port, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of the arrival at the port of destination any alien on board such vessel any information in his possession concerning such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien concerning whom such information is not furnished, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no such clearance papers shall be granted. Prompt, final clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list or lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and what specific cause or causes for belief they have that any of such alien members of the crew are anarchists, or persons who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government, or who advocate the assassination of public officials, or who are members of or affiliated with any organization entertaining and teaching such disbelief in or opposition to organized government, or who advocate or teach the unlawful destruction of property, and such other information regarding any such alien member of the crew as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who fails to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of arrival any list of the crew required by this section, or who fails to furnish any information required by this section regarding any alien member of the crew, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained to abide the investigations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate debarkation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory of North America for which a passport is required by the immigration laws shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspection such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner). Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers or permitted to depart from the port of arrival pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think just. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or until they have been reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of arrival the list required by this section.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall constitute prima facie evidence that he remained therein in violation of law.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or employed on board any vessel which shall depart from the United States for any place outside thereof, temporarily or for a limited time, or intending to ship or engage in any occupation as the aforesaid (seaman) may hereafter for the ultimate departure, temporarily or permanently, from the United States (49 Stat. 104; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (whether such vessel be owned by the United States or by a citizen or subject of a foreign country) shall, in the case of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel (except alien members of the crew who have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and who are destined to ports in the United States), report the name of such alien seaman, the vessel on which he arrived, and such other information relative thereto as may be required by the Attorney General, to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such report shall be made at the time of the arrival of any such vessel at a port in the United States from any place outside thereof, or, if such seaman is then employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure from the United States for any place outside thereof, then at the time of such departure. Any such seaman who fails to remain on board his vessel after such inspection or to depart with such vessel from the United States, or who fails to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival when required so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Any vessel upon which any alien seaman is employed contrary to the provisions of this section shall be liable to the payment of such fine, or may, in the discretion of the Attorney General, be seized and forfeited to the United States in accordance with the provisions of the customs laws. Clearance may be refused such vessel by the collector of customs until the payment of such fine, or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, or the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond approved by the Attorney General, under such regulations as he may prescribe, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman on the vessel or on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be refused clearance on account of the failure of any such alien seaman to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, or on account of the refusal of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel to pay the fine imposed by this section, or on account of the refusal of any such alien seaman to depart from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, if such alien seaman has been granted a bona fide extension of time within which to depart voluntarily, or has been granted a stay of deportation by the Attorney General, or has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or is in transit through the United States to a foreign country, or has resided in the United States for a period of five years or more prior to his arrival at a port in the United States, or has married a citizen of the United States and is residing in the United States at the time of his departure, or is unable to depart because of illness, or because he is destitute, or because the vessel on which he arrived has been allowed to depart without the payment of the fine imposed by this section. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing received prior to the departure of the vessel from the United States, cancel any fine incurred under this section in connection with the departure of any alien seaman who was prevented from departing on the vessel on which he arrived by illness or accident, and may, in his discretion, extend the time within which any such fine may be remitted or refunded. Clearance shall not be refused any vessel under the provisions of section 4200 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (46 U. S. C. 91), because of the failure of any alien seaman to depart on such vessel if the Attorney General has granted a stay of deportation pursuant to section 243 (h) of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 1253 (h)), as added by section 23 of the Internal Security Act of 1950 (64 Stat. 1010; 8 U. S. C. 1253 (h)), and has notified the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel that deportation of such alien seaman to the country specified in the order of deportation will not be effected unless such vessel is specifically ordered by the Attorney General to return such alien seaman to such country. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to amend, repeal, impair, or affect the existing powers and duties of the Secretary of Labor, the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or the Board of Immigration Appeals.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any port or place in the United States, without having been granted permission to land temporarily under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, or who shall remain in the United States after the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, shall be deported in the manner provided by law to the country in which he shall have become a subject or citizen, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he is lawfully entitled to enter or reside within some other country, in which case he may be deported to such country at the option of the Attorney General. Any alien seaman who shall be deported under the provisions of this section shall be ineligible to receive any visa and shall not be admitted into the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he did not desert from the vessel on which he arrived in the United States with the intention of abandoning his residence in the United States, or that he was prevented from departing on the vessel on which he arrived by reason of illness or accident not due to his own negligence, or that he has been granted a stay of deportation by the Attorney General, or that he has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or that he has resided in the United States for a period of five years or more prior to his arrival at a port in the United States, or that he has married a citizen of the United States and is residing in the United States at the time of his departure, or that he is unable to depart because of illness, or because he is destitute, or because the vessel on which he arrived has been allowed to depart without the payment of the fine imposed by this section. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing received prior to the departure of the vessel from the United States, cancel any fine incurred under this section in connection with the departure of any alien seaman who was prevented from departing on the vessel on which he arrived by illness or accident, and may, in his discretion, extend the time within which any such fine may be remitted or refunded. Clearance shall not be refused any vessel under the provisions of section 4200 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (46 U. S. C. 91), because of the failure of any alien seaman to depart on such vessel if the Attorney General has granted a stay of deportation pursuant to section 243 (h) of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 1253 (h)), as added by section 23 of the Internal Security Act of 1950 (64 Stat. 1010; 8 U. S. C. 1253 (h)), and has notified the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel that deportation of such alien seaman to the country specified in the order of deportation will not be effected unless such vessel is specifically ordered by the Attorney General to return such alien seaman to such country. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to amend, repeal, impair, or affect the existing powers and duties of the Secretary of Labor, the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or the Board of Immigration Appeals.

SEC. 30. That when arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all the persons [who] shall be on board such vessel, whether cabin or steerage passengers, and the destination given by each of such persons. Such list or manifest shall contain the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged, and the time they have been employed thereon, and shall be prepared and delivered at the port of arrival, or their continuance on board of such vessel, according to such regulations as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or manifest, or to furnish such information relative thereto, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien whose name is required to be reported, but not reported, or for which a full and correct answer is not made to any question herein specified concerning each alien, touching the matters about which inquiry is made in this section. Such sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be recovered by suit or proceeding against the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and no clearance shall be granted such vessel until the payment of such sum or the execution of a bond with sufficient surety therefor approved by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Upon the refusal or neglect of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to deliver the list or manifest required by this section, or to furnish the information relative thereto required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 890; 8 U. S. C. 171)," have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 32 or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act (39 Stat. 892; 8 U. S. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for the ultimate departure, temporarily or permanently, from the United States for any place outside thereof, or intending to ship or engage in any occupation as the aforesaid (seaman) may hereafter for the ultimate departure, temporarily or permanently, from the United States (49 Stat. 104; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (whether such vessel be owned by the United States or by a citizen or subject of a foreign country) shall, in the case of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel (except alien members of the crew who have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and who are destined to ports in the United States), report the name of such alien seaman, the vessel on which he arrived, and such other information relative thereto as may be required by the Attorney General, to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such report shall be made at the time of the arrival of any such vessel at a port in the United States from any place outside thereof, or, if such seaman is then employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure from the United States for any place outside thereof, then at the time of such departure. Any such seaman who fails to remain on board his vessel after such inspection or to depart with such vessel from the United States, or who fails to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival when required so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Any vessel upon which any alien seaman is employed contrary to the provisions of this section shall be liable to the payment of such fine, or may, in the discretion of the Attorney General, be seized and forfeited to the United States in accordance with the provisions of the customs laws. Clearance may be refused such vessel by the collector of customs until the payment of such fine, or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, or the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond approved by the Attorney General, under such regulations as he may prescribe, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman on the vessel or on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be refused clearance on account of the failure of any such alien seaman to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, or on account of the refusal of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel to pay the fine imposed by this section, or on account of the refusal of any such alien seaman to depart from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, if such alien seaman has been granted a bona fide extension of time within which to depart voluntarily, or has been granted a stay of deportation by the Attorney General, or has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or is in transit through the United States to a foreign country, or has resided in the United States for a period of five years or more prior to his arrival at a port in the United States, or has married a citizen of the United States and is residing in the United States at the time of his departure, or is unable to depart because of illness, or because he is destitute, or because the vessel on which he arrived has been allowed to depart without the payment of the fine imposed by this section. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing received prior to the departure of the vessel from the United States, cancel any fine incurred under this section in connection with the departure of any alien seaman who was prevented from departing on the vessel on which he arrived by illness or accident, and may, in his discretion, extend the time within which any such fine may be remitted or refunded. Clearance shall not be refused any vessel under the provisions of section 4200 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (46 U. S. C. 91), because of the failure of any alien seaman to depart on such vessel if the Attorney General has granted a stay of deportation pursuant to section 243 (h) of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 1253 (h)), as added by section 23 of the Internal Security Act of 1950 (64 Stat. 1010; 8 U. S. C. 1253 (h)), and has notified the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel that deportation of such alien seaman to the country specified in the order of deportation will not be effected unless such vessel is specifically ordered by the Attorney General to return such alien seaman to such country. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to amend, repeal, impair, or affect the existing powers and duties of the Secretary of Labor, the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or the Board of Immigration Appeals.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any port or place in the United States, without having been granted permission to land temporarily under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, or who shall remain in the United States after the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, shall be deported in the manner provided by law to the country in which he shall have become a subject or citizen, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he is lawfully entitled to enter or reside within some other country, in which case he may be deported to such country at the option of the Attorney General. Any alien seaman who shall be deported under the provisions of this section shall be ineligible to receive any visa and shall not be admitted into the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he did not desert from the vessel on which he arrived in the United States with the intention of abandoning his residence in the United States, or that he was prevented from departing on the vessel on which he arrived by reason of illness or accident not due to his own negligence, or that he has been granted a stay of deportation by the Attorney General, or that he has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or that he has resided in the United States for a period of five years or more prior to his arrival at a port in the United States, or that he has married a citizen of the United States and is residing in the United States at the time of his departure, or that he is unable to depart because of illness, or because he is destitute, or because the vessel on which he arrived has been allowed to depart without the payment of the fine imposed by this section. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing received prior to the departure of the vessel from the United States, cancel any fine incurred under this section in connection with the departure of any alien seaman who was prevented from departing on the vessel on which he arrived by illness or accident, and may, in his discretion, extend the time within which any such fine may be remitted or refunded. Clearance shall not be refused any vessel under the provisions of section 4200 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (46 U. S. C. 91), because of the failure of any alien seaman to depart on such vessel if the Attorney General has granted a stay of deportation pursuant to section 243 (h) of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 1253 (h)), as added by section 23 of the Internal Security Act of 1950 (64 Stat. 1010; 8 U. S. C. 1253 (h)), and has notified the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel that deportation of such alien seaman to the country specified in the order of deportation will not be effected unless such vessel is specifically ordered by the Attorney General to return such alien seaman to such country. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to amend, repeal, impair, or affect the existing powers and duties of the Secretary of Labor, the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or the Board of Immigration Appeals.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of alien seamen, including names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

(c) If the Attorney General shall find that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen by reason of a mental defect, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, in such cases as he may deem meritorious, waive such deportation and permit the alien seamen to land temporarily in the port of arrival: or that the continuance on board of such vessel may endanger the health or welfare of the crew or passengers of such vessel, and that the alien seamen will be returned to the country from which they came on the vessel on which they arrived or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, or that the refusal of such seamen to land is based upon religious beliefs or moral convictions: Provided, That such seamen are in possession of valid passports and immigration visas, if such documents are required by this Act or regulations issued thereunder, at the time of their application for admission: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this subsection in the case of any alien seaman who is otherwise admissible under this Act.

(d) Every alien seaman shall, while in the United States, submit to such medical examination as the Attorney General may prescribe from time to time.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory and adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring such treatment, or for such other reasons as the Attorney General may prescribe for the period of time necessary for the accomplishment of the purpose for which landing is permitted, and no such alien seaman shall be employed on board any vessel during its stay in the United States unless specifically permitted to do so by the Attorney General in his discretion. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory and adjacent islands, who is permitted to land temporarily as provided in this section, or who lands in violation of this section, shall be deemed to be a person who has entered the United States, and may be required to depart therefrom as provided in section 19 of this Act.

(8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 19. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory and adjacent islands, shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in the United States, and for the removal therefrom, of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel, and shall pay the cost of his maintenance while on shore, not to exceed $30 per month, and his passage to the port of such alien seaman's residence, or to such other place as the Attorney General may designate, unless such master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such alien seaman (whether or not he was employed on board such vessel during its last voyage to the United States) (A) has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or (B) is in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, or (C) is not a native, citizen, subject, or national of the country to which he is destined, or (D) has been granted by the country to which he is destined a nonimmigrant visa which has been visaed by a consular officer of the United States for the purpose of entering such country as a temporary visitor, or (E) has been granted by the country to which he is destined permission to enter such country as a temporary visitor and has been found admissible to the United States by the Attorney General or his delegate, or (F) is in possession of a nonimmigrant border crossing identification card and is destined to a country contiguous to the United States, or (G) is a bona fide resident of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Panama, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, Guatemala, El Salvador, or the British West Indies and is destined to the country of his residence.

(b) Every alien seaman shall be deported to the country to which he belongs or in which he resided before coming to the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act, if he remains in the United States for a period in excess of 29 days, unless he has in the meantime been granted a visa and admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant or as an immigrant lawfully entitled to enter the United States. Any alien seaman who shall be deported under the provisions of this section shall be ineligible to receive any allowance or compensation due him as a member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless he shall produce to the master of such vessel a certificate from the immigration officer at the port of arrival stating that such alien seaman has been granted a visa and admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant or as an immigrant lawfully entitled to enter the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General shall find that deportation of such alien seaman is impracticable or will be unduly burdensome because such alien seaman is afflicted with any contagious disease, or because such alien seaman is a member of a class of aliens not admissible to the United States under the immigration laws, or because such alien seaman has been convicted of a crime or crimes (other than purely political offenses) for which the maximum possible sentence is confinement for one year or more, or because such alien seaman is a native of, or a national, citizen, subject, or resident of, a country which refuses to accept such alien seaman's return after due notice, the Attorney General shall cause such alien seaman to be detained on board or at quarters provided therefor by the owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States, or by the master, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, pending the departure of such vessel from a port of the United States, and such owner, master, agent, charterer, or consignee shall be liable to the United States for the cost of such detention. Such alien seaman shall be subject to such regulations governing his detention on board or at quarters as the Attorney General may prescribe.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the contiguous territory or adjacent islands to which he belongs or in which he resided before coming to the United States, at the time of his departure on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act, if he remains in the United States for a period in excess of 29 days, unless he has in the meantime been granted a visa and admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant or as an immigrant lawfully entitled to enter the United States.

(e) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(g) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(h) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(i) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(j) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(k) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(l) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(m) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(n) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(o) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(p) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(q) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(r) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(s) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(t) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(u) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(v) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(w) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(x) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(y) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(z) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(aa) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(bb) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(cc) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel at the expense of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, within the period of time specified in the permit granted to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or within such further period of time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien member of crew is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the capacities in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as may be required by the Attorney General, which shall be prepared in the port of arrival. No vessel shall be cleared by the collector or other officer having authority in the premises, nor shall the master of any such vessel be granted a permit to depart from the port, unless and until he has obtained a certificate from the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival stating that the immigration officer has received the lists required by this section, or that the master has sworn before him that he is unable to procure the same for reasons stated in his oath, and has reported to him the name and last known address of each alien concerning whom information is required by this section and has furnished such information as he may be able to give concerning each such alien. Any master who refuses to deliver the lists required by this section, or who refuses to furnish information when called upon by the officer receiving the lists, or who knowingly gives false information in regard to any alien specified in such lists, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master who shall refuse to allow any immigration officer to enter upon his vessel for the purpose of examining the crew, or who shall refuse to detain any alien member of the crew when required so to do by such officer, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master who shall land or permit to be landed any alien member of the crew at any port or place in the United States without the permission of the immigration officer in charge at the port, except in case of accident, or to secure medical treatment for the sick, or for burial of the dead, or for the purpose of replacing sick or injured members of the crew by other members of the crew, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master who shall fail to report and deliver to the immigration officer any alien member of the crew who has been left behind on account of illness or injury at any port or place in the United States from which the vessel is departing, or who shall fail to detain any such alien member of the crew when ordered so to do by such officer, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all beneficial alien owners, and to all persons acting under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver after readmittance by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such seamen may be permitted by the immigration officer of the United States to depart on such vessel or on any other vessel which may be arriving at such port, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except an alien crewman employed on such vessel, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), and has delivered to the master of such vessel a certificate that such seaman has been found admissible, or has been granted a landing certificate, or has been admitted under bond. The Attorney General may prescribe for the administration of this section such regulations as the Attorney General may deem necessary, and any person who violates any such regulation shall for each such violation be punished by a fine not exceeding $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(b) Every alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. The Attorney General may prescribe for the administration of this section such regulations as the Attorney General may deem necessary, and any person who violates any such regulation shall for each such violation be punished by a fine not exceeding $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master who refuses to detain any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer at the port of arrival is notified and the alien seaman is granted a landing certificate, or has been admitted under bond, or who refuses to detain any such alien seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer to do so, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival plain compendious and accurate lists or manifests of all aliens embarked on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and whence they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying such facts in regard to each alien on board as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and such other facts regarding each alien as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which lists or manifests shall be subscribed and sworn to before the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master or commander of such vessel, and shall be in such form as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and primarily designed to secure full information concerning each alien who may be found to be unlawfully in the United States or subject to deportation under any law or treaty now or hereafter in force, and such additional information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws as to any or all aliens or any class of aliens on board any such vessel, whether specially listed or not. The said master or commander shall also report the name of every alien employed on board who will leave the vessel at any port in the United States, and shall furnish to the immigrant inspector at each such port a correct list containing the name of each alien employed on board who will leave the vessel at such port, and no such alien shall be allowed to leave the vessel until he has been duly inspected and landed by the immigrant inspector at such port, or has been specially authorized by the Secretary of Labor to leave the vessel at some other time and place. Upon the completion of the inspection of the vessel at the last port of call in the United States before departure for a foreign port, the master or commander shall deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at such port a list containing the names of all persons who have been taken on board at any port or place in the United States, and such other information regarding them as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the master or commander has delivered to the collector of customs the lists or manifests required to be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure, and has obtained from the collector of customs a certificate that such lists or manifests have been delivered as required by law, or a certificate from the immigrant inspector that no lists or manifests were required to be delivered at that port. Any master or commander who refuses or fails to deliver lists or manifests at the time of departure, or who refuses or fails to exercise due diligence to prevent the illegal landing of any alien on the vessel, or who lands or permits to be landed any alien not duly listed, or who refuses or fails to detain any alien on board when required so to do by any immigrant inspector, or who refuses or fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival any alien on board concerning whom information is required by the Secretary of Labor, or who refuses or fails to prevent any such alien from landing in violation of law, or who connives at the landing of any such alien, or who refuses or fails to comply with the provisions of this section or with any regulations made by the Secretary of Labor thereunder, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. Any master or commander who lands or permits to be landed any alien in violation of this section shall pay a tax of $10 for each alien so landed, which shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be collected by suit or libel against the vessel, and such vessel may be seized and detained until such tax is paid or secured to be paid to the satisfaction of the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located and the decision of the Secretary of Labor thereon. Such tax shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located and the head tax shall be refunded if landing is allowed, but not if allowed merely because of inability of the master or commander to detain any alien on board or at the port of arrival. Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien subject to exclusion or deportation under the provisions of this act, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States in violation of law, or who knowingly harbors any such alien in pursuance of any conspiracy to conceal, harbor, or shield from detection such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, in the discretion of the court. Any person who knowingly aids or abets any alien, other than a master, commander, or other officer, or any member of the crew, to land in the United States in violation of law, or who knowingly aids or abets any such alien to evade any of the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. Any master or commander who refuses or fails to report, list, detain, or deliver any alien, or to pay the tax imposed by this section, or who refuses or fails to perform any act required of him by any rule or regulation made pursuant to law, or who violates any such rule or regulation, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each such refusal or failure. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such remission as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The action as amended shall apply to all deportable aliens embraced by the provisions of section 19 of the act of February 5, 1917.

(d) Front land an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, it shall be his duty to report by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport alien seamen by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pending the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens membership, or other data concerning the same, may be prepared on board the vessel at the option of the master, but such list or manifest shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I–418) shall not be detached on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manner is used for the delivery of the list or manifest, a duplicate shall be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seeking admission, include names of alternate aliens seeking admission as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are to be discharged in the port of arrival; to make declaration before the proper officer as to the correctness of such list; and to deliver to each alien mentioned therein, before such alien leaves the vessel, a certificate in writing, signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, stating the name of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe. And after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to each such alien then on board a certificate in writing, signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, stating the name of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: and also the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of aliens, if any, who have been discharged, and the cause of such discharge, and of all aliens who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall subsequently be employed thereon, and the cause of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver certificates to such aliens, if any, who have been discharged, temporarily or otherwise, and the cause of detention of such alien, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list of such aliens, and the cause of detention of each, and the amount of money collected or to be collected from each of them on account of such detention, and shall pay the same to the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof, and such application shall be made to the Attorney General in the first instance, and the decision of the Attorney General thereon shall be final. Such penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, and clearance may be withheld or refused and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (38 Stat. 868–870; 8 U. S. C., 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof duly fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs or the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof, and such application shall be made to the Attorney General in the first instance. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising independent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Front fines as alien seamen did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after lawful permit by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense may be recovered from such vessel by action of the Attorney General.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they temporarily hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those so to be held on board for examination; or in lieu of such lists, such information shall be given as to the aliens employed on such vessel as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and alien members of the crew of any such vessel shall be the only aliens who shall be permitted to land temporarily from the vessel, except in case of accident, illness, or subsequent change in the crew, and then only under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel from a foreign port the names of any additional aliens employed as members of the crew thereof, or who shall land or permit to be landed any alien member of the crew of such vessel except as provided in this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board such vessel any alien member of the crew when ordered by such immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer any alien member of the crew when ordered by such officer for the purpose of having such alien removed from the United States as provided by law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. Any alien member of the crew of any such vessel who shall land in the United States from any such vessel without the permission of the immigration officer in charge of the port, or who shall remain in the United States after the departure of the vessel from a port foreign to the United States without the permission of the immigration officer in charge of the port, or who shall fail to report and be examined by the immigration officers at the port of arrival, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he had previously been examined by an immigration officer at a foreign port, shall be deported in the manner provided by law to the country to which he belongs or from which he came to the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical examination, or treatment as such, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the sudden debarkation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or not remit it.

(b) Any such seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such return as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper, may be required to deposit the sum of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such return as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The said sum, as refunded, shall apply to all immigration taxes independent to June 2, 1940.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman or to the master or owner of such vessel, he may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or not remit it. Such application must be made before the departure of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

SEC. 36. That when aliens of any races in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel. Such lists for secretarial purposes shall be printed in the English language, and where they were typewritten shall be typewritten in a clear, legible manner. They shall contain such data as to the nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and such other information regarding the history, occupation, and personal description of each alien, including any physical defect or infirmity, as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which said lists shall be certified to be correct by the master of the vessel or other officer thereof. Such lists shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival at the time of the vessel's entry into such port, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer of the United States authorized to grant clearance papers in such port until the master of such vessel has delivered to such officer the lists required by this section, or has satisfied such officer that he is unable to deliver said lists by reason of the loss of such lists or the death of persons whose names are contained therein, and has made oath before such officer to the correctness of such lists and of the causes which prevent the delivery thereof. Such lists shall be open to the inspection of such officers of the United States as the Secretary of Commerce and Labor may designate for that purpose. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico, or from any insular possession of the United States to any port in the United States, shall before any alien on board such vessel shall land at such port, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a manifest and such additional lists or statements, signed and sworn to before such immigration officer or any other officer designated by the Secretary of Labor, containing such information with respect to such alien and to the holder of every unexpired immigration visa presented by such alien for examination, as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such manifest and such additional lists or statements shall be prepared and verified in such manner, and shall be subscribed by such persons, as the Commissioner General of Immigration may prescribe. Such manifest and such additional lists or statements shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and may be procured only from persons designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such persons shall be under such bond as the Secretary of Labor may require. Such manifest and such additional lists or statements shall contain such information, be in such number of copies, and be distributed in such manner, as the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor may prescribe.

(b) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival any manifest or additional list or statement required by subdivision (a) of this section, or who refuses or fails to comply with any regulation issued pursuant to such subdivision, or who delivers to such immigration officer any manifest or additional list or statement which is incomplete or inaccurate, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such a refusal, failure, delivery of incomplete or inaccurate manifest or additional list or statement occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Such fine may be remitted or such imprisonment may be suspended, in whole or in part, upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the court, if it appears that the violation was due to inadvertence or to circumstances beyond the control of such owner, agent, consignee, or master, and that no intention to violate the provisions of this section existed.

(c) Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master who refuses or fails to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival any list required by subdivision (a) of this section, or who refuses or fails to comply with any regulation issued pursuant to such subdivision, or who delivers to such immigration officer any list which is incomplete or inaccurate, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien with respect to whom such a failure occurs. The Attorney General may remit or mitigate any such penalty or any part thereof upon such terms and conditions as he deems reasonable and just, or may ascertain the facts in regard to any such violation and in his discretion direct that no penalty be sued for or recovered.

(d) Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who knowingly brings to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico, or from any insular possession of the United States any alien who has been refused a visa by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien with respect to whom such violation occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Such fine may be remitted or such imprisonment may be suspended, in whole or in part, upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the court, if it appears that the violation was due to inadvertence or to circumstances beyond the control of such owner, agent, consignee, or master, and that no intention to violate the provisions of this section existed.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of any temporary illness or injury requiring hospital treatment, or when the Secretary of Labor shall find that adequate provision has been made for the departure of such alien on board the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, and no such alien seaman shall be permitted to land temporarily as provided herein unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived shall have given a bond with sufficient surety, in such sum as the Secretary of Labor may require, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman, conditioned that such alien seaman will depart on the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel, or within such time as may be allowed by the Secretary of Labor, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such alien seaman. Upon the granting of such temporary permission to land, the Secretary of Labor shall give such alien seaman a card describing him and stating the period of time for which he is granted permission to land and the purpose for which granted, and shall require such alien seaman to present such card to the immigration officer at each port at which the vessel on which he arrived touches during the period he is permitted to remain in the United States. Such alien seaman shall present such card to the immigration officer in charge of the port at which he shall depart from the United States, and such officer shall indorse on such card the date of such departure and the vessel on which such alien seaman departs. Such alien seaman shall present such card upon each arrival at a port in the United States during the period he is permitted to remain in the United States, and such card shall be indorsed by the immigration officer in charge of the port at which such alien seaman arrives. Such alien seaman shall not be required to obtain a passport or a visa. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 16. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico, or from any insular possession of the United States to any port in the United States, shall before any alien on board such vessel shall land at such port, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a manifest and such additional lists or statements, signed and sworn to before such immigration officer or any other officer designated by the Secretary of Labor, containing such information with respect to such alien and to the holder of every unexpired immigration visa presented by such alien for examination, as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such manifest and such additional lists or statements shall be prepared and verified in such manner, and shall be subscribed by such persons, as the Commissioner General of Immigration may prescribe. Such manifest and such additional lists or statements shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and may be procured only from persons designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such persons shall be under such bond as the Secretary of Labor may require. Such manifest and such additional lists or statements shall contain such information, be in such number of copies, and be distributed in such manner, as the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor may prescribe.

(b) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival any manifest or additional list or statement required by subdivision (a) of this section, or who refuses or fails to comply with any regulation issued pursuant to such subdivision, or who delivers to such immigration officer any manifest or additional list or statement which is incomplete or inaccurate, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such a refusal, failure, delivery of incomplete or inaccurate manifest or additional list or statement occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Such fine may be remitted or such imprisonment may be suspended, in whole or in part, upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the court, if it appears that the violation was due to inadvertence or to circumstances beyond the control of such owner, agent, consignee, or master, and that no intention to violate the provisions of this section existed.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a failure to comply with any regulation issued pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section was due to the fact that the master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or any officer of the vessel could not have obtained the information required by such regulation, and that such master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or officer of the vessel had no reason to believe that the information furnished was incomplete or inaccurate, and had no intention to conceal any fact with respect to any alien seaman, and that such master, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or officer of the vessel had complied with such regulation to the best of his knowledge and belief, he may cause any fine to be reported or remitted, and any bond canceled, which may have been given for the purpose of assuring compliance with such regulation, or any part of such fine or bond, as he may deem just.

(d) Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master who knowingly brings to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico, or from any insular possession of the United States any alien who has been refused a visa by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien with respect to whom such violation occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Such fine may be remitted or such imprisonment may be suspended, in whole or in part, upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the court, if it appears that the violation was due to inadvertence or to circumstances beyond the control of such owner, agent, consignee, or master, and that no intention to violate the provisions of this section existed.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrant aliens applying for visas after June 2, 1940.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector in charge of the port of arrival. Care should be taken to see that the list is correctly and completely filled out, and that the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or enrolled, and especially those to be held on and discharged at the port of arrival, or have contributed to the information given in the list, are correctly described therein. Any omissions, errors, or false statements in the list may result in the imposition of the penalties provided by law. Any questions relative to the list should be addressed to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival.

SEC. 36. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place is shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory and adjacent islands as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory and adjacent islands as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of any alien seaman (whether inspected and examined at the immigration station or not) who is certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service as afflicted with any communicable disease of such character that the Attorney General by regulations may prescribe as requiring treatment before the departure of such alien seaman, shall be liable to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all boarding stations independent of June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deposit after readjustment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived and such vessel is unable to sail from the United States within a period of thirty days after the date of such finding, the Attorney General may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. "Words in ordinary address" is a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of ordinary American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the alien's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and description of those to be brought in the port of arrival; to list containing the names of such aliens as may be discharged in the port of arrival, and the cause of such discharge, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien may illegally have been landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and to deliver a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently join the vessel at any port or place in the United States, and also the names of those ill, injured, or dead, and the cause of illness or injury, and the disposition made of the sick or injured; and to deliver within five days after the departure of the vessel from any port or place in the United States a list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the departure from such port or place, and the cause of separation; and to report to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the name of any alien employee who refuses to proceed to sea with the vessel when ordered to do so by the master thereof, or who absents himself from the vessel without permission, or who, after having been granted shore leave, fails to return to the vessel within the period for which granted, or who is found ashore after the vessel has left port without having reported to the immigration officer, and the cause to which any such refusal, absence, failure, or inability to return is due, so far as known to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer in charge of the vessel; and to report the name of any alien employee who shall desert while in port, and deliver to the master of the vessel upon its departure from each port all money and effects of such deserter found on board the vessel, and in default thereof to pay to the collector of customs of the district in which such port is located a sum sufficient to cover the wages of such deserter for the ensuing thirty days, unless such deserter shall sooner be produced to such master of the vessel, or shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor to have been unable to join the vessel within the said thirty days, and in the event such sum is deposited, while it remains during that period in the hands of the collector of customs, it shall be held for the payment of wages only to such deserter or to the master of the vessel on account of such deserter, and in the event such deserter is not produced or does not join the vessel within the said thirty days, then such sum shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the appropriation for the expenses of the Immigration Service: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit the payment into the Treasury of the whole or any part of such sum upon the production of such deserter within one year from the date of the deposit thereof: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit the payment into the Treasury of the whole or any part of such sum upon the production of such deserter within one year from the date of the deposit thereof, if it be established to his satisfaction that the master of the vessel was prevented by reasonable cause from complying with the requirements of this section as to the production of such deserter within the time limited: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit the payment into the Treasury of the whole or any part of such sum upon the production of such deserter within one year from the date of the deposit thereof, if it be established to his satisfaction that the master of the vessel was prevented by reasonable cause from complying with the requirements of this section as to the production of such deserter within the time limited: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit the payment into the Treasury of the whole or any part of such sum upon the production of such deserter within one year from the date of the deposit thereof, if it be established to his satisfaction that the master of the vessel was prevented by sickness of such deserter

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

This list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at each foreign port of departure. Each list of passengers on steam vessels shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number 1 for the first passenger named on the list. The list of passengers on sailing vessels shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number 1 for the first passenger named on the list. The number assigned to each passenger shall be written in the proper column before the name of the passenger is entered on the list. The list shall be verified, signed, and sworn to by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, at the port of departure, before the departure of the vessel from such port. Any person willfully failing to deliver such list, or willfully making a false statement in such list with respect to the name, nationality, or last residence of any passenger, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The master of any vessel bringing an alien who is not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, or who is not entitled under the immigration laws to enter the United States, shall report the fact, with all available information concerning the case, at the time of the arrival of the vessel at a port of the United States, to the immigrant inspector in charge at such port. Any master who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 102.)

SEC. 30. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be furnished on board such vessel, before the inspection of the same by the immigrant inspector, with a sufficient number of the blank forms of inquiry to be made concerning passengers, their admissibility into the United States, and their right to land therein, which forms shall be prepared by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such forms shall be printed in the English language and shall contain such classification of passengers as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and such forms shall be distributed to the various districts and ports of the United States by the Commissioner General of Immigration. (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 103.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That every alien arriving at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place, if unable to produce the visa of a consular officer, and every alien arriving at any land port of the United States from foreign contiguous territory, not in possession of an unexpired immigrant visa or other document such as is required by section 4 of this Act, and every alien who may be in transit through the United States to any foreign country, who may not be admissible to the United States under this Act, shall be detained upon the discovery thereof, and a written report thereof shall be made to the Secretary of Labor. Such alien shall be detained at the port of arrival or place where discovered pending a determination as to whether he shall be allowed to enter the United States or shall be sent out of the country in pursuance of law. The Secretary of Labor may issue rules and prescribe conditions, including the payment of head tax and the furnishing of bond, under which such aliens may be admitted temporarily to the United States notwithstanding the provisions of this Act, and may modify or revoke such rules and prescribe new conditions, including the form and amount of bond, from time to time. Such bond may be prosecuted for the recovery of the head tax in case the alien shall become a public charge or shall remain in the United States for a longer period than permitted by this Act without the payment of the head tax. Such bond may be sued for and head tax recovered thereon by any district attorney to whom the case may be reported for that purpose. Pending the final determination of the case, any such alien may be temporarily detained in the custody of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival or removed to any immigrant station or other place designated by the Secretary of Labor or authorized by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and may be required to perform such labor as he is capable of performing as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness to secure his safe removal as the Attorney General may prescribe for the deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to which such alien is destined, or to which he may be transferred from such vessel, shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in the United States of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel, and for the expenses of his removal on account of the refusal of such seaman to proceed on such vessel or account of the failure of such alien seaman to join his vessel at the time of departure from the United States, unless such refusal or failure is satisfactorily explained to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival. Such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel shall furnish to any such alien seaman employed on such vessel sufficient food of the kind customarily furnished to seamen on vessels of the same type while in port

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention, or the necessity of his testimony in connection with the prosecution of persons charged with violations of the immigration laws, or for the purpose of his deportation, under the provisions of this Act, or of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory, shall be subject to the provisions of section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 874; 8 U. S. C. 136).

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory shall be subject to the provisions of section 10 of this Act with respect to each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer), or the Attorney General shall have granted clearance until such inspection or the seaman has been transferred to the custody of the immigration officer at the port of departure. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

(b) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory who shall refuse or fail to deliver on demand to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or to the immigration officer at the port of departure, or to the Attorney General, a complete and accurate list, in the English language, of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel, stating their full names, nationalities, last permanent addresses, and intended addresses while in the United States, or shall refuse or fail to deliver on demand to such officers the certificate of the physician of the vessel, stating the names of all alien seamen employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and the names of those left on board because of illness, or who shall have been discharged, and the cause of such illness or discharge, or who shall refuse or fail to furnish such information in regard to the seamen employed on such vessel as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, shall be subject to a penalty of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. When such failure is the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration districts subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, but not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the master of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until the expense of the vessel on which he arrived has been paid to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, consignee, or agent of such vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place, or of the person in charge of the port of arrival, before such vessel shall be granted entry, or the master or person in charge of such vessel be granted a clearance certificate or shall be allowed to transact any business therein, to report, or in lieu of such report to deliver to the boarding officer, at the time of boarding such vessel, a manifest, consisting of such original manifests, bills of lading, and other documents relating to the cargo carried on board such vessel as may be required by the Secretary of the Treasury, and to answer such questions relative to such vessel and her cargo, her crew and passengers, and her voyage, as may be required by the Secretary of the Treasury, and to produce such documents or papers and to answer such questions relative thereto as may be required by any customs officer. Such manifest shall be in such form and contain such particulars as the Secretary of the Treasury may require, and the master or person in charge of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $5,000 for failure to report, produce documents or papers, or answer questions truthfully. Such master or person in charge may be required to make oath to the truth of such manifest and of the answers to such questions before any officer authorized to administer oaths. Any person who shall knowingly make or cause to be made any false statement in such manifest, or who shall knowingly make or cause to be made any false statement in answering any such question, shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 39. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to report on board any alien assumed entitled on such vessel under the immigration laws to land in the United States, or fails to detain on board any such alien when required by the Secretary of the Treasury, or who fails to deport any such alien when ordered deported, shall be punished by a penalty of $1,000 for each alien assumed in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine or any part thereof, or of a bond duly sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, or such question when the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond duly sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, shall have been approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs when such failure is the fault of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel.

The section as amended shall apply to all penalties which accrue after the date of the approval of this Act.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the immediate officers of the United States for any cause, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after employment by the immigration officers of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman in that he would be destitute or likely to become a public charge, or that the cost of his maintenance while detained will be unreasonable, or that such seaman is helpful to the United States in the prosecution of war, he may cause him to be detained on shore, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, in the custody of the immigration officers or any agency designated by him, for such period of time as may be necessary for such purposes. The cost of maintenance of such seaman shall be paid from appropriations for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Such seaman shall not be granted shore leave or be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily or solely under the control of officers of the United States, and shall be deported as soon as practicable. Such seaman shall not be deemed to have been admitted to the United States by reason of such detention on shore.

(d) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States, temporarily or otherwise, without a permit from the immigration officers at the port of arrival, or who shall depart from the United States without the consent of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or customs officer in charge of the vessel on which he arrived, or who shall secrete himself on board such vessel prior to her departure, or who shall refuse to depart on the vessel on which he arrived when ordered by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Such alien seaman shall be arrested upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor and taken before the court for such action as the court may deem necessary. The cost of such arrest and subsequent proceedings shall be paid from appropriations for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (43 Stat. 164, 165, as amended by 44 Stat. 812; 8 U.S.C. 191, 192, 193.)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared in plain roman letters approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the time vessel reports for inspection. Failure to have list ready will subject master to penalty of $300 (section 2 of act of February 27, 1907, as amended by section 28 of act of May 26, 1924, and section 30 of act of February 5, 1917). Attention is directed to section 28 of act of May 26, 1924, and section 30 of act of February 5, 1917, and to regulations thereunder.

I have noted the order of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, entered into Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and shall be interpreted as a limitation upon the right of all the crew, provided in said recent immigration Act to land on parole, except temporarily for medical treatment, or temporarily in case of emergency, or for the purpose of obtaining other employment on board a vessel arriving in the United States, or for the purpose of applying for a visa and examination by a consular officer, or for the purpose of proceeding in transit to a foreign country, or for the purpose of being detained by the immigration officers of the United States, or for the purpose of being treated in a hospital, or for the purpose of being detained by the United States Public Health Service, or for the purpose of being detained by the Secretary of Labor, or for the purpose of being detained by the Attorney General, or for the purpose of being detained by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs when such failure is the fault of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, or of any person in charge of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the immediate officers of the United States for any cause, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after employment by the immigration officers of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman in that he would be destitute or likely to become a public charge, or that the cost of his maintenance while detained will be unreasonable, or that such seaman is helpful to the United States in the prosecution of war, he may cause him to be detained on shore, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, in the custody of the immigration officers or any agency designated by him, for such period of time as may be necessary for such purposes. The cost of maintenance of such seaman shall be paid from appropriations for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Such seaman shall not be granted shore leave or be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily or solely under the control of officers of the United States, and shall be deported as soon as practicable. Such seaman shall not be deemed to have been admitted to the United States by reason of such detention on shore. (43 Stat. 164, 165, as amended by 44 Stat. 812; 8 U.S.C. 191, 192, 193.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master (operator) of any aircraft to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such persons, if such be the fact. Such lists shall be delivered before the vessel shall be admitted to entry, or, in case of failure to deliver such lists, or any of them, or in case the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master (operator) of such aircraft shall refuse to subscribe to the oath required in connection therewith, he shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien not specified in such lists, or for each alien employed on such vessel or aircraft who shall refuse to be examined, to be recovered from such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master (operator) of such aircraft, and no clearance shall be granted to such vessel or aircraft by the collector of the port until such penalty is paid or secured to be paid, or such refusal to be examined shall cease. Upon the refusal of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master (operator) of such aircraft to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such persons, if such be the fact, the vessel or aircraft shall be detained at the port of arrival by the collector of customs, or other officer authorized by the Secretary of Commerce, until such lists are delivered, or, in case of refusal to be examined, until the right to make such examination shall have been waived in writing by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master (operator) of such aircraft, or until the expiration of forty-eight hours after such refusal, whichever shall first occur: Provided, That clearance may be granted to such vessel or aircraft prior to the delivery of such lists, or the making of such examination, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover the head tax imposed by this section in respect of each alien employed on such vessel or aircraft concerning whom such lists have not been delivered as above required, or concerning whom such examination has been refused, and no such vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance while any of the aliens employed thereon as in this section provided are detained on board for the purpose of examination, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master (operator) of such aircraft shall refuse to pay the head tax imposed by this section in respect of any alien employed on such vessel or aircraft, in which case clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such head tax. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless a certificate in his case has been issued by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, or by a duly authorized physician designated by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or consular officer of the country to which the vessel shall thereafter proceed, stating that in his opinion the condition of such alien seaman is not such as to endanger the health of any person other than himself if such alien seaman be permitted to land. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be taken into custody and returned to the vessel, unless the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper to allow such alien seaman to land temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment. The cost of the maintenance and transportation of any alien seaman who is required by this section to be detained in the United States or to be returned to the country from which he came, pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, shall be borne by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or consular officer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master (operator) of any aircraft who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of this section, or with any rules and regulations issued thereunder, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration matters unpredecessary to June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the onboarding manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver a true manifest, as required by section 12 of the act of February 2, 1917, entitled "An act to regulate the immigration of aliens to, and the residence of aliens in, the United States," and the master or commanding officer of the vessel on which he arrived shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in section 38 of said act (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 155).

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 150.15 Liens of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the provisions contained in section 16 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 171)," have been complied, and not then unless notice of intention to file application for such clearance has been given to the collector of customs at least 24 hours prior to the time of sailing. Such notice may be given by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel, and shall be in writing and shall contain the name of the vessel, its nationality, the name of the master, the approximate time of sailing, and the port of destination. Upon receipt of such notice the collector of customs shall cause a list to be prepared containing the names of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel, and shall thereupon notify the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel that such list is prepared and available for inspection by the immigration officer in charge of the port. Such list shall contain as to each alien seaman employed on such vessel the following information: Name, age, sex, nationality, last permanent residence, calling or occupation, port at which seaman was employed, date of such employment, wages per month, whether employed as substitute for another seaman, and if so, name of seaman for whom substituted, and whether seaman is employed in any capacity other than that for which he is listed. Such list shall be delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port before the departure of the vessel, and no clearance shall be granted such vessel until such list has been delivered. Any person who shall fail to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each such failure.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance of such landing, or unless a bond in the penal sum of $500 for each such alien, with sufficient sureties, conditioned for the deportation of such alien, shall have been given by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel in which such alien arrived, to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located (the bond given for any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival to be entitled to enter the United States solely for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment. Such certificate shall be given only upon the written recommendation of the chief medical officer of the immigration service at the port of arrival, and shall state the reasons therefor. Such alien seaman shall be immediately deported to the country to which he belongs or from which he came to the United States, in accordance with the provisions of section 18 of this act, unless the Secretary of Labor shall extend the time for his departure. Such alien seaman shall not be admitted to the United States unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is entitled to enter some other foreign country which will permit him to enter, or that he was returned to such country upon the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or cancel such bond, in whole or in part, or allow the fine remitted in whole or in part, upon such terms as he may deem just. Such fine shall not be remitted or refunded, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the application to the Attorney General. Any such alien seaman who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this act. Any such alien seaman who shall be found in the United States in violation of this section or any regulation made in pursuance thereof shall be deported in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this act.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport alien seaman by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

Section 16 as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens arriving subsequent to June 2, 1924.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of crewmen of alien registry, pers of crewmen (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the foreign immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or from a small port of the coast of the same, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the District Immigration Officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employed on such vessel, stating the business they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the length of time they have respectively resided in the port of arrival, or have contributed to the support of such immigration as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and strict the arrival of any such vessel if specified in the visé of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such vessel shall have illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill such vacancies, and the cause, if any, who have ceased to be employed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, he shall, if convicted by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 896; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished and the fines imposed thereby, if any, have been paid to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to some person authorized by the Commissioner of Immigration to receive payments thereof, the deposit prescribed in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless a bond is furnished as provided by section 2 of the Act of June 5, 1920 (41 Stat. 1008; 8 U. S. C. 166), for the deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or any person bringing an alien to the United States on board such vessel, shall, at the time of the departure of such vessel from the United States, pay a tax of $8 for each alien employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by one of the medical examiners), or has granted him a permit to land, or has certified in writing that such seaman has been treated in a hospital, and such tax shall be in addition to any other tax or penalty imposed by law. Such tax shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1.00 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such tax is due. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such tax, or while the tax remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived is impracticable or inadvisable, and such vessel or another vessel of the same owner is scheduled to depart from the United States to a foreign port other than a port in a country adjacent to the United States, the Attorney General may cause such alien seaman to be taken from the United States to such foreign port on such vessel or another vessel of the same owner. The cost of clearance of alien seamen, including the head tax, shall be paid by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States, and such vessel may be required to furnish a bond in such amount as the Attorney General may deem necessary to guarantee compliance with this subsection. Any such vessel shall be granted clearance notwithstanding the provisions of section 4200 of the Revised Statutes (46 U. S. C. 91), as amended, or section 2774 of the Revised Statutes (46 U. S. C. 104), as amended, or section 4 of the Act of March 2, 1903 (32 Stat. 1214; 8 U. S. C. 102), as amended by section 2 of the Act of March 4, 1907 (34 Stat. 1228; 8 U. S. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or by reason of illness, certified by the examining medical officer, to be of such character as to require such treatment, or for the purpose of obtaining surgical treatment which is not obtainable on board, but shall be detained on board, or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port, pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or pending his certification by the medical officer as being in proper condition to depart, or pending his removal on board a vessel departing from the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Commerce may, in his discretion, permit masters of vessels carrying passengers to the United States to deliver lists of such passengers in lieu of the lists required by this section to be delivered before the departure of the vessel from the foreign port or place. [43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 180.]

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or by reason of illness, certified by the medical officer in charge of the port of arrival, of any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has taken the alien seaman on board after such inspection or to the depot and such examination by the medical examiner). Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the liability to payment of such fine or penalty has been determined by the decision of the Attorney General, or the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which have accrued since July 1, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seaman pursuant to the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of alien immigrant class or Canal Zone (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the Principal immigration officer at the port or first stop of the vessel in the United States, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 30. (a) That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival such complete and accurate list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and such additional lists or manifests at the time of departure from the United States as may be required by such officer. Such lists or manifests shall show the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether married or single, whether in possession of a valid passport, and whether in possession of a valid immigration visa of each person who may be a passenger, alien or citizen, on board such vessel, and such other information relative thereto as may be required by such Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such lists or manifests shall be delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival before the vessel shall be granted entry, and shall be corrected, if found inaccurate, to the satisfaction of such officer. Such lists or manifests shall be prima facie evidence for the purpose of any proceeding before a special inquiry officer of the truth of the statements therein contained. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of any such vessel who refuses to deliver such lists or manifests, or who refuses to permit any immigration officer to board such vessel for the purpose of examining the lists or manifests relating to persons on board thereof, or who refuses to deliver to such officer any person on board such vessel, or who refuses to detain any person on board such vessel when required so to do by such officer, or who refuses to assist such officer in the performance of his duties in relation to the boarding, detention, and delivery of persons on board such vessel, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

(b) Every master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any foreign port or place shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien while on board such vessel, and for the payment of the hospital dues and other charges for the maintenance of such alien while a member of the crew of such vessel, and for the payment of the cost of his passage to the port of his destination in case he shall become a public charge within one year after his arrival at such port or place, and for the payment of the head tax and any other charges which may be required by law to be paid for such alien.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily during detention on board, in case of sickness, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or medical treatment, or treatment to such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 160.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain on board any alien seaman when ordered by the immigration officer to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

This section as amended shall apply to all penalties already suspended or which may hereafter be incurred.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island shall be prima facie evidence for the purposes of a penalty to obtain or deport alien crewmen, and the burden of proof shall be upon the master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of any such vessel to establish that such alien seaman did depart on such vessel or was removed therefrom by the immigration officer at the port of departure.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

This section as amended shall apply to all penalties already suspended or which may hereafter be incurred.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island shall be prima facie evidence for the purposes of a penalty to obtain or deport alien crewmen, and the burden of proof shall be upon the master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of any such vessel to establish that such alien seaman did depart on such vessel or was removed therefrom by the immigration officer at the port of departure.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That when aliens arrive at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or a port in the Canal Zone, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, or from any insular possession of the United States, they shall be detained at the port of arrival, or place contiguous thereto, until a physical and mental examination is made by the boards of special inquiry. Such boards shall be composed of three immigrant inspectors, one of whom shall be a medical officer, and shall have power to determine whether such aliens shall be allowed to land or shall be deported. All cases in which any such alien has been certified to a board of special inquiry for examination shall be given precedence over all other cases pending before the board, and the decision of such board shall be rendered with all possible speed. The Secretary of Labor shall have the power to prescribe rules and regulations governing the boards of special inquiry not inconsistent with law, which shall have the force and effect of law. Said boards shall have authority to administer oaths and to take evidence touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, which evidence shall be recorded and filed with the case. Said boards shall have authority to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and documents touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, and may invoke the aid of any court of the United States in the enforcement of their lawful orders, and such courts may issue the necessary writs, process, and mandates to secure to such boards the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and documents touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, and may punish any refusal to obey such orders, writs, process, or mandates to the same extent and under the same penalties as are now provided by law for refusal to obey similar orders, writs, process, or mandates of district courts of the United States. Said boards shall have authority to order the deportation of any alien who shall come into the United States in violation of this Act, or of any amendment thereto, or of any regulation made in pursuance thereof, and to cause the deportation of such alien according to the provisions of law in force as to the deportation of aliens. Said boards shall also have authority to review the cases of aliens certified to them by the commissioners of immigration, and to recommend to the Secretary of Labor the cancellation of warrants issued by the commissioners of immigration for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States. Said boards shall also have authority to recommend to the Secretary of Labor the remission of fines, penalties, and forfeitures imposed for violations of the immigration laws. The Secretary of Labor shall have the power to establish such boards of special inquiry, consisting of three members each, at such ports of arrival as may be necessary for the proper and efficient performance of the duties and powers conferred upon him by this Act, and to make all needful rules and regulations for the conduct of their work. Said boards shall hold sessions at such times and places as the Secretary of Labor may direct or as the Commissioner of Immigration in charge may order. The Secretary of Labor may detail such officers and employees of the Department of Labor as may be necessary to secure the efficient performance of the duties and powers conferred upon boards of special inquiry, and may designate any immigrant inspector to act as a member of any board of special inquiry whenever in his judgment the services of such inspector may be required. The Secretary of Labor may refer to a board of special inquiry any case in which an alien may become entitled to admission to the United States under section 4 of this Act, and may admit such alien if found by such board to be so entitled. The Secretary of Labor may order the admission of any alien found by a board of special inquiry to be entitled to admission, pending the final decision of the case, upon the execution by such alien and two sureties of a bond in such amount, not exceeding $1,000, and containing such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such bond may be forfeited for the violation of any condition thereof without the prosecution or conviction of a criminal offense. The Attorney General shall prescribe rules for the disposition and sale of property transferred to the United States by the forfeiture of bonds or otherwise under the provisions of this Act, and shall deduct and pay over to the proper parties, out of the moneys received from such sales, such sums as shall be necessary to pay the legal expenses and costs of such sales, and shall cover into the Treasury the surplus, if any, remaining.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, or the insular possessions of the United States) or on board any vessel of the United States engaged in trade between the United States and any of the islands, ports, or places aforesaid, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily and while the vessel is in port, and then only subject to such conditions as may be imposed by the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien seaman who lands temporarily in the United States shall be deported as a part of the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, unless the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel shall furnish a bond in the sum of $300 for each such alien seaman, conditioned on the departure of such alien seaman on a vessel sailing from a port in the United States within such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or on the shipment of such alien seaman on board a vessel sailing from a port in the United States within such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or on the procurement of a certificate from a consular officer of the United States to the effect that such alien seaman has been returned to the country to which he belongs, or has been offered employment on board a vessel sailing therefrom within a reasonable time, or has been given a reasonable sum sufficient for his transportation to such country, or has been permitted to enter some other country, and on the payment of a tax of $8 for each such alien seaman. Upon the filing of such bond and the payment of such tax, the alien seaman with respect to whom the same was filed may be permitted to land temporarily, but the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, require the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover said tax or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, to be forfeited in the event the alien seaman with respect to whom such deposit was made fails to depart in accordance with the terms of this section. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund any moneys deposited to secure the payment of taxes imposed by this section.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving therein, or who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any time while in the United States, in violation of law, shall be deported as a part of the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel shall furnish a bond in the sum of $300 for each such alien seaman, conditioned on the departure of such alien seaman on a vessel sailing from a port in the United States within such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or on the shipment of such alien seaman on board a vessel sailing from a port in the United States within such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or on the procurement of a certificate from a consular officer of the United States to the effect that such alien seaman has been returned to the country to which he belongs, or has been offered employment on board a vessel sailing therefrom within a reasonable time, or has been given a reasonable sum sufficient for his transportation to such country, or has been permitted to enter some other country, and on the payment of a tax of $8 for each such alien seaman. Upon the filing of such bond and the payment of such tax, the alien seaman with respect to whom the same was filed may be permitted to land temporarily, but the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, require the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover said tax or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, to be forfeited in the event the alien seaman with respect to whom such deposit was made fails to depart in accordance with the terms of this section. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund any moneys deposited to secure the payment of taxes imposed by this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation at the expense of the vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such order expense has been borne or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

The law prescribes a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than 1 year, or both, for any person who knowingly and willfully makes any false statement in connection with the crew and passenger list or manifest required by law. (Sec. 436, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 201.)

Attention is invited to the requirements of section 30 of the Act of August 9, 1939, as amended, that a complete list of all persons employed on board vessels of the United States shall be delivered to the Commissioner of Customs at the first port of arrival in the United States after the departure of such vessel from a foreign port, and that a like list shall be delivered at the first port of arrival in the United States after the departure of such vessel from any port in the Canal Zone, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands. Such list shall contain the name, age, sex, nationality, last permanent residence, and duty on board the vessel of each person employed on board such vessel, and shall be certified by the master of such vessel to be correct. Any master who fails to deliver such list, or who delivers a false list, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each person employed on board such vessel, and no clearance shall be granted to such vessel until such penalty is paid or the payment thereof guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain white paper, shall be typewritten or printed in the English language, and shall be in duplicate. The list of aliens on board the vessel shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with the number 1 for the first alien mentioned in the list, and the number assigned to each alien shall be entered on the manifest opposite the name of such alien. The list of members of the crew may be separately numbered or lettered, or otherwise identified, at the option of the master, as long as the aliens in the list of members of the crew can be readily distinguished from the members of the crew not included in such list. The list of aliens in each group shall be arranged in the order of the last permanent residence of the aliens, and the name of the country of last permanent residence of each alien shall be entered on the list opposite his name. The list of aliens shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the original and one copy shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival; at least one copy shall be retained by the master of the vessel; and one copy shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge of the district in which the vessel will first arrive after touching at a port in the United States. If the vessel is destined to a port in the United States from a port in foreign territory adjacent to the United States, the list shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge of the district in which the port of destination is located. If the vessel is destined to a port in the United States from a port in foreign territory not adjacent to the United States, the list shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge of the district in which the port of first arrival is located. If the vessel has no definite destination, the list shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge of the district in which the port of first arrival is located. The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. A separate list shall be prepared for the passengers to leave from the vessel.

Each list of passengers furnished by the master, and each list as to passengers to leave from the vessel, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such list as required by law.

(c) If the alleged "contempt" is a violation of an injunction or restraining order issued in a case to which the United States or any of its agencies is a party, the judge before whom the alleged contempt occurs may, in his discretion, and shall upon the request of counsel for the United States, immediately commence the hearing thereof; but the accused shall be entitled to a reasonable postponement of the hearing to permit the preparation of his defense, and, if he so requests, to a trial by a judge other than the one whose order is alleged to have been violated. However, this subsection shall not apply to criminal contempts committed in the presence of the judge or so near thereto as to interfere directly with the administration of justice.

(d) The same provisions as are contained in subsection (c) of this section with respect to proceedings before a judge in cases of alleged criminal contempt shall apply in respect to proceedings before a master appointed pursuant to Rule 53 (b) (1) of these rules.

(e) Nothing contained in this rule shall affect the right of the United States to punish by fine or imprisonment or both, at the discretion of the court, contempt of its authority, disobedience of its lawful writ, process, order, rule, decree, or command, or resistance to its lawful authority, by any person, corporation, or association, whether the proceedings be civil or criminal in form.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector presenting the vessel at the port of arrival. Here complete the list of persons on board the vessel, arranging the several nationalities in separate groups, and write their names in the order in which they appear on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection, each nationality should be arranged in alphabetical order according to the last name of the alien, and the list should be numbered consecutively. Here write the total number of persons listed in the space provided. Here state the number of pages of which the list consists. Here write the name of the vessel, the name of the master, and the date of departure from the last foreign port. Here write the name of the port of arrival. Here write the name of the first port in the United States at which the vessel will call, and the name of the port of destination. Here write the name of the port in the United States at which the vessel will clear for a foreign port. Here write the name of the port of departure for the United States. Here write the name of the port in the United States at which the vessel will clear for a foreign port. Here write the name of the port of departure for the United States.

(a) If the Attorney General finds that the deportation of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien not to be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(b) That an alien assigned did not appear upon the conveyance manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the inspector at the time of arrival as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or deport alien to the immigration officer at the United States port of arrival.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien not to be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That from arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the nationality, last residence (city, country), and final destination (city, country) of each alien, and such other information regarding each alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and such lists shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer or first or second officer of such vessel, which oath any such officer is hereby authorized to administer. Such lists shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the first port in the United States, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall not allow any person to leave such vessel before the inspection of such list, except in case of sickness or death, or by special permission of the immigrant inspector, until the inspection of such list has been completed, and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Such fine shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel or proceeding in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located. Such vessel shall not be granted clearance pending the determination of such proceedings, or while such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such proceedings upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien assigned in respect of whom such failure occurs. Such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such proceedings upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrant aliens arriving subsequent to June 2, 1924.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or intending to ship on board such vessel for any such place, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has received such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), and has granted such seaman a permit to land, or has issued a certificate stating that in which the port of arrival is located the name of such seaman has been entered on the list of seamen duly shipped and discharged in the port of arrival; or has furnished such seaman with a certificate from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such seaman arrived, stating the nationality, last residence, and final destination (city, country) of such seaman, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and has delivered to such seaman a duplicate thereof. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel without having been inspected and granted a permit to land, or who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any port other than the port at which he was inspected and granted a permit to land, or who shall land in the United States from any vessel without having received such certificate from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel, or who shall fail to present such certificate to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or who shall fail to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which and such alien has left the vessel, or who shall fail to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which and such alien has violated the conditions of his permit to land, or who shall fail to present himself for examination by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service at such time and place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival, or who shall fail to comply with any requirement of the immigration laws or regulations made in pursuance thereof relative to such seamen, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, to the country to which such alien belongs, or in which he resided, at the option of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived, and the cost of such deportation shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel or proceeding in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located. Such vessel shall not be granted clearance pending the determination of such proceedings, or while such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such proceedings upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien assigned in respect of whom such failure occurs. Such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such proceedings upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrant aliens arriving subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) That an alien assigned did not appear upon the conveyance manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the inspector at the time of arrival as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or deport alien to the immigration officer at the United States port of arrival.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien not to be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such relations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory to which any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a complete list of such alien seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), stating the full name of each alien seaman employed on board at the time of the inspection of the list, the date of birth, the last foreign residence, the nationality, the port at which such alien seaman was shipped, the time and place of last arrival at a port in the United States, the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, the length of time such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel, and such other information relative to such alien seaman as the Attorney General may prescribe. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who refuses to deliver any such list, or who refuses or neglects to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same in such amount as he may deem appropriate. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 201.)

(b) Every alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the direction shall direct, shall be deported. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of date of entry. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 202.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any vessel on which the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue delay in the departure of such vessel, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deposit any bond required by this section, or to perform any condition of any such bond, such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such bond is deposited or such condition performed, or such bond is canceled. Any bond required by this section may be sued upon and recovered in the name of the collector of customs for the district in which it was taken, for the use of the United States, notwithstanding any stipulation as to the jurisdiction of the courts in which such suit may be brought. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 203 (a), 203 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port at the time of the granting of his application for a visa may be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress of the vessel, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected said seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner). Any such alien seaman employed on any vessel duly arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board the vessel or some other vessel within the time limited by such immigration officer or the Attorney General, or who, prior to the departure of such vessel, deserts, or attempts to desert therefrom, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be required by the master of such vessel to pay a sum not to exceed $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportation aliens independent of June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after readmission by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such action shall not be deemed clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a complete list of all the passengers who are not citizens of the United States who may be on board such vessel, stating the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each, and the place from which they severally took passage. Such list shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof, and shall show the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether married or single, whether in possession of a ticket through to destination, whether the passage is paid by himself or others, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends and their names and complete addresses, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, whether in the United States or elsewhere at the time of the passage of the immigration act approved February 5, 1917, whether coming by reason of any relative or friend in the United States or otherwise, and whether in possession of a ticket to the place to which he is destined, and such other facts as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, Secretary of Labor, or Department of Commerce and Labor concerning the right of any such alien to enter the United States, which list shall be signed by the master or commanding officer and by the first or chief mate or other officer of such vessel, and shall be sworn to before the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, which oath may be administered by any such officer. Any master or commanding officer who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses to subscribe and deliver the oath herein required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Any master or commanding officer who shall knowingly or willfully report falsely or make any false oath in relation to the said list shall be guilty of perjury, and shall be punished accordingly. Any master or commanding officer who shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector to enter the vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same and the list required by this section, or who shall refuse to assist such inspector in the performance of his duties, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Any master or commanding officer who shall refuse to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do by an immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse to deliver any such alien detained on board his vessel to the proper officer of the United States for the purpose of having the right of such alien to enter the United States determined, or who shall refuse to return any such alien so detained on board his vessel to the same foreign port from which such vessel arrived to the United States, or who shall refuse to pay the head tax provided for by this Act, shall be deemed

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such exceptional circumstances as the Attorney General may recognize, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of debarkation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 160.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except from a foreign contiguous territory), shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such exceptional circumstances as the Attorney General may recognize, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), arrange for the removal of such seaman on board such vessel or other vessel or conveyance or otherwise, as may be directed by the Attorney General, and has delivered to the master of such vessel a certificate in duplicate, one copy to be filed with the collector of customs, that such seaman has been found admissible or has been allowed to land temporarily or has been removed from the United States under the provisions of this Act, and has been granted a period of time within which he is to depart from the United States, which period of time shall be specified in such certificate. Such certificate shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of departure of such seaman from the United States, and a duplicate copy thereof shall be filed with the collector of customs at the port of departure. Any master who shall fail to comply with the provisions of this subdivision shall pay a penalty of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such seaman leaves the United States, which penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Attorney General upon such terms and conditions as he shall deem just, or may be refunded in case it is established to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that the seaman has been lawfully admitted to the United States or has been found not to have been a member of the crew of the vessel as reported. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, and upon the production of such evidence as may be required, cancel any such certificate or any part thereof, and may, in his discretion, require the taking of a bond in such sum and containing such conditions as he may prescribe, to insure the performance of the duties imposed upon the master by this section. Clearance may be refused any vessel the master of which refuses or fails to deliver such certificate, or any vessel which has been reported to the Attorney General as having violated the provisions of this section, until such certificate has been delivered or such bond has been given.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and who shall remain therein for a period in excess of the period allowed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who shall land at any place other than a port designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, shall be deemed to be a person who has entered the United States, and shall be subject to all provisions of law relating to the entry of aliens.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any shipowner has failed to comply with the requirements of the immigration laws, or any rule or regulation made thereunder, he may, after hearing, impose upon such shipowner a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each violation. Until such penalty is paid, clearance may be withheld the vessel on which the violation occurred, or any other vessel owned in whole or in part by such shipowner.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens required to be prepared on blank forms approved by the Commissioner General of Immigration (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That alien arriving at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place if apell pe the duly of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like conplunge pe the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence of like conplunge pe the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, and whether they were temporarily or permanently detained in the port by reason of the provisions of this Act, and such other information in regard to each such alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration as the Attorney General apell pe regulations prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it apell pe the duly of such owner, agent, consignee, or master, to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it apell pe the duly of such owner, agent, consignee, or master, to deliver to such immigration officer a further like certificate in the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted on board, and the circumstances connected therewith, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and no such owner, agent, consignee, or master as aforesaid shall pe permitted to depart with such vessel from any port or place in the United States until the immigration officer in charge at the port shall have granted such owner, agent, consignee, or master a certificate that he has complied with the requirements of this section, or has been detained on board for the purpose of complying with the requirements of this section, which certificate shall be delivered by such officer to the master of such vessel before her departure from such port or place. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $300 for each and every alien with respect to whom such violation occurs: Provided, That if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master had no reasonable cause to believe that any such alien was an alien, and that he could not have ascertained that fact by the exercise of reasonable diligence, and that he had actually employed such alien in the regular course of his business on board such vessel, and had caused him to be detained on board, and that in case of the failure to so detain such alien he had reported such alien as required by this section, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master shall not be liable to the penalty imposed by this section: Provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the case is pending, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to such extent as he deems just and reasonable under the circumstances existing at the time of the alleged violation. This section shall apply to all territory under the control or subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, except the Panama Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands of the United States, and the island of Guam. (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 102.)

(a) If any alien crewman shall not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Attorney General to have remained unlawfully in the United States after the departure of such vessel, or to have been employed in violation of his status as a member of the crew of such vessel, he shall be taken into custody upon the warrant of the Attorney General and shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 hereof to the country in which he was born or to which he belongs or in which he resided prior to entering the United States, unless the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization shall, in his discretion, allow him to depart to some other country. The cost of his maintenance while in custody shall be paid from the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. Any alien crewman who fails to depart with the vessel on which he arrived, and who remains in the United States for a period in excess of 29 days, shall be deported as provided in this section, irrespective of the cause of his failure to depart with the vessel.

(b) Any alien crewman who, after having been granted shore leave, fails to report aboard the vessel or other vessel upon which he is employed within 24 hours after the departure of the vessel from the port at which he was granted shore leave, shall be deported as provided in this section, irrespective of the cause of his failure to report aboard the vessel.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the treatment he would receive if returned to his native country, or for other reasons, he may cause such alien seaman to be granted a period of not to exceed 12 months within which to depart from the United States, and may require such alien seaman to furnish a bond in such amount and with such security as he may deem necessary to insure that such alien seaman will depart from the United States within the period granted. Such bond may be declared breached and recovered in the manner provided for the recovery of bonds given to secure the payment of duties. Failure of such alien seaman to depart within the period granted shall render him subject to deportation in the manner provided in this section. (43 Stat. 161–162, 58 Stat. 810; 8 U. S. C. 102 (a), 102 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or emergency, or by reason of the failure of the vessel on which he arrived to depart therefrom with all or any part of the crew thereof, or for the sole purpose of obtaining a passport, or for deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except foreign contiguous territory), shall pay a tax of $8 for each alien crewman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner); or the master of such vessel, if the vessel is not to enter any port, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the immigration officer at the port of arrival is located the sum of Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the medical examiner); $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance bought the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the case is pending, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to such extent as he deems just and reasonable under the circumstances existing at the time of the alleged violation. This section shall apply to all territory under the control or subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, except the Panama Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands of the United States, and the island of Guam. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 180.)

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the treatment he would receive if returned to his native country, or for other reasons, he may cause such alien seaman to be granted a period of not to exceed 12 months within which to depart from the United States, and may require such alien seaman to furnish a bond in such amount and with such security as he may deem necessary to insure that such alien seaman will depart from the United States within the period granted. Such bond may be declared breached and recovered in the manner provided for the recovery of bonds given to secure the payment of duties. Failure of such alien seaman to depart within the period granted shall render him subject to deportation in the manner provided in this section. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 810; 8 U. S. C. 102 (a), 102 (c).)

SEC. 38. Then upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ships company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether they intend to depart from the United States or not after the vessel shall have been admitted to entry. Such lists shall be prepared in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer of such vessel, which oath the said officer is hereby authorized to administer. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver to such immigration officer, at the time of the departure of such vessel, a complete list of all the members of the crew employed on board such vessel, or who refuses to make oath to such lists when required, or who knowingly includes therein the name of any alien employed on such vessel who has not been duly reported and granted permission to depart from the United States, or who knowingly includes therein any false information with respect to any such alien employee, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to report, or who shall conceal or attempt to conceal, or who shall aid or abet any alien employee in concealing himself on board such vessel, or who shall aid or abet any such alien employee in evading any of the provisions of the immigration laws, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien employee in respect to whom he shall be convicted, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the adjacent islands, touching only at ports of the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment or because of shipwreck or other casualty, under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 189).

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall detain on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and the immigration officer in charge of the immigration station at such port has granted a landing permit to such seaman, or has given notice in writing to the master, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel that such seaman will be required to be detained on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if landing by such immigration officer or the Attorney General is to be denied such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if landing by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability to the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to such sum as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, or remit the fine remaining unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability to the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to such sum as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, or remit the fine remaining unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of entry, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Word an arriving seaman is a "nonresident" a decision to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate transfer of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant immigration officer in charge of the port of entry list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and calling of each such alien, the intention as to permanent residence or temporary visit, whether in possession of a ticket through to destination, whether the transportation is paid in whole or in part by any person or corporation, the amount of money in possession of each alien, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so, their names and complete addresses, whether ever before in the United States, whether ever before rejected or deported, whether going to join a vessel or to work at a specific calling, whether having a contract, express or implied, to labor for any person or company in the United States, and if so, what person or company, whether the alien has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia previous to the importation of such alien, and such other information relative to such alien as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall also report the name of any alien employee who were left behind at the time of the departure of such vessel from any foreign port, and also the names of those, if any, who have been detained at the port of arrival for special examination, and shall furnish such additional information relative to such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any person who shall refuse to furnish the information required by this section, or who shall furnish false information, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall be severally liable to the Government of the United States for the payment of a sum of money equal to $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be recovered in the manner provided by law for the recovery of penalties. The Secretary of Labor is authorized to remit any part of such penalty when it shall appear that the person who should have been entered on the list was a bona fide resident of the United States and that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel had no reason to believe that such person was not entitled to admission. The Secretary of Labor shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section, and may employ such additional inspectors as may be necessary to secure the proper execution of the provisions of this section. SEC. 150.15. Index of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 171), shall have been furnished, and has then either noted the fact that no aliens are employed, or has attached thereto a list of all aliens employed on board, which list shall contain the name, age, sex, nationality, last residence, calling, and final destination of each alien employed, and shall show whether such alien is in possession of a ticket through to destination, whether the transportation is paid in whole or in part by any person or corporation, the amount of money in possession of each alien, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so, their names and complete addresses, whether ever before in the United States, whether ever before rejected or deported, whether going to join a vessel or to work at a specific calling, whether having a contract, express or implied, to labor for any person or company in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia previous to the importation of such alien, and such other information relative to such alien as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 171), shall have been furnished to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 33 of said Act (39 Stat. 880; 8 U. S. C. 150) or regulations issued by the Secretary of Labor pursuant thereto, and shall then appear noted on the list that no aliens are employed, or that the list attached contains the names of all aliens employed, and that the information required by said section and regulations issued thereunder has been furnished in respect to each such alien. (Sec. 36, Act of Feb. 5, 1917, as amended by sec. 3, Act of May 10, 1920, 41 Stat. 593; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

I, R. P. McKeever, of the S.S. Oklahoma, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, promptly in said vessel from any port or place during the present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

[signature] Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 11th day of January, 1921

[signature] Immigrant Inspector.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. The list of changes of alien members shall not be finished clearance until duly executed and the vessel on which he arrived in the United States (43 Stat. 164–182, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. Tab. (a), Tab. (c).)

(e) If the Attorney General finds that the deportation of the alien members of the crew of any vessel will be unduly burdensome because of physical disability or otherwise, he may permit the deportation of such alien from the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

(a) Every master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall, before such vessel shall be granted clearance papers, report, and cause to be reported, and make oath to the facts concerning each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall be made as soon as practicable after the vessel has been docked), and has delivered to such immigration officer a complete list of such seamen, in triplicate, containing the name, age, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each such seaman, the date and port of his last entry into the United States, the name of the vessel on which he arrived, the length of time he has been employed on board such vessel, the port at which he shipped, and whether he has been employed on board any vessel during the twelve months next preceding his arrival at such port, and such other information relative to such seamen as may be required by the Attorney General. Such list shall be prepared and delivered to such immigration officer by the master of such vessel, or by the agent, consignee, or owner thereof, if the master is not available, and shall be subscribed and sworn to by the master before such immigration officer. Such list shall contain a description of each alien, following the order in which the names appear on the list, and shall state the number of aliens employed on board such vessel at the time of the arrival of such vessel at such port, and the number of aliens who have signed articles to depart on board such vessel, and the number of aliens who have been employed on board such vessel during the twelve months next preceding such arrival, and such other information relative to such seamen as may be required by the Attorney General. Such list shall be delivered to such immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival before any such seaman shall be granted shore leave or leave to land, and before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers. Such list shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the additional copies shall be delivered to the customs officer at the port of arrival, to be by him transmitted to the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such requirement with respect to any vessel making regular trips to ports in the United States from ports in countries contiguous to the United States, and may, in his discretion, withdraw such requirement with respect to any vessel making trips to the United States from any port or place in the West Indies, Central America, the Republic of Mexico, Newfoundland, Miquelon, Saint Pierre, Bermuda, the Bahama Islands, Cuba, Haiti, or the Dominican Republic, and may, in his discretion, withdraw such requirement with respect to any vessel which shall have been in operation for a period of not more than one year, and which shall have been inspected by the United States Public Health Service at the last port of departure before the United States, and found to be free from contagious disease.

(b) Any master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section, or who shall refuse to permit any immigration officer to enter such vessel for the purpose of performing any duty required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question put to him by any such officer touching the compliance of any person on board such vessel with the provisions of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such refusal or neglect occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers during the detention of such alien for examination before the Board of Special Inquiry, or after the decision of such Board that such alien is entitled to land, unless and until the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or consignor of such vessel shall have paid the tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or shall have given a bond to the United States sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such requirement with respect to any vessel making regular trips to ports in the United States from ports in countries contiguous to the United States, and may, in his discretion, withdraw such requirement with respect to any vessel which shall have been in operation for a period of not more than one year, and which shall have been inspected by the United States Public Health Service at the last port of departure before the United States, and found to be free from contagious disease. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, whether such vessels shall depart therefrom directly for the United States or not, and shall not apply to vessels touching at ports in the United States merely for the purpose of taking on fuel or supplies, or both, when such vessels do not land passengers or discharge cargo while en route between foreign ports and ports of the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, except upon a certificate by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival that the alien has been adequately examined (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer), and has been found not to be affected with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities set forth in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been transferred to the custody of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or consignor of such vessel, for removal from the United States by such vessel or by another vessel or otherwise, at the discretion of the Attorney General, and upon the payment by such master, owner, agent, consignee, or consignor of such vessel of the cost of maintenance of such alien while in the United States, determined by the Attorney General, but not in excess of $1 per day for the period during which such alien was detained pending such decision, and of the cost of his removal. Such cost of maintenance and removal shall be a lien against such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located. The cost of maintenance of each alien seaman in respect of whom such finding occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such deposit to be made on the manifest, shall finally be determined by the Attorney General, and such decision shall be subject to review by the courts only upon the application of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or consignor of such vessel, filed within ten days after such decision is rendered, and not thereafter. Pending such review, or the expiration of such time within which it may be filed, such alien seaman shall be detained in the custody of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and shall not be removed from the United States. Upon the final decision of the court, such alien seaman shall be removed from the United States by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or consignor of such vessel, unless such master, owner, agent, consignee, or consignor of such vessel shall have obtained a writ of review as provided in section 47 of this Act, in which case such alien seaman shall be removed from the United States by such master, owner, agent, consignee, or consignor of such vessel upon the final decision of the court of review. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

(b) Every master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall, before such vessel shall be granted clearance papers, report, and cause to be reported, and make oath to the facts concerning each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer), and has delivered to such immigration officer a complete list of such seamen, in triplicate, containing the name, age, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each such seaman, the date and port of his last entry into the United States, the name of the vessel on which he arrived, the length of time he has been employed on board such vessel, the port at which he shipped, and whether he has been employed on board any vessel during the twelve months next preceding his arrival at such port, and such other information relative to such seamen as may be required by the Attorney General. Such list shall be delivered to such immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival before any such seaman shall be granted shore leave or leave to land, and before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers. Such list shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the additional copies shall be delivered to the customs officer at the port of arrival, to be by him transmitted to the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such requirement with respect to any vessel making regular trips to ports in the United States from ports in countries contiguous to the United States, and may, in his discretion, withdraw such requirement with respect to any vessel which shall have been in operation for a period of not more than one year, and which shall have been inspected by the United States Public Health Service at the last port of departure before the United States, and found to be free from contagious disease. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, whether such vessels shall depart therefrom directly for the United States or not, and shall not apply to vessels touching at ports in the United States merely for the purpose of taking on fuel or supplies, or both, when such vessels do not land passengers or discharge cargo while en route between foreign ports and ports of the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that a seaman who was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain the detention of such alien seaman by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, and such alien seaman shall be presumed to have been unlawfully landed in the United States.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that the deportation of any alien seaman employed on board any vessel will be unduly burdensome because of physical disability or otherwise, he may permit the deportation of such alien from the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [data containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, whether the destination of such aliens is the United States or not, and whether they have severally been lawfully admitted for permanent residence or not, and if not, whether they have severally been granted the status of a nonimmigrant, and if so, the particular status granted, and such other information regarding such aliens as may be required by the Attorney General, all these in detail as to each alien employed, stating the position occupied by each alien, following the order in which the names appear on the list, and stating the number of aliens employed on such vessel, whether the vessel is bound coastwise, or foreign, or intercoastal, the name of the vessel, its nationality, and the name of the master at the time of the arrival of such vessel at such port, and the number of aliens who have signed articles to depart on board

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States for the ultimate departure, removal, or for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, except temporarily for the purpose of visa, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements, or for such other reasons as may be deemed meritorious by the Attorney General, unless such alien seaman shall furnish a bond with sufficient surety in such amount, not exceeding $1,000, as the Attorney General may require, conditioned that such alien seaman will depart from the United States from such place or places as may be designated by the Attorney General within the period for which he is admitted as a temporary visitor, or such additional period or periods as may be granted by the Attorney General, and will comply with such reasonable regulations governing the departure of such aliens as the Attorney General may prescribe: Provided, That the Attorney General may waive the requirement of such bond in the case of any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has caused such seaman to be so inspected at a foreign port by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, except temporarily for the purpose of visa, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements, or for such other reasons as may be deemed meritorious by the Attorney General: Provided further, That the deposit of any such bond may be waived by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival in the case of any alien seaman employed on board a vessel which is regularly and frequently entering and departing from ports of the United States, if such alien seaman is in the employ of such vessel at the time of her last arrival at such port, and is in possession of a certificate from the master of such vessel that he intends to employ such alien seaman on board such vessel upon her next departure from such port. Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on any other vessel on which he may be employed, or who shall fail to depart from the United States within the period for which he was admitted as a temporary visitor, or such additional period or periods as may be granted by the Attorney General, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any bond given under the provisions of this section may be prosecuted to final judgment and recovery in the name of the United States in the district court of the district in which the vessel arrived, or in which the alien seaman was required to depart, upon the failure of such vessel to depart or of such alien seaman to depart in accordance with the terms of the bond, or upon the failure of such alien seaman to report to the immigration officer at the port of arrival when required so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the bond was given the amount of the bond as liquidated damages upon the certification of the fact of such failure by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and the recovery shall inure to the benefit of the immediate transportation without inspection and parole of alien seamen (except those employed on vessels touching at ports of the United States solely for the purpose of taking on board seamen for vessels regularly employed in trade between such ports and foreign ports) who are destined to such ports for the purpose of being employed on board such vessels, and the bonds required of such seamen may be canceled and surrendered after the performance of such service. Upon the recommendation of the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Commerce may, in his discretion, cancel any bond given under the provisions of this section, and may issue in lieu thereof, in accordance with such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, certificates of identity to such seamen, which certificates shall be accepted by immigration officers in lieu of passports for the shipping and discharging of such seamen in the ports of the United States.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the continental territory of the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel departing therefrom within the period for which he was admitted as a temporary visitor, or such additional period or periods as may be granted by the Attorney General, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will result in undue hardship to such seaman or may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is unable to secure the payment of such fine, or any fine that remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the application for remission of such fine, or any fine that remains unpaid, clearance shall not be granted by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the continental territory of the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be found remaining in the United States in violation of any such provision of law, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any master who shall fail to report the illness or hospitalization of any alien seaman, or who shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival any such alien seaman, or who shall fail to detain any such alien seaman on board or at such port of arrival when ordered so to do by the Attorney General, or who shall fail to deliver to the collector of customs any such alien seaman ordered deported, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the liability to payment of such fine, or any fine that remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(e) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on any other vessel on which he may be employed, or who shall depart from the United States within the period for which he was admitted as a temporary visitor, or such additional period or periods as may be granted by the Attorney General, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any master who shall fail to report the illness or hospitalization of any alien seaman, or who shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival any such alien seaman, or who shall fail to detain any such alien seaman on board or at such port of arrival when ordered so to do by the Attorney General, or who shall fail to deliver to the collector of customs any such alien seaman ordered deported, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the liability to payment of such fine, or any fine that remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the application for remission of such fine, or any fine that remains unpaid, clearance shall not be granted by the collector of customs.

(f) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will result in undue hardship to such seaman or may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is unable to secure the payment of such fine, or any fine that remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the application for remission of such fine, or any fine that remains unpaid, clearance shall not be granted by the collector of customs.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any person in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel in which such person arrives to cause him to appear before the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for examination. Such examination shall be made within the following limits of time after the vessel upon which he has taken passage has been admitted to entry: Provided, That in the case of aliens arriving in the United States at ports not designated by the Secretary of Labor as ports of entry, such examination may be made within a reasonable time after the arrival of such aliens at the port of first arrival, to be determined in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor: And provided further, That in the case of aliens coming from foreign contiguous territory, the examination of such aliens may be made at the immigrant station nearest the point of entry, unless for the convenience of the service the Secretary of Labor shall order such examination to be made elsewhere: And provided further, That the physical and mental examination of aliens may be made by civil surgeons of the United States or other persons designated by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, when in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor the services of such surgeons are necessary to secure the prompt examination of incoming aliens, and the certificates of such surgeons as to the physical and mental condition of such aliens shall have the same force and effect as certificates by regularly commissioned medical officers of the United States Public Health Service: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, appoint boards of special inquiry, which shall have power to administer oaths and to take evidence touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, which boards shall be composed of three members, a majority of whom shall be citizens of the United States, and which shall have authority, subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, to determine whether such aliens shall be allowed to enter or shall be excluded and deported, which determination shall be final unless reversed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor. Such boards may be established at such ports or places as the Secretary of Labor may deem necessary and shall consist of such officers or employees of the United States as the Secretary of Labor may designate, except that in the case of the absence from any port of all such officers or employees, or of their inability for any reason promptly to constitute such boards, the Secretary of Labor may appoint special boards of such citizens of the United States as he may deem best qualified for the performance of the duties of such boards, to serve during such absence or inability. Such special boards shall have and exercise the same powers and perform the same duties as boards of special inquiry appointed by officers or employees of the United States. Pending the final determination of any case by a board of special inquiry, the alien concerned may be detained in such manner as may be directed by

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 26. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the ship's company who have ceased to be members thereof, and the reasons therefor, and also as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: and failure to deliver such lists to the principal immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of entry or upon the departure of such alien from the vessel, pending a decision or such alien, forthwith with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and if any alien member of the crew of such vessel shall illegally land from the vessel, during a period in connection with which the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel is required to deliver a list of the crew, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall not be required to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of entry any alien member of the crew who was not employed thereon at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place from which the vessel sailed, but who shall be employed on such vessel during her subsequent voyage, and who shall be discharged from such vessel at some port or place within the United States before the departure of such vessel from such port or place, and who shall be listed on the list of the crew of such vessel when she departs from such port or place, and who shall be reported, with the cause of his discharge from such vessel, to the immigration officer in charge of such port or place at the time of such departure: and also the names of those members of the crew who were left behind in foreign countries, and the reasons therefor, as far as known, and the names, nationality, last known address, and intended destination in the United States of all such persons: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who is prohibited from entering the United States under the provisions of this Act, or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force, shall be liable to the payment of a penalty of $1,000 for each and every such alien, and such vessel shall be liable for the payment of such penalty, and may be libeled therefor in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of the port at which such alien may arrive: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof incurred under the provisions of this Act: Provided further, That no vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while the master refuses to permit any immigration officer to go on board such vessel for the purpose of examining the members of the crew, their effects, and the stores of such vessel, or refuses to answer truthfully such questions as may be propounded to him by such officer in relation to such matters, or refuses to deliver lists of the crew, or any part thereof, or to make oath to such lists when required so to do, or refuses to permit the detention of such persons on board such vessel as may be required by any such officer, or connives at the departure of any such person from such vessel or from the United States contrary to the provisions of this Act, or any other law or treaty now in force or hereafter entered into, or attempts to bring into the United States any person by means of a false certificate or by means of any false or fraudulent representation, or destroys or throws overboard or otherwise disposes of or conceals or attempts to destroy or throw overboard or otherwise dispose of or conceal any evidence in the case of any person sought to be removed from the United States by reason of any of the provisions of this Act, or any other law or treaty now in force or hereafter entered into, or refuses to detain any such person on board or at such port as may be designated by the master of such vessel when directed to do so by any officer of the United States charged with the execution of the provisions of this Act, or any other law or treaty now in force or hereafter entered into, or refuses or fails to comply with any lawful requirement of any such officer, or obstructs any such officer in the performance of his duties, or offers any such officer any bribe, present, or gratuity, or shall be subject to a penalty of $5,000 for each and every violation: Provided, That nothing contained in this section shall be construed to require the detention in the United States of any witness unless his testimony shall be required in a criminal prosecution or proceeding, nor to require the detention pending the prosecution of such proceeding of any person other than the person charged therein with the commission of the offense.

SEC. 150.1. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 26 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 171) have been furnished, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel has been notified by the district director that the lists are complete and correct in all cases in which the vessel has arrived at a port of entry on or after July 1, 1940, and that clearance will not be granted. (54 Stat. 1137; 8 U. S. C. 141(a).) In all cases in which the vessel has arrived at a port of entry prior to July 1, 1940, clearance shall not be granted unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel has been notified by the district director that the lists are complete and correct, or that clearance will be granted without the production of such lists. (54 Stat. 673; 8 U. S. C. 141(b).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employment on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, unless such alien seaman is duly certificated by the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, as a member of the crew of such vessel. Such certificate may be granted only upon the application of such alien seaman, and shall be granted only if such alien seaman is found by the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, to be entitled to admission into the United States solely for the purpose of performing duty as a member of the crew of such vessel, and to depart from the United States with such vessel or on any other vessel within the period of time fixed by the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, and to be not otherwise inadmissible. Such certificate shall be granted only upon the condition that such alien seaman will depart from the United States with such vessel or on any other vessel within such period of time, and upon such other conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, to assure the departure from the United States of such alien seaman with such vessel or on any other vessel within such period of time. Such certificate may be granted only upon the condition that such alien seaman will not land in the United States except temporarily while in transit to or from the vessel, unless specifically permitted to land by the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, and to be not otherwise inadmissible. Such certificate may be granted only upon the condition that such alien seaman will not land in the United States except temporarily while in transit to or from the vessel, unless specifically permitted to land by the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, and to be not otherwise inadmissible. Such certificate may be granted only upon the condition that such alien seaman will not land in the United States except temporarily while in transit to or from the vessel, unless specifically permitted to land by the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, and to be not otherwise inadmissible.

(b) Every alien seaman who has been certificated by the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, to be entitled to admission into the United States solely for the purpose of performing duty as a member of the crew of such vessel, and to depart from the United States with such vessel or on any other vessel within the period of time fixed by the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, and to be not otherwise inadmissible, shall be deemed to have been granted permission to land temporarily in the United States for the purpose of performing such duty, and to depart from the United States with such vessel or on any other vessel within such period of time, and shall be deemed to have been granted permission to land temporarily in the United States while in transit to or from the vessel, unless specifically directed by the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, to be detained on board or at such port as may be designated by the master of such vessel when directed to do so by any officer of the United States charged with the execution of the provisions of this Act, or any other law or treaty now in force or hereafter entered into, or unless prohibited by the terms of any such law or treaty from being granted permission to land temporarily in the United States. (54 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 164.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or any transportation company in the United States engaging in the transportation of such alien from the United States, shall be required to take back to any country which may be designated by the Secretary of Labor any alien who may be excluded from admission to the United States, except nonquota immigrants, or who may be deported under the provisions of this Act, and the cost of the maintenance of such alien while in the United States, and the cost of his transportation shall be borne by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel in which he arrived in the United States, or by the transportation company which brought him to the United States. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, agent, consignee, or owner of which refuses or fails to comply with the requirements of this section. (54 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 164.)

(b) Any person, including any transportation company, bringing into the United States any alien who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders set forth in section 2 of this Act, or any alien who is a member of the class described in section 3 of this Act, shall be required to take back such alien to the country whence he came, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his transportation to such country, unless such alien is admitted to the United States or shall be sooner deported under the provisions of this Act. (54 Stat. 670; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any transportation company, or master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel has failed or refused to take back any alien as required by the Attorney General, or has failed or refused to pay the cost of maintenance and transportation of such alien, such transportation company, master, agent, consignee, or owner shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of the port at which such alien may arrive: Provided, That clearance may be granted such vessel prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, trustee, or lessee of the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival of the vessel on which he arrives in the United States, except temporarily while employed on such vessel, a complete list, or manifest, in the form and containing the information hereinafter specified, of all aliens, including those in transit through the United States to foreign countries, who are on board such vessel, whether they are destined to the United States or not, and such list or manifest shall be subscribed and sworn to before the principal immigration officer, or his assistant, by the master of the vessel, or by the person in charge thereof, and shall be in such form and contain such particulars as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and such additional information relative to such aliens as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor for the enforcement of this Act. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall also deliver to the principal immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place visited by it full and accurate information concerning the removal from the vessel of any alien who may die or disappear from the vessel during the voyage, and the cause of death or disappearance so far as known, and the final disposition of the body of any alien who may die during the voyage. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such list or manifest or such additional information relative to such aliens, or who delivers a list or manifest which he knows to be false or incorrect in any particular, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, and shall also be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien concerning whom any such false statement is made, or who fails to deliver such list or manifest, to be recovered by action in any court of the United States, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, and if the owner, agent, master, or consignee of any such vessel shall refuse to pay such penalty when it is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no clearance shall be granted such vessel, nor shall such vessel be allowed to depart from one port to another in the United States, nor shall the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof be granted clearance for any other vessel, while any such penalty remains unpaid. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (38 Stat. 898, 899; 8 U. S. C. 131.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory and adjacent islands to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 160.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 160.)

(b) Every alien seaman (whether an applicant for a visa or not) arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory shall be examined by a United States immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and no such alien seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for such medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 160.)

(c) Every such alien seaman shall be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to determine whether he belongs to any of the classes of aliens ineligible for admission into the United States, and if he belongs to any such class he shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge pending the determination of the question of the admissibility of such alien seaman. Any such alien seaman may appeal from the decision of the immigration officer in charge to a board of special inquiry, and shall be entitled to be represented by counsel at such hearing before the board of special inquiry. The Attorney General shall have power to prescribe rules and regulations governing the admission and detention of such alien seamen, and the appointment of boards of special inquiry to hear and determine their cases. Pending the final determination of the question of the admissibility of any such alien seaman, the immigration officer in charge may, in his discretion, parole such alien seaman into the United States temporarily under such bond, to be approved by the collector of customs, and such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe, but such alien seaman shall not be allowed to land unless and until he is duly admitted by the immigration officer in charge. Any such alien seaman who is not admitted to the United States shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 160.)

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the contiguous territory and adjacent islands to which he belongs, or to which he is transferred by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be ordered by the Attorney General to depart from the United States, except temporarily for such medical treatment as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 160.)

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 161–162, 28 Stat. 810; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien information (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seeking to depart temporarily from the United States, masters of vessels arriving at the United States from any place outside the Dominion of Canada, Newfoundland, the Republic of Mexico, Cuba, Panama, the Canal Zone, the islands adjacent to the continental United States, and the islands of Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands of the United States, shall, upon the arrival of the vessel at the first port of entry in the United States, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at that port a list containing the names of all aliens seeking to depart temporarily from the United States, whether they are members of the crew or passengers, and the ports at which they intend to land. Masters of vessels departing from the United States shall, upon the departure of the vessel from the last port of call in the United States, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at that port a list containing the names of all aliens seeking to depart temporarily from the United States, whether they are members of the crew or passengers, and the ports at which they intend to land. Masters of vessels shall also deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure from the United States a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel. Similar lists shall be furnished by masters of vessels departing from one port in the United States to another port in the United States, setting forth the names of all aliens employed on such vessel. Masters of vessels shall also deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival in the United States a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel. Masters of vessels shall also deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure from the United States a list containing

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired. He shall be furnished, and he or they shall make oath before such officer to the truth of the matters contained in such lists: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, whenever he deems it necessary, require the filing of such lists in connection with the departure of any vessel, whether arriving in the United States or not, and may prescribe the form thereof. Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report is not made as above provided; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, the vessel shall not be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is not paid, it may be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained to land in the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily while the vessel is in port, and then only under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall be deported in the same manner as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, to the country to which he belongs, or from which he came to the United States, or to the country in which is located the port from which he departed for the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act, or at the option of the master, owner, agent, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, at the expense of such master, owner, agent, or consignee. Before any such alien seaman is granted shore leave he may be required to deposit with the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Secretary of the Treasury, or such officer as they may designate for the purpose, a sum sufficient to cover the cost of his deportation, or to give a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, conditioned upon the return of such alien seaman on board the vessel in which he arrived or some other vessel at the time of her departure. Any such alien seaman who fails to depart on the vessel on board which he arrived or on some other vessel at the time of her departure, unless he has been granted permission to land temporarily by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Secretary of the Treasury, or such officer as they may designate for the purpose, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, to the country to which he belongs, or from which he came to the United States, or to the country in which is located the port from which he departed for the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act, or at the option of the master, owner, agent, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, at the expense of such master, owner, agent, or consignee. Before any such alien seaman is granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of the expenses of his deportation, or pending the deportation of such alien seaman, the master, owner, agent, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States may deposit with the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Secretary of the Treasury, or such officer as they may designate for the purpose, a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the deportation of such alien seaman, or may give a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, conditioned upon the return of such alien seaman on board the vessel in which he arrived or some other vessel at the time of her departure. Any such alien seaman who fails to depart on the vessel on board which he arrived or some other vessel at the time of her departure, unless he has been granted permission to land temporarily by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Secretary of the Treasury, or such officer as they may designate for the purpose, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, to the country to which he belongs, or from which he came to the United States, or to the country in which is located the port from which he departed for the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act, or at the option of the master, owner, agent, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, at the expense of such master, owner, agent, or consignee. Before any such alien seaman is granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of the expenses of his deportation, or pending the deportation of such alien seaman, the master, owner, agent, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States may deposit with the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Secretary of the Treasury, or such officer as they may designate for the purpose, a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, consignee, or agent thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the destination of each alien. Such list shall be prepared in the port of arrival, or last continuous to touch at such port, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival by the master or commanding officer of such vessel, stating as to each alien such information as may be required by the said officer, and such other information in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such vessel shall depart from the port of arrival before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, owner, consignee, or agent to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival and not theretofore reported; and such officer is hereby authorized to administer oaths and take and consider evidence touching the matters required to be reported, recording the same or causing the same to be recorded, and to require the production for such purpose of any books, papers, or documents relating thereto: Provided, That the master, owner, consignee, or agent of any vessel shall not be required to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival any list containing the names of aliens employed on such vessel, departing from any foreign port or place if such list contains the names of all persons employed on such vessel and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the destination of each alien: Provided further, That the master, owner, consignee, or agent of any vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign port or place if such list contains the names of all persons employed on such vessel and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the destination of each alien, except those destined to Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, Panama, the Canal Zone, the United States Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, Guam, Samoa, or the Republic of the Philippines, and except those persons who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of port departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to and discharged, and of those who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, master, consignee, or agent to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General, upon information of the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and upon the certificate of the immigrant inspector at such port, to refuse clearance to such vessel, and upon the issuance of such certificate by the Attorney General the collector of customs shall refuse clearance to such vessel, and such vessel may be seized by any officer of the customs or immigrant inspector and forfeited to the United States in proceedings to be commenced by the United States attorney in the district in which such vessel may be found: Provided, That clearance may be granted such vessel by the collector of customs upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a justice of the peace or other magistrate authorized to administer oaths and take depositions in the district where the master, owner, consignee, or agent of such vessel may be found, that such alien has violated the provisions of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the relationship of such seaman to persons residing in the United States, or by reason of the health of such seaman, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and may grant such alien shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment thereof guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, consignee, or agent thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the destination of each alien. Such list shall be prepared in the port of arrival, or last continuous to touch at such port, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival by the master or commanding officer of such vessel, stating as to each alien such information as may be required by the said officer, and such other information in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such vessel shall depart from the port of arrival before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, owner, consignee, or agent to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival and not theretofore reported; and such officer is hereby authorized to administer oaths and take and consider evidence touching the matters required to be reported, recording the same or causing the same to be recorded, and to require the production for such purpose of any books, papers, or documents relating thereto: Provided, That the master, owner, consignee, or agent of any vessel shall not be required to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival any list containing the names of aliens employed on such vessel, departing from any foreign port or place if such list contains the names of all persons employed on such vessel and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the destination of each alien: Provided further, That the master, owner, consignee, or agent of any vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign port or place if such list contains the names of all persons employed on such vessel and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the destination of each alien, except those destined to Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, Panama, the Canal Zone, the United States Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, Guam, Samoa, or the Republic of the Philippines, and except those persons who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of port departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to and discharged, and of those who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, master, consignee, or agent to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General, upon the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and upon the certificate of the immigrant inspector at such port, to refuse clearance to such vessel, and upon the issuance of such certificate by the Attorney General the collector of customs shall refuse clearance to such vessel, and such vessel may be seized by any officer of the customs or immigrant inspector and forfeited to the United States in proceedings to be commenced by the United States attorney in the district in which such vessel may be found: Provided, That clearance may be granted such vessel by the collector of customs upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a justice of the peace or other magistrate authorized to administer oaths and take depositions in the district where the master, owner, consignee, or agent of such vessel may be found, that such alien has violated the provisions of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the relationship of such seaman to persons residing in the United States, or by reason of the health of such seaman, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and may grant such alien shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment thereof guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens embarked on such vessel, stating the destination, the compensation paid to the ship's company, when and where they were respectively examined and admitted or rejected, and such other information relative thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and shall further deliver to the proper immigration officer at the time of the vessel's departure from the United States lists containing the names of all aliens who have been admitted or detained since the last previous report, and the manner in which they were disposed of: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel may substitute for the lists required by this section the copies of the lists required by the laws of the country from which the vessel sails, if such copies contain substantially the same information concerning each alien as is required by this section: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may in his discretion require the masters of vessels bringing aliens entering the United States pursuant to the provisions of section 3 of this Act to deliver to the immigration officers at the port of arrival lists containing the names of such aliens and such other information concerning each alien as the Commissioner General of Immigration may deem necessary for the proper administration of this Act.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the adjacent islands shall detain on board such vessel all aliens found on board during the inspection of the vessel by the immigration officers, except such aliens as may be specially inspected elsewhere, and such aliens shall not be allowed to land in the United States from such vessel until the inspection officers have completed the inspection of such aliens, whether the decision be favorable or unfavorable as to the right of such aliens to land, and have delivered to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel a certificate stating that the inspection of such aliens has been completed and that the vessel may proceed with respect to such aliens. Such certificate shall be delivered before the departure of the vessel from the port at which the inspection is made, or, in the case of vessels departing between the hours of sunset and sunrise, as soon thereafter as practicable. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to detain on board or deliver for inspection any alien as required by this section shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien as to whom such refusal occurs. Clearance may be withheld pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or any part thereof, and clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just and proper, or may direct the remission of any such fine, or any part thereof, upon the payment of a sum in his discretion not exceeding the amount for which the vessel may be required to be cleared under the provisions of this section. The Attorney General may prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section, as amended, and such rules and regulations shall have the force and effect of law.

(b) Every alien arriving at a port within the United States from any foreign port or place, who is found to be unlawfully in the United States, shall, upon the warrant of the Attorney General, be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, as provided in section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), unless the Attorney General shall decide that deportation to such country would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, or unless the cost of such deportation is, in the opinion of the Attorney General, unreasonably great, or unless such country refuses to accept such alien.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien cannot be effected on the vessel on which he arrived, owing to the refusal of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to receive him on board or to provide for his detention, or for any other reason, the Attorney General may cause such alien to be detained at such place as he may designate, pending the departure of a vessel on which space is available for his deportation, and may cause such alien to be taken to such vessel and deported thereon. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit the cost of such detention, or any part thereof, upon the payment of a sum not exceeding that fixed by the preceding paragraph, or may direct the remission of any such sum or part thereof upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just and proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrants arriving subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(d) Every alien arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, who is found to be unlawfully in the United States, shall, upon the warrant of the Attorney General, be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, as provided in section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), unless the Attorney General shall decide that deportation to such country would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, or unless the cost of such deportation is, in the opinion of the Attorney General, unreasonably great, or unless such country refuses to accept such alien.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien cannot be effected on the vessel on which he arrived, owing to the refusal of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to receive him on board or to provide for his detention, or for any other reason, the Attorney General may cause such alien to be taken to such vessel and deported thereon. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit the cost of such detention, or any part thereof, upon the payment of a sum not exceeding that fixed by the preceding paragraph, or may direct the remission of any such sum or part thereof upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just and proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrants arriving subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(f) Every alien arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, who is found to be unlawfully in the United States, shall, upon the warrant of the Attorney General, be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, as provided in section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), unless the Attorney General shall decide that deportation to such country would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, or unless the cost of such deportation is, in the opinion of the Attorney General, unreasonably great, or unless such country refuses to accept such alien.

(g) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien cannot be effected on the vessel on which he arrived, owing to the refusal of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to receive him on board or to provide for his detention, or for any other reason, the Attorney General may cause such alien to be taken to such vessel and deported thereon. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit the cost of such detention, or any part thereof, upon the payment of a sum not exceeding that fixed by the preceding paragraph, or may direct the remission of any such sum or part thereof upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just and proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrants arriving subsequent to June 2, 1940.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members ports of views (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 150.1. Liens of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master thereof, or his authorized agent, has been notified by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization that the provisions of section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 141), have been complied with, and not then unless notice of intention to file application for a lien on account of wages of any alien employee has been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.2–150.11, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except seamen employed in the service of the United States, and seamen who have been lawfully admitted and are in possession of certificates, issued by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, to the effect that they have been admitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because detained as witnesses in connection with the prosecution of offenses against the United States, or for deportation, or pending decision on appeal. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Panama, or adjacent islands shall be responsible for the payment of the hospital expenses and the burial expenses of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel who becomes ill or injured during a period of one year from the date of the beginning of his employment on board such vessel, and who is found to be suffering from any disease or disability of mind or body which was not known to exist prior to the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port touched at before coming to the United States, and which cannot be detected by customary medical examination, and who is found to be afflicted with such disease or disability at the time of his arrival at the port of first arrival in the United States, or who becomes ill or injured within two hundred and forty hours after such inspection or at any time if he has not been given such inspection, and who is found to be suffering from any such disease or disability which existed prior to the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port touched at before coming to the United States, and which could have been detected by such medical examination: Provided, That the Attorney General is authorized to make such regulations as he may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

(b) Any such alien who is afflicted as aforesaid shall be deported to the country from which he came to the United States, except that if he is a citizen of the United States he shall be entitled to land in the United States, and if he is not a citizen of the United States he may be granted a permit to land in the United States for a period not exceeding one year, upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety, in such sum and upon such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, to indemnify and save harmless the United States and all officers thereof against any charge for the maintenance of such alien, or any part thereof, during a period of five years following the date of the bond. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, require a deposit of cash or bonds of the United States to such amount, not exceeding $1,000, as may be necessary to protect the United States and all officers thereof against any charge for the maintenance of such alien during a period of five years following the date of the bond. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, require additional cash deposits or bonds of the United States if at any time he deems the security previously given inadequate. Upon the payment of the charges for the maintenance of such alien, or upon the deposit of such sum of money or bonds as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, the bond shall be canceled and any moneys deposited shall be returned. Such bonds and moneys deposited shall not be available for the payment of expenses incurred in the maintenance of any alien other than the alien with respect to whom the deposit was made. Deposits of money may be made with the collector of customs.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a master has refused to receive aboard his vessel any alien ordered removed from the United States under the provisions of this section, or that he has failed to detain any such alien on board his vessel or to deliver him to the custody of the proper officer of the immigration service for removal from the United States, or that he has refused to pay the expenses of such detention or removal required by the Secretary of Labor, such master shall pay to the collector of customs a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such expenses, or pending the application to the Attorney General for the remission thereof, but clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such expenses or of a bond with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States in pursuance of the provisions of this section shall be deemed for the purposes of the immigration laws to be a passenger, and shall be subject to such inspection by the immigration officers at the ports at which he may arrive as may be required in the case of other passengers arriving at such ports.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman or the vessel on which he arrived in the United States will cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or granted clearance papers by the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Ink shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of alien members shall not be examined on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the Principal immigration officer at the port. Where an attorney assumes as a "notetaker," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of attorney. American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

(43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a), 101 (c).)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, Bermuda, the Bahama Islands, the Windward Islands, the Leeward Islands, Trinidad, Barbados, or the Panama Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama, shall, before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a manifest, in duplicate, containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, and such other information as may be required by the Attorney General with respect to each alien seaman employed on board such vessel, whether the seaman is signed on the vessel's articles or not, and whether he is employed in the capacity of master, officer, member of the crew, or otherwise. The master shall subscribe and verify the manifest by his oath administered by the immigration officer. Such manifest shall be prepared in such form and contain such additional information relating to alien seamen as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe. The master shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of departure, or at such other time as the Attorney General may by regulation prescribe, a list containing the name of each alien seaman who has been employed on board such vessel since the date of the last preceding manifest, or since the date of the vessel's entry if no such manifest has been delivered, and the reason why each such alien seaman is not to be returned on the vessel. The master shall also report the name of any alien seaman who has deserted or who has been left behind for any cause, and the cause therefor, as soon as discovered. All cases in which such alien seamen have been lawfully landed from the vessel, giving a description of each alien, together with any information likely to lead to the apprehension of any such alien seaman who has deserted, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of all alien seamen who were not employed thereon at the time of the vessel's last port of departure, and the reasons therefor, and the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of entry, and the reasons therefor, shall be reported to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Such reports shall be prepared in such form and contain such additional information relating to alien seamen as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe. The master shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or in case of the absence of the master from the vessel, the person in charge of the vessel, a true copy of the crew list certified by the master to be correct. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom complete and correct information is not furnished as herein required, or in the event such alien is unknown, $10 for each such unknown alien, but not more than $10 shall be imposed in any one case. Clearance may be withheld pending the payment of such penalty, and, in the event such penalty is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no other vessel owned, chartered, or consigned in whole or in part by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be granted clearance. Clearance may be withheld pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty: and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists required, or to report such cases of desertion or failure to secure the departure of any alien, or to pay the penalty within the time prescribed by law, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom complete and correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, or in the event such alien is unknown, $10 for each such unknown alien, but not more than $10 shall be imposed in any one case. If any such master, agent, consignee, or owner fails to report the illness or hospitalization of any alien seaman, or his departure from the United States, or his change in status, as required by section 251 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 151), such alien seaman shall be deemed to have been admitted to the United States in violation of such Act. Any such alien seaman shall be subject to the provisions of section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), unless such alien seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that his failure to depart was occasioned by illness or hospitalization, or by such other cause as may be beyond his control, and that he has not otherwise violated the terms of his admission into the United States as a nonimmigrant. Any such alien seaman who has been granted a period of temporary stay in the United States solely in pursuance of his employment on board a vessel arriving in the United States from a foreign port or place, and who remains in the United States after the departure of such vessel without the consent of the Attorney General, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), as an alien who entered the United States without inspection

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate detention of such alien seamen on board such vessel or at such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, but any such alien seaman shall be entitled to demand and obtain from the United States, (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188).

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign mainland and insular possessions of the United States, or from any port in the Panama Canal Zone, or the port of Balboa, or Cristobal, who fails to detain on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel after such inspection or to deport such seaman if ordered by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do or, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

This section as amended, shall apply to all immigration matters independent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the contiguous territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or land or was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel as the boat is arriving, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens to embark at other ports shall not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien (Form I–418) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "workaway", a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival of such vessel a complete list of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying the ports abroad at which they severally received their certificates of admission to the United States, and the ports in the United States at which they intend to land, and also a complete list of all aliens, together with such information as may be required by the Attorney General, relative to each of such aliens, at the time of the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival; or in case information is received by the principal immigration officer at any time prior to the departure of such vessel from the foreign port, of the presence on board of any alien seaman, or of the intention of any alien seaman to land in the United States, such information shall be communicated to the master of such vessel, who shall thereupon deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien seaman, owner, consignee, or master of such vessel is about to land in the United States, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification as may be required by the Attorney General. Any master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival, or immediately before the departure of such vessel from the foreign port, the list required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to report to such immigration officer any alien employee who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse or neglect to furnish such information in regard to any such alien employee as may be required by the Attorney General, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien employee in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer authorized to grant clearance papers in the case of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place until the master thereof has delivered to such immigration officer the list required by this section, and has furnished such information in regard to the persons named therein as may be required by the Attorney General, and has obtained from such immigration officer a certificate stating that the master has complied fully with the requirements of this section. Such certificate shall be delivered by the master to the collector of customs before clearance papers are granted to the vessel. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such certificate of compliance with respect to any alien seaman, and thereupon such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States from any foreign port or place until a permit so to do has been granted to him by the Attorney General or such person as he may designate for the purpose, which permit may be granted upon the production of such certificate of identification as the Attorney General may require. Any master who shall land or permit to be landed any alien seaman in violation of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman so landed, and such alien seaman may be arrested without warrant and deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States during the time his vessel is in port, without having been inspected by the immigration officers at the port of arrival, and who shall not have been certified by them to the collector of customs, may be arrested without warrant and deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any foreign port or place, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention on board the vessel, or who shall remain in the United States after the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, including a seaplane or other aircraft, may be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or because the Attorney General may prescribe for the alleviation of the distress of such alien, from the vessel arriving in the United States or from any place outside thereof, or until such alien shall have been granted an immigrant visa and admitted to the United States for permanent residence, and any such alien who lands in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155, 156).

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who knowingly brings to the United States any alien seaman (master, member of the crew, or other person employed or engaged to serve on board the vessel) who is excluded from admission into the United States under section 13 of this Act, shall pay a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien seaman, and in addition, shall be liable for the full amount of any expenses incurred by the Government in connection with the maintenance, inspection, and deportation of such alien seaman. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel upon which such alien seaman arrived pending the payment of the penalty imposed by this section, or the filing of a bond therefor satisfactory to the Attorney General, but clearance may be granted prior to the payment of such penalty or the filing of such bond if the master of such vessel deposits with the collector of customs at the port of arrival a sum sufficient in the opinion of the Attorney General to cover such penalty, or to furnish a bond sufficient to cover such penalty and approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing received prior to the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, remit or cancel any such penalty or bond, or any part thereof, if he is satisfied that the vessel has arrived at the port of destination without having landed such alien seaman in violation of this section, or that such alien seaman was a stowaway and was discovered after the vessel had departed from the port of arrival, or that such alien seaman was forced to land by reason of illness, injury, or other cause deemed sufficient by the Attorney General, or that such alien seaman was allowed to land temporarily by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the purpose of receiving medical treatment, or that such alien seaman was duly discharged in a foreign port, or that it was impossible to prevent the landing of such alien seaman, or that such alien seaman was not employed on board the vessel upon which he arrived in the United States or on board any vessel upon which he was employed when such vessel departed from a foreign port for the United States, or that such alien seaman was not a member of the crew of any vessel on which he arrived in the United States or that the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States was not bound for a port in the United States at the time such alien seaman landed in the United States, or that such alien seaman was in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, or that such alien seaman is not a native, citizen, subject, or resident of a country which is at war with the country of which the vessel is a citizen or subject, or that such alien seaman is not destined to a country which is at war with the country of which the vessel is a citizen or subject, or that the vessel is not destined to a port in a country which is at war with the country of which the vessel is a citizen or subject, or that such alien seaman is destined to a port in the United States for the purpose of settling therein, or that such alien seaman is a bona fide member of a labor organization which has been recognized by the Secretary of Labor as representing seamen employed in the trade in which such alien seaman is employed, or that such alien seaman is a citizen of a country which has a treaty with the United States guaranteeing to citizens of such country the right to enter the United States solely to perform services in the capacity in which such alien seaman arrived, or that such alien seaman is a citizen of a country which has a treaty with the United States guaranteeing to citizens of such country the right to enter the United States to carry on trade between such country and the United States, and solely to perform services in the capacity in which such alien seaman arrived, or that such alien seaman is a citizen of a country which has a treaty with the United States guaranteeing to citizens of such country the right to enter the United States to develop and direct the operations of an enterprise in which he has invested a substantial amount of capital, and solely to perform services in the capacity in which such alien seaman arrived, or that such alien seaman is a citizen of a country which has a treaty with the United States guaranteeing to citizens of such country the right to enter the United States to engage in supervisory or executive work for an enterprise in which he has invested a substantial amount of capital, and solely to perform services in the capacity in which such alien seaman arrived, or that such alien seaman is a citizen of a country which has a treaty with the United States guaranteeing to citizens of such country the right to enter the United States to engage in technical work for an enterprise in which he has invested a substantial amount of capital, and solely to perform services in the capacity in which such alien seaman arrived, or that such alien seaman is a citizen of a country which has a treaty with the United States guaranteeing to citizens of such country the right to enter the United States to engage in research work for an educational institution, and solely to perform services in the capacity in which such alien seaman arrived, or that such alien seaman is a citizen of a country which has a treaty with the United States guaranteeing to citizens of such country the right to enter the United States

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury requiring immediate hospital treatment, or for such time as may be necessary to enable the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel to which the alien seaman belongs to secure another seaman in his place, or for such time as may be necessary to enable such alien seaman to make application for and secure a visa if he be entitled to one under this Act or to secure from the consul of the country to which he belongs a certificate that he is entitled to admission to his own country without a visa: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit any such alien seaman employed on board any vessel duly arriving at the port of entry to land temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment, under such regulations as he may prescribe, without the payment of the tax prescribed by section 18 of this Act, but no such alien seaman shall be issued a permit to land temporarily unless a certificate from a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service has been presented stating that in his opinion the proposed landing is not prejudicial to the public health or safety of the United States and specifying the length of time and the hospital or other place where such treatment is to be given: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman employed on board any vessel which shall have been in the service of the United States Government during the war of the rebellion, or in favor of any alien seaman who has served for the period of one year or more on board any vessel of the United States Government

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, H.L. Hoffman, Master of the American oil\screw P.E. TUXTOX, do depose and state that the investigation is a full and true list of all the crew provided in said vessel from and port or place during ten previous voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 14 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

Sworn to before me this 5th day of August, 1924.

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens must be prepared in duplicate, typewritten, and a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens entering the United States, a separate list must be made for each class mentioned in the following schedule:

List A. Aliens in immediate transit through the United States.
List B. Aliens destined to Canada.
List C. Aliens destined to Mexico.
List D. Aliens entering for permanent residence in the United States.
List E. Aliens entering for temporary residence in the United States.
List F. Aliens who are members of the crew.

Each list must be made out in duplicate, and the two copies must be exactly alike. Care must be taken to see that the name of each alien is correctly spelled, and that the initials of given names are not substituted for the names in full. Women must be listed separately from men. Infants in arms must be entered as children, and the sex must be indicated in the proper column. Ages must be given in years, and if an alien is less than one year old the age must be stated in months. Each alien must be assigned a line, and the consecutive numbers in column 1 must be carried down from one sheet to another. Do not begin a new series of numbers for each sheet.

Column 2. Enter the name and complete address (including street and number, if any) of the person who has paid the head tax of the alien or who has the means and intention of paying it. If the head tax is paid by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel, or by a transportation company, enter "Master," "Agent," "Owner," "Consignee," or "Transportation Company," as the case may be. If the head tax is paid by the alien himself, enter "Self."

Column 3. Enter the full name of each alien, including surname and given names in full. Do not use initials for any part of the name.

Column 4. Enter the age of each alien at his last birthday prior to sailing. If under 1 year old, enter age in months, as "6 mos." or "8 mos."

Column 5. Enter "M" for male or "F" for female.

Column 6. Enter "S" for single or "M" for married.

Column 7. Enter the calling or occupation of each alien. If a child, state "child." If a woman, state whether "housewife" or not. If a man, state whether farmer, laborer, servant, merchant, or other class. Do not enter "gentleman" unless the person has been such for at least two years and has no occupation.

Column 8. Enter the name of the country of which each alien is a citizen or subject. Use the present name of the country. Do not enter "Austria-Hungary," "Russia," "Turkey," or "Great Britain," but enter the particular country, as "Austria," "Hungary," "Bohemia," "Croatia," "Russia," "Finland," "Turkey," "Armenia," "Syria," "England," "Scotland," "Wales," or "Ireland."

Column 9. Enter the last foreign residence of each alien, using the name of the country as directed in column 8. If the last residence was in a city, state the city and country.

Column 10. Enter the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend whom the alien intends to join in the United States. If going to join a relative, state the relationship, as "father," "mother," "husband," "wife," "child," "brother," "sister," "uncle," "aunt," "cousin," "grandfather," "grandmother," "friend," etc. If going to a friend, state "friend." If going to a person or firm, state "employer," "agent," "firm," "company," "corporation," etc., as the case may be.

Column 11. Enter the name and complete address of the person in the United States who paid the passage of each alien, whether by prepayment or by purchase of ticket. If the passage was paid by the alien himself, enter "Self."

Column 12. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien has a ticket to his destination beyond the port of arrival. If the ticket is only to the port of arrival, enter "No."

Column 13. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien has money in his possession sufficient to pay his way to his destination beyond the port of arrival. If he has less than $50, enter the amount he has.

Column 14. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien has been in the United States before. If he has been in the United States, state the number of times and the last year.

Column 15. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien has been in prison or in almshouse or asylum, or supported by charity. If he has been in any of these institutions, state which institution and how long he was there.

Column 16. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is coming to join a husband, wife, father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, cousin, or other relative. If he is coming to join a relative, state the relationship.

Column 17. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is in good health, mentally and physically, so far as can be determined by you.

Column 18. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a polygamist, or practices polygamy, or believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such a belief or advocating such overthrow of force or violence, or advocates the unlawful destruction of property.

Column 19. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien has a ticket through to his destination beyond the port of arrival, and whether the ticket was purchased in the United States or abroad.

Column 20. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is coming under contract, express or implied, made previous to sailing, to perform labor in the United States, and state the nature of the contract.

Column 21. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien has been deported at any time previous to this arrival, and state the cause for deportation.

Column 22. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is an anarchist.

Column 23. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is coming to the United States to perform any specific kind of work for any person, company, partnership, corporation, or other employer.

Column 24. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a professional beggar, vagrant, or person likely to become a public charge.

Column 25. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is under 16 years of age and, if so, whether unaccompanied by parent or guardian.

Column 26. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is coming to the United States in pursuance of any prearranged plan of colonization.

Column 27. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person of constitutional psychopathic inferiority.

Column 28. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been convicted of or admits having committed a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude.

Column 29. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose.

Column 30. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is an epileptic, or a person who has been insane within five years previous to the time of application for admission to the United States.

Column 31. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has had one or more attacks of insanity at any time previous to coming to the United States.

Column 32. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been within a year a pauper or has been supported by charitable institutions.

Column 33. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been deported as an assisted alien.

Column 34. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been deported as an alien who has been convicted and sentenced to imprisonment for a period of one year or more.

Column 35. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been deported as an alien who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude.

Column 36. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been deported as an alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the law relating to the traffic in narcotic drugs.

Column 37. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been deported as an alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the law relating to the traffic in white slaves.

Column 38. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been deported as an alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the law relating to the importation, manufacture, or sale of intoxicating liquors.

Column 39. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been deported as an alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the law relating to the importation, manufacture, or sale of opium or other habit-forming drugs.

Column 40. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been deported as an alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the law relating to the importation, manufacture, or sale of firearms or other weapons.

Column 41. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been deported as an alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the law relating to the importation, manufacture, or sale of explosives.

Column 42. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been deported as an alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the law relating to the importation, manufacture, or sale of counterfeit or other fraudulent instruments for the purpose of defrauding the United States.

Column 43. Enter "Yes" or "No" to show whether each alien is a person who has been deported as an alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the law relating to the importation, manufacture, or sale of any kind of slot machine or gambling device designed for the use of money or other property.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless such alien seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is entitled to be admitted as a nonquota immigrant under section 4 of the immigration act of 1924, or is a bona fide alien seaman who intends to depart from the United States upon the vessel on which he arrived or upon some other vessel within a period of time commensurate with the ordinary business of such alien seaman in connection with his vessel, but not exceeding four months, and who is in possession of a valid passport viséed by the consular officer having charge of the port at which such alien seaman intends to land, or by the consular officer having charge of the port at which such vessel is scheduled to call first after the arrival of such alien seaman at the port of entry, or by the consular officer having charge of the port at which such alien seaman last departed from a foreign country, and who is in possession of a valid seaman's identity certificate issued by the country of which he is a national, or, if he is a native of a country which does not issue such certificates, a valid passport viséed by the consular officer having charge of the port at which such alien seaman last departed from a foreign country. Such alien seaman shall be required to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel within the period of time for which he was admitted, unless prevented from so doing by reason of illness or shipwreck, or other cause beyond his control, which shall be duly reported and proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor. Such alien seaman who fails to depart with the vessel on which he arrived or within the period of time for which he was admitted, unless prevented from so doing by reason of illness or shipwreck, or other cause beyond his control, which shall be duly reported and proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), upon the warrant and at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, unless the Secretary of Labor shall require the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel to deposit with the collector of customs a bond in such amount, not exceeding $300, as he may deem sufficient to insure compliance with this requirement. Such alien seaman who departs from the United States on a vessel other than that on which he arrived, or who departs

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall cause each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or to whom it is granted such permission to land temporarily, to deliver to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $18.00 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same.

(b) This section, as amended, shall apply to all seamen signing articles or commencing employment at a port in the United States after June 2, 1940.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 418; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That now arriving alien of the race in the United States from the foreign port to there if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped, and the intended final destination of each alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification as the inspector may require. Any master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the first port of arrival in the United States, or who shall willfully and knowingly report falsely or fraudulently in such lists the name or the number of any alien employed on board his vessel, or who shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector to go on board his vessel for the purpose of examining the same, or who shall refuse to deliver to the proper immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival the lists required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully questions propounded to him by such inspector touching the names, ages, nationality, last residence, calling, and destination of each alien employed on board his vessel, or who shall refuse to detain any alien employed on board his vessel when required to do so by such inspector, or who shall refuse to allow such inspector to go on board his vessel for the purpose of detaining any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall land or permit to land any alien employed on board his vessel at any port in the United States without having first obtained a permit from the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, except as provided in section 18 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed or permitted to land. (39 Stat. 1064; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deposit with the collector of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such master (which inspection is to be made on board such vessel unless the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for inspection shall otherwise direct) or on board such vessel after inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer, to which (a) shall be added the cost of maintenance of such seaman while detained, which shall be determined by such immigration officer, and such sum shall be paid to the collector of customs before such vessel shall be granted clearance papers. Any such master who shall refuse or neglect to deposit such sum or to detain on board such alien seaman if required by such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer, or who shall fail to detain such seaman for the purpose of testifying in any case in which the United States is a party, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Any master who shall refuse or neglect to report the departure of any seaman who has been required as a witness in any case in which the United States is a party, or who shall refuse to make oath to the truth of the statements contained in the report concerning such seaman, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such refusal or neglect. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who shall have been certified by the consular officer at the port from which such seaman departed as a distressed seaman, nor to any seaman who shall have been duly discharged and paid off according to the shipping laws of the United States, nor to any seaman who shall have been left behind at a foreign port for hospital treatment, nor to any seaman who shall have been forcibly detained on board against his will at the time the vessel left port, nor to any seaman who shall establish to the satisfaction of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival that he has become insane, or that he has been left behind at a foreign port because of sickness or injury and is incapable of being removed without danger to his life at the time the vessel leaves port, nor to any seaman who shall establish to the satisfaction of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival that he has been compelled to leave the vessel because of illness of himself or wife or child actually dependent upon him for support and that he intends to return to the vessel's port of departure within a period of one year from the date of his departure, nor to any seaman who shall establish to the satisfaction of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival that he has been taken from the vessel by the immigration officers at the request of the master of such vessel and that the master has refused to allow such seaman to return to the vessel, nor to any seaman who shall establish to the satisfaction of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival that he has been refused readmission to the vessel by the master thereof at the request of the immigration officers at the port of departure, and has been left behind for that reason, nor to any seaman who shall establish to the satisfaction of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival that he has been refused adm

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be taken from the vessel's documentary papers. It shall be in duplicate, typewritten or printed in ink, and shall not be folded. Each person on board (even a child in arms) must be entered on the list, and the entries must be numbered consecutively, beginning with 1 and ending with the last person on board. No additions may be made to the list after it has been visaed by the immigration officer at the port of departure, except that the name of a person who dies after the list is visaed must be stricken out. The list or lists must be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. If there is more than one vessel arriving at the same time, the lists must be numbered consecutively, beginning with the list of the vessel carrying the largest number of persons.

The master must certify to the correctness of the list and sign it in the space provided on the last page. He must also indicate on the list the number of persons in each of the following classes: (1) citizens of the United States; (2) aliens lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence who are in possession of unexpired immigrant visas; EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the position then occupied by each alien employed in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and the capacity in which they intend to land in the United States, which list shall be subscribed and sworn to before such immigration officer, or before a consular officer of the United States in the country from which the vessel sails, by the master thereof, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before any of the passengers shall be landed therefrom, and a further list shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of departure before the departure of any such vessel, setting forth any additions to the list of aliens previously reported and the reasons for the departure from the United States of any such aliens, and such further lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of departure before the departure of any such vessel if aliens are employed on board. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse to deliver any list required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge and belief any question touching the list of aliens employed on board such vessel propounded to him by any immigration officer, or who shall refuse to such immigration officer access to the vessel for the purpose of examining the list of aliens employed on board such vessel, or who shall refuse to such immigration officer the means, information, and facilities necessary for the verification of such list, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which such port is located a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished, and in addition thereto such vessel shall not be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty; but no such vessel shall be granted clearance while it remains during such determination detained by reason of the failure to furnish such information, or by reason of the refusal to permit such immigration officer access to such vessel for the purpose of verifying such list, unless a bond with sufficient surety in such sum as the collector of customs may require, not exceeding $300 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished, conditioned for the payment of such penalty as may be incurred, while it remains pending, not shall such vessel be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty. (39 Stat. 890, 891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 15.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative unit prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 169) pertaining to such vessel, the aggregate specified in §§ 10.13–10.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, until the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel furnishes a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, remit such fine, or any part thereof, upon the payment of such sum as he may deem reasonable, not to exceed $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the direction shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of the date of their entry into the United States.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States as master, officer, or member of the crew on which he arrived in the United States, or to obtain other employment with the approval of the Attorney General and the immigration officer in charge of the port, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act, unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise recommend. Deportation shall be to the country whence such alien came, or to the country of which he is a subject, citizen, or denizen, as the Secretary of Labor may direct. Any alien seaman who shall be deported in pursuance of law and who at the time of deportation has in his possession or has deposited with the master of the vessel on which he arrived money in excess of $10 shall be entitled to receive from the master of such vessel the amount of such excess at the time of his departure from the United States. Any such money not delivered to such alien seaman by the master of such vessel shall be paid into the Treasury and shall be covered into the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken ashore by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate examination is authorized, the master will deliver the lists to the officer in charge at the alternate station.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel when she leaves port. Such lists shall be in such form and contain such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe, and after the arrival of the vessel it shall be the duty of the master to deliver to such immigration officer a complete list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, and specifying the additions thereto and changes therein which may have occurred since the sailing of the vessel from the last foreign port at the time of the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, and a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension as may be required by the Attorney General. Blank forms for such immigration officers in charge of the ports of entry shall be furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. The list or manifest of aliens shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department, and shall in no instance be taken by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate examination is authorized, the master will deliver the lists to the officer in charge at the alternate station.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the Immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such alien from the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken ashore by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate examination is authorized by the Attorney General as the alternate station, the master will deliver the lists to the officer in charge at the alternate station.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign owned alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), to arrive at the port of arrival and inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), to pay to the collector of customs a tax of $8 for each alien seaman so inspected, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such tax, or while the tax remains unpaid, except that clearance shall be granted upon the deposit of such amount with the collector of customs as may be necessary to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or cancel such bond. Such tax shall be in addition to any other tax or charge imposed by law. No vessel shall be granted clearance until such tax has been paid or bond given therefor. Any person, including masters of vessels, who shall violate the provisions of this section, upon such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all seamen who may arrive in the United States on vessels on which the provisions of section 18 of the Act of February 5, 1917, are applicable.

(b) Proof that any alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such seaman to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and no such seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States from such vessel, unless the master shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such seaman has been lawfully detained on shore, has been returned to the vessel on which he arrived, or has been taken on board a vessel about to depart from the United States with the intention of carrying him to the country to which such vessel belongs, or to the country in which he shipped, and that such vessel has sailed therefor, or that such seaman has been paid or is entitled to be paid the full wages due him.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the fact that such vessel has been sold foreign, and that such seaman has been employed on such vessel for a period of at least six months prior to the date of such sale, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, permit such seaman to depart from the United States on any other vessel.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, or for such other reasons as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, to be certified by the master of the vessel, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board the vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all beneficial alien shipowners on and after January 1, 1925.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be found upon the vessel by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper, and such vessel shall not be cleared pending such deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel or which he arrived, but such seaman shall be detained on board or at the expense of the vessel at the option of the master, and such vessel shall be cleared upon the deposit with the Attorney General of a sum sufficient to pay the passage and expenses and meet bond to its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That aliens arriving at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens embarked or undertaking those to be taken on board and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens, which lists shall be delivered to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered. All cases in which any such alien has been landed, concealed, or unable to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, to the duly authorized immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be reported by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel in which such alien arrived at such port. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, remit any fine or any part thereof incurred under the provisions of this section, and may, upon such remission, discharge any person imprisoned for violation of this section. Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, alter, or affect the provisions of section 8 of the Act of March 3, 1893 (27 Stat. 570), as amended by the Act of August 18, 1894 (28 Stat. 390), relating to the importation of aliens under contract or agreement to perform labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than an inspected passenger vessel, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than an inspected passenger vessel, shall be detained at the port of arrival for medical examination by the medical officer at the port of arrival and inspection by immigration officers, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel (Form I-418) shall not be required to detain the vessel for such medical examination or inspection, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a "workaway," a position to that effect should be listed on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection at ports of entry, multiple names of alternate citizen seamen as well as aliens

SEC. 36. That aliens arriving at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens embarked on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and when and where they are to be landed or discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens, which lists shall be delivered to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered. All cases in which any such alien has been landed, concealed, or unable to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, to the duly authorized immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be reported by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel in which such alien arrived at such port. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, remit any fine or any part thereof incurred under the provisions of this section, and may, upon such remission, discharge any person imprisoned for violation of this section. Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, alter, or affect the provisions of section 8 of the Act of March 3, 1893 (27 Stat. 570), as amended by the Act of August 18, 1894 (28 Stat. 390), relating to the importation of aliens under contract or agreement to perform labor.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel when required so to do by the immigration officer at the port of arrival.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship or endanger the safety of persons or property on board such vessel, he may permit the alien seaman to depart on any vessel other than a vessel of the nationality of the alien seaman, or on the vessel on which he arrived, but such permission shall not be granted without the written consent of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived, and such agreement shall not be terminated by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel without the written consent of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 746; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens required to be delivered to such immigration officer at the port of arrival shall not be altered, changed, added to or erased in any manner whatsoever except by the alien himself, under the supervision of such immigration officer, and then only in accordance with such additional instructions as may be issued by the Department of Labor. Words in brackets appearing as a "footnote," a deletion to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of the list of aliens (Form 1) this shall not be destroyed or mutilated, but shall be delivered by the master to the proper immigration officer at the port at which the vessel is to be inspected.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That aliens arriving at any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if unable to produce the certificate of examination by the proper immigration officer as provided in section 16 of this Act, or if found upon examination by such officer to be suffering from any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in section 16 of this Act, shall be detained on board or at such place in connection with the port of arrival as the immigration officer in charge may direct, until the question of the admissibility of such aliens to land has been determined, but such detention shall not exceed the period allowed by section 16 of this Act for the physical and mental examination of aliens after arrival, except in cases certified to the Secretary of Labor by the medical officer in charge of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival, setting forth specific reasons why such aliens should be detained for special observation. The cost of such detention and of the maintenance of such aliens during detention shall be borne by the owners of the vessels bringing them to the United States, and in default of payment such cost may be recovered from any moneys due or belonging to such owners, agents, consignees, or masters in the possession of the immigration officers, or may be recovered in any suit at law against any such owners, agents, consignees, or masters: Provided, That no such detention shall be required in the case of aliens in transit through the United States to foreign countries, if they are in possession of through tickets and are destined to and admissible at such foreign countries, and if they present such certificates from the consular officers of such countries as the Secretary of Labor may require.

SEC. 150.15 Date of alien employee; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the immigration officer in charge has been notified by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel that the date of departure of each alien employee has been determined. Such notification shall be given at least 24 hours prior to the departure of the vessel, unless the immigration officer in charge waives such notification. Clearance may be granted prior to the expiration of the 24 hours upon receipt of notification that the alien employee has been granted permission to depart. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the immigration officer in charge has been notified that the master has complied with the requirements of section 36 of the Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 1211), relative to the deportation of aliens employed on board. Clearance may be refused any vessel which has on board any alien employee who has been ordered deported from the United States, pending the final determination of the question of deportation, unless a deposit sufficient to cover the cost of maintenance of such alien employee while detained, as determined by the immigration officer in charge, has been made with the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel. Where the cost of maintenance of such alien employee is in excess of $10 for each alien employee, security must be given to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge before clearance will be granted. Clearance may be refused any vessel which has on board any alien employee who has been ordered deported from the United States, pending the final determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms obtained by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel in the port of arrival, and after the arrival of the vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at. Any person not appearing on such list, or in respect to whom a defective statement is made, may be detained for further examination and inquiry to ascertain whether he is subject to exclusion under the immigration laws. The list of passengers of alien immigrants required to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I-420) shall not be destroyed or mutilated, but shall be delivered by the master to the attending immigration officer at the port of arrival. "Alien immigrant" is defined as "any person, except a bona fide tourist, business visitor, or temporary visitor coming to the United States solely for pleasure, instruction, medical treatment, or business, and who has a residence in a foreign country which he has no intention of abandoning, and who is not coming to the United States to perform skilled or unskilled labor for hire, and who is admissible under the immigration laws and regulations."

as shall not be granted clearance until such expenses are paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

transfer to such seaman to such other vessel or route as may be designated by the master or owner, and such vessel or route shall be granted clearance by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may order such seaman detained on board or on land at the expense of the vessel or master pending transfer.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel or master by arrival would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the time required for his deportation or the lack of suitable accommodations for his detention on board, the master or owner of the vessel shall deposit with the Attorney General the sum of $10 for each alien seaman to be detained on board or on land at the expense of the vessel or master pending such deportation, and such sum shall be refunded to the master or owner of the vessel upon the departure of such seaman from the United States, or upon such seaman's being admitted to the United States, or upon such seaman's being otherwise lawfully accorded a status under the immigration laws. Such sum shall not be refunded in the case of any seaman who has been granted voluntary departure under section 244(e) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended (8 U.S.C. 1254(e)).

(d) Every alien seaman who does not depart with the vessel on which he arrived shall be detained in the custody of the master or owner of the vessel pending the completion of his physical and mental examination by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service and the taking of such action as may be necessary to ascertain whether he is subject to exclusion from admission to the United States under any provision of the immigration laws. Such detention shall be at the expense of the vessel or master and shall be terminated whenever the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall be satisfied that the alien seaman will not become a public charge and that his detention is unnecessary for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Such detention shall not exceed five days unless the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall determine that additional detention is necessary for the enforcement of the immigration laws or because of the lack of suitable accommodations for the alien seaman on board or on land at the expense of the master or owner of the vessel, in which case such detention may be continued for such additional period as may be necessary for the purpose, not to exceed sixty days unless the Attorney General in his discretion authorizes detention for a longer period. Such detention shall be terminated whenever the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is satisfied that the alien seaman will not become a public charge and that his detention is unnecessary for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Such detention shall not prevent the granting to any alien seaman detained on board or on land at the expense of the master or owner of the vessel of a temporary visa and parole into the United States for the period of his detention, pursuant to the provisions of section 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended (8 U.S.C. 1182(d)(5)), when such alien seaman has been certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival as not having a communicable disease, and has been found not to be inadmissible under any provision of the immigration laws other than section 212(a)(14) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended (8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(14)), and not to be subject to detention under any provision of the immigration laws or regulations. Any alien seaman who has been granted a temporary visa and parole into the United States pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be required to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or on any other vessel or aircraft departing for a foreign port or place, unless prior to the departure of such vessel or aircraft the alien seaman has been granted an extension of his temporary visa and parole by the district director in charge of the port of arrival or has been granted a change to any other nonimmigrant classification. Any alien seaman who fails to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or on any other vessel or aircraft departing for a foreign port or place, unless he has been granted an extension of his temporary visa and parole or a change to any other nonimmigrant classification, may be taken into custody and deported in accordance with the provisions of section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended (8 U.S.C. 1252). Any alien seaman who has been granted parole into the United States under the provisions of this section and who is required to obtain a passport and visa when coming to the United States, and who has been granted parole for the period of time required for him to obtain a passport and visa, but who fails to depart from the United States at the end of such period of time, shall be considered to have remained in the United States in violation of law.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival or place contiguous to such port. When an alien seaman is to be landed in the United States from any vessel arriving at a seaport, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and when and at what port they intend to be paid off. Such list shall be delivered before the vessel is granted entry, and a supplemental list shall be delivered in like manner of any such seamen employed after the vessel's entry and before her departure. Upon the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has deserted the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel, if such alien has been employed on board thereof, to retain such alien on board until the departure of the vessel from the port, unless such alien shall have been lawfully discharged, and to deliver such alien to any immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the port, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to replace those discharged; and if any such vessel shall depart from the port without having complied with the duties imposed upon the master by this section, or without having delivered to such immigration officer all such aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall have been theretofore employed thereon, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to replace those discharged; and if any such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to whom any penalty attaches under the provisions of this section shall depart from the port of arrival before the same is paid, it shall be the duty of any such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to depart either of the latter of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be found the amount of such penalty, and the vessel of such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty; and in the event such penalty is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no such vessel, nor any other vessel owned in whole or in part by the owner of such vessel, shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty. (38 Stat. 866, 867; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, or the Panama Islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for the purpose of applying for a visa and examination by a consular officer, and in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, for such time and under such conditions as he may prescribe, pending the decision on such application, and if found to be admissible, shall be granted a landing certificate valid for such period of time as may be necessary for the seaman to depart on the vessel on which he arrived or on any other vessel leaving from the same port, or for such further period of time as may be authorized by the Secretary of Labor in his discretion, but not to exceed twelve months from the date of such landing certificate, and upon the departure of such seaman from the United States within the time limited in such landing certificate the same shall be surrendered to the master of the vessel on which such seaman departs, and by him delivered to the immigration officer at the port of departure. Any such seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States within the time limited in such landing certificate shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, irrespective of the time limitations specified in such sections. Any such seaman who shall depart from the United States within the time limited in such landing certificate shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, irrespective of the time limitations specified in such sections. Any such seaman who shall depart from the United States within the time limited in such landing certificate shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, irrespective of the time limitations specified in such sections.

SEC. 36. That alien seamen arriving at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place if destined for the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival or place contiguous to such port, and prior to the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival or place contiguous to such port of such vessel, a complete list of all alien seamen employed on board thereof, which list shall contain the names of all such seamen, their nationality, last foreign port from which they were respectively shipped or engaged, and when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and when and at what port they intend to be paid off. Such list shall be delivered before the vessel is granted entry, and a supplemental list shall be delivered in like manner of any such seamen employed after the vessel's entry and before her departure. Upon the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has deserted the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel, if such alien has been employed on board thereof, to retain such alien on board until the departure of the vessel from the port, unless such alien shall have been lawfully discharged, and to deliver such alien to any immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the port, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to replace those discharged; and if any such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to whom any penalty attaches under the provisions of this section shall depart from the port of arrival before the same is paid, it shall be the duty of any such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to depart either of the latter of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be found the amount of such penalty, and the vessel of such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty; and in the event such penalty is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no such vessel, nor any other vessel owned in whole or in part by the owner of such vessel, shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty. That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (38 Stat. 866, 867; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deboarding of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(b) Every alien seaman who has been granted temporary admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone, or between ports of the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detainment by order of the Attorney General, under such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe, for the duration of the vessel's stay in port, or for a period not to exceed 29 days, whichever is shorter, unless such alien seaman is certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to be suffering from a communicable disease specified in section 34 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 137), or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be afflicted with any mental disease or defect which will affect his ability to earn a living, or unless such alien seaman is certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to be suffering from any disease in a communicable stage, or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. C. 136), or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 23 of the Act of May 22, 1918 (40 Stat. 559; 8 U. S. C. 155), or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1903 (32 Stat. 1214; 8 U. S. C. 137), or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 201), or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 2 of the Act of June 21, 1929 (45 Stat. 1009; 8 U. S. C. 202), or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 3 of the Act of March 4, 1929 (45 Stat. 1551; 8 U. S. C. 203), or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 4 of the Act of June 29, 1932 (47 Stat. 382; 8 U. S. C. 204), or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 5 of the Act of June 28, 1937 (50 Stat. 314; 8 U. S. C. 205), or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 2 of the Act of October 16, 1918 (40 Stat. 1012; 8 U. S. C. 156), or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 1 of the Act of May 14, 1937 (50 Stat. 203; 8 U. S. C. 213), or unless such alien seaman is found by the Attorney General to be a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 2 of the Act of October 14, 1940 (54 Stat. 1137; 8 U. S. C. 214).

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $30 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty or any part thereof if he is satisfied that such alien seaman was a member of the crew of the vessel at the time of its departure from the United States and that reasonable efforts were made to prevent the desertion of such alien seaman, or that the failure of such alien seaman to arrive was due to sickness or accident or other cause beyond the control of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all foreign seamen arriving subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(d) Every alien seaman who has been granted temporary admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone, or between ports of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detainment by order of the Attorney General, under such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe, for the duration of the vessel's stay in port, or for a period not to exceed 29 days, whichever is shorter, unless such alien seaman is certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to be suffering from a communicable disease specified in section 34 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the sole purpose of transit through the United States in immediate and continuous passage in pursuance of a bona fide contract or engagement to depart on board the vessel which brought him to the United States, or on board some other vessel, or by some other means, departing from the United States within such period as may be fixed by the Attorney General, and subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, and to such guaranty of compliance therewith as he may require, including a deposit of money sufficient in his judgment to cover the cost of maintenance and passage to the country whence he came, which deposit shall be refunded upon the departure of such alien seaman, or upon his failure to depart, shall be covered into the Treasury as a head tax. Any such alien seaman who has been granted temporary admission into the United States and who remains therein for a period longer than twenty-nine days, or such longer period as may be granted by the Attorney General, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act, and shall be deported in the first class of aliens to be deported after the granting of such extension. Any such alien seaman who has been granted temporary admission into the United States and who fails to depart therefrom at the end of the period for which he was granted admission, or who violates any condition upon which he was granted admission, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act, and shall be deported in the first class of aliens to be deported after the granting of such extension. Any such alien seaman who has been granted temporary admission into the United States and who fails to depart therefrom at the end of the period for which he was granted admission, or who violates any condition upon which he was granted admission, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act, and shall be deported in the first class of aliens to be deported after the granting of such extension.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest of all aliens on board such vessel, stating the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether married or single, whether in possession of a ticket through to destination, whether the passage is paid by himself or by others, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends and their addresses, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, whether in the United States in violation of any law, and such other items of information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, touching the right of each alien to enter the United States, and such information shall be recorded by the said immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such list or manifest, or who refuses to answer truthfully any such inquiry touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, or who refuses to detain on board his vessel any alien when directed so to do by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. Such fine shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located. The head tax imposed by section 2 of this Act shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located before the alien is landed from the vessel, except that in the case of aliens in transit through the United States to foreign countries, the head tax may be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the alien intends to depart from the United States. Any alien who shall refuse to pay the head tax imposed by this section shall be deported in the manner provided by law. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to pay the head tax imposed by this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same upon such terms and conditions as he may deem reasonable and just, or may direct the discharge from custody of any alien who may have been arrested for failure to pay the head tax. Such application must be made within one year from the date of the final order in the case. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the payment of the head tax by any alien in continuous transit through the United States who shall have been admitted to the United States and who shall be in possession of a through ticket to a foreign country, or by any alien who was admitted to the United States and departed therefrom within one year from the date of his admission, or by any alien who was admitted to the United States and who returned within one year from the date of his departure therefrom upon the same certificate issued to him upon his first admission, or by any alien who was admitted to the United States and who returned within one year from the date of his departure therefrom upon a certificate issued to him upon his first return, or by any alien who was admitted to the United States and who returned within one year from the date of his departure therefrom upon a certificate issued to him upon his first return after having been naturalized in the United States, or by any alien who was admitted to the United States and who returned within one year from the date of his departure therefrom upon a certificate issued to him upon his first return after having resided in the United States at the time of his departure and been employed there for at least one year immediately preceding such departure and who is coming to the United States to engage in the employment in which he was engaged prior to his departure

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list of questions below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel as the boat of arrival and before the vessel is docked. The list of answers of alien immigrant passengers, and of citizens of the United States, may be printed or typewritten, but shall not be changed in any way. Answers must be made to each question by the alien to whom it is addressed, except that infants may be answered by parent or guardian accompanying them. Answers must be written in ink in the English language. Any omission of answer or refusal to answer must be explained. Any change in the list of questions or in the order of questions, or any failure to ask all questions, or any failure to record answers made, may cause fine or imprisonment of the master of the vessel. (See secs. 20, 21, 39 Stat. 878, 879; 8 U. S. C. 142, 143.)

Each alien must be questioned in the English language or in some other language or dialect understood by him, and the answers of each alien must be recorded in the manuscript list by the inspector asking the questions. Each question must be answered before the next question is asked. Answers must be recorded in the same order in which the questions are numbered. Each answer must be recorded in the column assigned to the question to which it is responsive. Answers to questions 1 to 20, inclusive, must be written in the space provided for the name of the alien. Answers to questions 21 to 30, inclusive, must be written in the space provided for the name of the alien immediately preceding. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members for or crews (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the boarding immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, stating the position which each alien is to fill, the nationality, last residence, and intended final destination of each alien seaman (other than a citizen of the United States) who intends to land in the United States from such vessel, and specifying those who have been certified, and those who have not been certified by the proper consular officer. Such list shall be prepared on a blank form approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members for or crews (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless a bond or undertaking as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, duly to deliver on board such vessel, before such vessel departs from the United States, to each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), a certificate in duplicate, signed by such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, stating that such seaman on board such vessel has been duly inspected by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $17,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers for the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which have accrued and which may accrue hereafter.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which such alien seaman is about to depart after temporary shore leave, or that he was removed by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after temporary shore leave.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be treated as clearance dues and need be paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 28 Stat. 318; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a), 101 (c).)

LIST OR MANIFEST OF ALIENS EMPLOYED ON THE VESSEL ● MEMBERS OF CREW ● ●

Pursuant to the Act of Congress of February 27, 1917, to be delivered to the United States immigration officer by the representative or agent of the vessel leaving each alien on board upon arrival at a port of the United States

(Include names of members of master's family who may be living in other countries and who intend to proceed to the United States with or to join the master at any port. Also include names of all aliens employed on board vessel during last previous stay in port, even though not all are on board upon arrival at this port.)

I, [illegible], master of the [illegible], sailing from port of [illegible], arriving at [illegible], do solemnly swear that the following is a true list or manifest of all the aliens employed on board this vessel during her last previous stay in port, and of all the aliens now on board, whether employed or not, and whether they intend to land at this port or at some other port of the United States; that the said list or manifest is true in every particular; that all the said aliens were duly entered on the proper immigration forms before embarkation at the last port; that all the said aliens have been under my observation since their embarkation, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief none of them has been treated for any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease during the last five days, nor is any one of them suffering from any such disease at the time of sailing of this vessel from the last port; that none of the said aliens has been employed on board any other vessel within the period of one year next preceding the date hereof, except as follows: [illegible]; that none of the said aliens has been refused a visa to his passport by any consular officer, except as follows: [illegible]; that none of the said aliens has been refused admission to the United States, except as follows: [illegible]; that none of the said aliens has been granted an extension of temporary admission to the United States, except as follows: [illegible]; that none of the said aliens has been arrested in the United States and deported at the expense of the master of any vessel, except as follows: [illegible]; that none of the said aliens has been granted a discretionary visa, except as follows: [illegible]; that none of the said aliens has been granted a waiver of the provisions of section 3 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and regulations now and hereafter in force shall be permitted to land temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or for any other reason, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall certify that in his opinion such landing is necessary and will not be detrimental to the welfare of the United States. Such certificate shall be given only upon the written recommendation of a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, if such there be at the port of arrival, and in every case shall state the reasons for the opinion that the landing is necessary. Such certificate shall be given only upon the condition that the alien seaman shall be returned on the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel to the same foreign port from which such vessel came to the United States, or to the country in which the alien seaman boarded the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, at the option of the master of such vessel, and that the cost of the maintenance of such alien seaman while on shore and the cost of his return shall be borne by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States. Such certificate shall be given only upon the condition that such master, agent, owner, or consignee shall deposit with the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a bond in the penal sum of $300 for each alien seaman to whom such certificate may be given, conditioned upon the return of such alien seaman as provided herein, and upon the further condition that such master, agent, owner, or consignee will pay all hospital, medical, and burial expenses of such alien seaman incurred within one year after the date of such certificate, and will reimburse the United States for any moneys paid for the relief and maintenance of such alien seaman while in the United States. Such bond shall be approved by the commissioner of immigration in charge at the port of arrival, or by such person as he may designate for the purpose. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, waive the requirement of such bond in the case of any alien seaman employed on any vessel plying between the United States and foreign contiguous territory, or between the United States and adjacent islands, or in the case of any alien seaman who is employed on a vessel which touches at a port of the United States solely for the purpose of taking fuel, and in the case of any alien seaman who is employed on a vessel which does not engage in the carriage of passengers, and in the case of any alien seaman who is employed on a vessel which is primarily a vessel of war of any foreign nation, and in the case of any alien seaman who is employed on a vessel which is engaged in trade between the United States and any island possession thereof, and in the case of any alien seaman who is employed on a vessel which is engaged in the whaling industry, and in the case of any alien seaman who is employed on a vessel which is engaged in the fishing industry in the waters contiguous to the United States, and who is accustomed to go and return on the same vessel from port to port or place to place in the United States during the period covered by his shipping articles, and in the case of any alien seaman who is employed on a vessel which is primarily a cable ship: Provided, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the requirement of such bond in the case of any alien seaman employed on any vessel making regular trips to the United States across the Canadian border or across the Mexican border, if such alien seaman has been duly admitted to the United States and has complied with all the requirements of the immigration laws at the time of his last entry from foreign territory, and is in possession of a valid unexpired passport issued by the country of which he is a subject or citizen, if such country requires passports of its citizens or subjects, and a valid unexpired immigration visa, if an immigration visa is required by the immigration laws in force at the time of his last entry from foreign territory: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the requirement of such bond in the case of any alien seaman employed on any vessel arriving at the United States for the purpose of delivering or taking on cargo

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of alien members' per se (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "watchman" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a true manifest and declaration, subscribed and sworn to by the master before a consular officer of the United States, or, if there be no consular officer at the port of departure, before the chief officer of customs or other officer acting in his place, which manifest and declaration shall be in such form and contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall show the full name, nationality, last residence, calling, and occupation of every person, including cabin passengers, who shall come on board such vessel at any foreign port or place, destined to the United States, the intended length of stay in the United States, whether destined to the United States or not, the final destination of each alien, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether he has been in the United States previously and if so when and where, whether he has a relative or friend in the United States and if so whether male or female, name and complete address of such relative or friend, whether in possession of money and if so how much, whether going to join such relative or friend or to some other person and if so what person and where, whether in possession of a railroad ticket or other through transportation ticket and if so over what railroads or lines, whether the alien has been deported or excluded from the United States and if so when and why, whether an anarchist, whether a polygamist, whether coming in pursuance of any previous contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States and if so what kind, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity and if so when and where, whether a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates the assassination of public officials, or who advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property, and whether he is coming to the United States to perform labor if so what kind, whether he is married or single, his age, sex, nationality, race, and physical characteristics, including height, complexion, color of hair and eyes, and marks of identification, and whether he is deaf, dumb, blind, crippled, or otherwise disabled, the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came, and the name and complete address of the person to whom he is going in the United States, which manifest and declaration shall be prepared and filled out for each alien by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, or by the person who shall prepare the manifest of such vessel in the foreign port from which she departs, and shall be sworn to by the master before the vice consul of the United States at the port of departure, or if there be no vice consul at such port, then before the consular agent of the United States at the port nearest the place of departure, or if there be no consular officer at such port, then before the chief officer of customs or other officer acting in his place, and the said master shall also indorse upon said manifest a declaration under oath that the said manifest contains a full and correct list of all aliens who have been taken on board such vessel at any foreign port or place, destined to the United States, and that he has caused the surgeon of such vessel to examine each of said aliens and that he has no knowledge or reason to believe that any of said aliens are afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be ground for exclusion under the provisions of this Act, and that he has delivered a true copy of said manifest to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival. Such manifest and declaration shall be in addition to any other list or manifest required by law. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses to deliver such manifest and declaration, or who fails to deliver a true copy thereof to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who fails to include in such manifest the name of any alien brought on such vessel, or who fails to truly answer the questions propounded to him concerning any alien mentioned in such manifest, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such default occurs. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector to enter such vessel, or to search the same, or any part thereof, or who shall refuse to detain on board any alien immigrant when required so to do by such inspector, or who shall refuse to allow the removal of any such alien immigrant detained on board such vessel for further examination or treatment, or who shall refuse to assist in such removal, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such default occurs. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse to carry back any alien immigrant specified in the manifest to the port from which such alien immigrant came to the United States, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of such alien immigrant's detention and maintenance at such port, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such default occurs. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse to pay the cost of such alien immigrant's removal from the United States, if he has sufficient funds for such purpose, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such default occurs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such default occurs, when such refusal was in the direction of such alien proceeding to the United States, or when such master, agent, consignee, or owner had no reasonable ground to believe that such alien immigrant was afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be ground for exclusion under the provisions of this Act, and that he has delivered a true copy of said manifest to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and has caused the surgeon of such vessel to examine each of said aliens and that he has no knowledge or reason to believe that any of said aliens are

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The act quoted below is printed in full for the information and benefit of masters of vessels and others concerned. Attention is called to the penalties imposed by the act. Particular attention is directed to the fact that the master is required to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival a list containing the names of all aliens on board the vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien. Masters should see that the list is correctly prepared and that each alien is questioned concerning the matters required to be stated in the list. Any master who refuses to deliver the list, or who delivers a list which is incorrect or incomplete in any particular, is liable to the penalties provided by the act. Any master who fails to detain any alien on board his vessel after the immigration officer has given him notice that the alien will be detained for special inquiry is liable to the penalties provided by the act. Any master who lands or permits to land any alien at any port in the United States from any vessel at any place other than the designated port of entry for aliens, except in case of accident, stress of weather, or other unavoidable cause, is liable to the penalties provided by the act. Any master who fails to report and deliver on demand to the immigration officer at the port of arrival any alien who has been ordered to be detained on board vessel is liable to the penalties provided by the act. Masters should see that each alien passenger who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport has the necessary documents, such as immigration visa, reentry permit, certificate of identity for seamen, or other travel document required by the act of May 26, 1924, as amended, and the regulations issued pursuant thereto, and that each alien has been correctly registered. Any master who lands or permits to land on any part of the United States any alien who is afflicted with any contagious disease, or who has been found to be a person who has been afflicted with any such disease previous to sailing, or who has been found to be a person who has been deported from the United States, unless specially permitted to land by the Secretary of Labor, is liable to the penalties provided by the act. Masters should see that each alien passenger who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport has the necessary documents, such as immigration visa, reentry permit, certificate of identity for seamen, or other travel document required by the act of May 26, 1924, as amended, and the regulations issued pursuant thereto, and that each alien has been correctly registered. Any master who lands or permits to land on any part of the United States any alien who is afflicted with any contagious disease, or who has been found to be a person who has been afflicted with any such disease previous to sailing, or who has been found to be a person who has been deported from the United States, unless specially permitted to land by the Secretary of Labor, is liable to the penalties provided by the act. Any master who fails to report and deliver on demand to the immigration officer at the port of arrival any alien who has been ordered to be detained on board vessel is liable to the penalties provided by the act. Any master who lands or permits to land any alien at any port in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than at a designated port of entry for aliens, except in case of accident, stress of weather, or other unavoidable cause, is liable to the penalties provided by the act. Masters should see that each alien passenger who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport has the necessary documents, such as immigration visa, reentry permit, certificate of identity for seamen, or other travel document required by the act of May 26, 1924, as amended, and the regulations issued pursuant thereto, and that each alien has been correctly registered. Any master who lands or permits to land on any part of the United States any alien who is afflicted with any contagious disease, or who has been found to be a person who has been afflicted with any such disease previous to sailing, or who has been found to be a person who has been deported from the United States, unless specially permitted to land by the Secretary of Labor, is liable to the penalties provided by the act.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 18. That from and after the 1st day of July, 1917, in addition to the persons who are now excluded from admission into the United States by the immigration laws, the following persons shall be excluded from admission into the United States: All persons physically capable of reading who cannot read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish: Provided, That any admissible person or persons may bring into the United States any such illiterate parent or grandparent or parents or grandparents over fifty years of age, and any such admissible father may bring in his wife, and any such admissible mother may bring in her husband, and any such admissible children under sixteen years of age may be brought in by or may subsequently be admitted to join any parent who is admissible and who has legally acquired a domicile in the United States: And provided further, That nothing in this section shall exclude, if otherwise admissible, persons coming to the United States to avoid religious persecution in any form they may be subject to in the country of their last permanent residence, whether such persecution be evidenced by overt acts or by the existence of laws or governmental regulations which deprive them of liberty guaranteed to citizens generally by the Constitution of the United States: And provided further, That nothing in this section shall exclude persons convicted of but one crime involving moral turpitude committed more than five years prior to the time of application for admission to the United States, or persons who have been convicted of but one offense of a purely political character: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, admit to the United States any alien who is otherwise admissible, who has been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, but who has been pardoned by the President or by the Governor of the State in which the conviction occurred: And provided further, That the provisions of this section relating to the literacy of aliens shall not apply to any alien who is coming to the United States to join a husband or father lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States, if such husband or father is not a citizen of the United States by reason of having failed to become naturalized under section 2 of the Act of March 2, 1907, or section 4 of the Act of March 4, 1913, or section 4 of the Act of September 22, 1922, or section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1931, and such husband or father has resided in the United States for three years or more before the admission of the alien seeking admission hereunder: And provided further, That the provisions of this section relating to the literacy of aliens shall not apply to any alien who is coming to the United States to join a father or grandfather lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States, if such father or grandfather is not a citizen of the United States by reason of having failed to become naturalized under section 2 of the Act of March 2, 1907, or section 4 of the Act of March 4, 1913, or section 4 of the Act of September 22, 1922, or section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1931, and such father or grandfather has resided in the United States for five years or more before the admission of the alien seeking admission hereunder: And provided further, That nothing in this section shall exclude, if otherwise admissible, persons who have been convicted of but one crime involving moral turpitude committed more than five years prior to the time of application for admission to the United States, or persons who have been convicted of but one offense of a purely political character: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, admit to the United States any alien who is otherwise admissible, who has been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, but who has been pardoned by the President or by the Governor of the State in which the conviction occurred: And provided further, That the provisions of this section relating to the literacy of aliens shall not apply to any alien who is coming to the United States to join a husband or father lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States, if such husband or father is not a citizen of the United States by reason of having failed to become naturalized under section 2 of the Act of March 2, 1907, or section 4 of the Act of March 4, 1913, or section 4 of the Act of September 22, 1922, or section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1931, and such husband or father has resided in the United States for three years or more before the admission of the alien seeking admission hereunder: And provided further, That nothing in this section shall exclude, if otherwise admissible, persons who have been convicted of but one crime involving moral turpitude committed more than five years prior to the time of application for admission to the United States, or persons who have been convicted of but one offense of a purely political character: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, admit to the United States any alien who is otherwise admissible, who has been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, but who has been pardoned by the President or by the Governor of the State in which the conviction occurred: And provided further, That the provisions of this section relating to the literacy of aliens shall not apply to any alien who is coming to the United States to join a father or grandfather lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States, if such father or grandfather is not a citizen of the United States by reason of having failed to become naturalized under section 2 of the Act of March 2, 1907, or section 4 of the Act of March 4, 1913, or section 4 of the Act of September 22, 1922, or section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1931, and such father or grandfather has resided in the United States for five

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States (other than Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, or the islands adjacent to the continental United States) may be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of debarkation of such alien shall have certified that there is on board such vessel, at the time of her departure from such port, a sufficient number of persons of the nationality of such alien, in the employ of the master, owners, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, to assure the proper performance of the work of such vessel, and that the services of such alien are required for such purpose. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155). Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, shall be deported to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, shall be deported to such foreign port as the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived may designate, if such port is one to which the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser is willing to return such alien seaman, and if such port is not one to which there is reason to believe that such alien seaman would not be admitted by the government thereof. The cost of maintenance of any alien seaman pending his deportation under this section shall be borne by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155). Any penalty or liability incurred by any master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel under this section may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon such terms and conditions as he shall deem just.

(b) The cost of maintenance of any alien seaman detained on board vessel pending the completion of his physical and mental examination by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, and pending the decision as to whether he is to be allowed to land or is to be deported, shall be borne by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived.

(c) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155). Any penalty or liability incurred by any master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel under this section may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon such terms and conditions as he shall deem just.

SEC. 14. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States (other than Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, or the islands adjacent to the continental United States) who fails to obtain on board such vessel, prior to the departure thereof, the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (except in the case of an alien seaman employed on such vessel) shall be punished by a fine of $300 for each alien seaman (other than a citizen of the United States) found on board such vessel who has not been duly examined by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, and certified by such officers as not being afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be sufficient ground for the exclusion of such alien seaman from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States (other than Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, or the islands adjacent to the continental United States) may be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, shall be deported to such foreign port as the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived may designate, if such port is one to which the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser is willing to return such alien seaman, and if such port is not one to which there is reason to believe that such alien seaman would not be admitted by the government thereof. The cost of maintenance of any alien seaman pending his deportation under this section shall be borne by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155). Any penalty or liability incurred by any master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel under this section may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon such terms and conditions as he shall deem just.

SEC. 15. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the United States (other than Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, or the islands adjacent to the continental United States) any alien seaman (whether a citizen of the United States or not) who is destined to a port of the United States, shall, if such alien seaman is employed on board such vessel when she departs from such port, report the name of such alien seaman to the immigration officer in charge at such port, and shall furnish to such officer such information in respect to such alien seaman as may be required by such officer. Such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall also report the name of any alien seaman who may have been employed on board such vessel when she departed from a port of the United States, and who is not listed in the ship's articles, and who may have been secreted on board, and the circumstances connected therewith, to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall also report the name of any alien seaman who shall have been left behind in the port from which such vessel shall have cleared, and the cause of such alien seaman being left behind, and shall furnish such information in respect to such alien seaman as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at such port. Such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall report the name of any alien seaman who shall have been left behind in a foreign port or place from which such vessel shall have cleared, and the cause of such alien seaman being left behind, and shall furnish such information in respect to such alien seaman as may be required by the consular officer to whom application is made for a visa to such alien seaman's passport. Such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall furnish to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, showing the nationality of each, the capacity in which employed on board, and the time and place of shipping. Such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall also report the name of any alien seaman who shall have been employed on board such vessel when she departed from a port of the United States, and who is not listed in the ship's articles, and who may have been secreted on board, and the circumstances connected therewith, to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall also report the name of any alien seaman who shall have been left behind in the port from which such vessel shall have cleared, and the cause of such alien seaman being left behind, and shall furnish such information in respect to such alien seaman as may be required by the consular officer to whom application is made for a visa to such alien seaman's passport. Such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall furnish to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, showing the nationality of each, the capacity in which employed on board, and the time and place of shipping. Such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall also report the name of any alien seaman who may have been employed on board such vessel when she departed from a port of the United States, and who is not listed in the ship's articles, and who may have been secreted on board, and the circumstances connected therewith, to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall also report the name of any alien seaman who shall have been left behind in the port from which such vessel shall have cleared, and the cause of such alien seaman being left behind, and shall furnish such information in respect to such alien seaman as may be required by the consular officer to whom application is made for a visa to such alien seaman's passport. Such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall furnish to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, showing the nationality of each, the capacity in which employed on board, and the time and place of shipping.

(b) Every alien seaman, whether a citizen of a foreign country or not, who shall land in the United States from any vessel, shall be required to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of the vessel on which he arrived, the date of arrival, and the length of time he intends to remain in the United States, and shall be required to furnish such information in respect to such alien seaman as may be required by such officer. Such alien seaman shall also be required to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of the vessel on which he intends to depart from the United States, and the date of such intended departure, and shall be required to furnish such information in respect to such alien seaman as may be required by such officer. Such alien seaman shall also be required to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of the vessel on which he intends to depart from the United States, and the date of such intended departure, and shall be required to furnish such information in respect to such alien seaman as may be required by such officer. Such alien seaman shall also be required to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of the vessel on which he intends to depart from the United States, and the date of such intended departure, and shall be required to furnish such information in respect to such alien seaman as may be required by such officer.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared pending such deportation.

(d) Penalty fixed in alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or that he was inspected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or report after identification by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared pending such deportation until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(43 Stat. 164, 165, as amended by Act of May 10, 1928, c. 520, 45 Stat. 493; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, until the master, agent, owner, consignee, or authorized officer of such vessel shall have given a bond to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine, or any part thereof, upon the payment of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the exercise shall think proper.

The section as amended shall apply to all incoming aliens subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) That part 2 of an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or cause to be delivered such alien seaman on board such vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine, or any part thereof, upon the payment of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the exercise shall think proper.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of a change in political conditions in the country to which he would be returned, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or cause to be delivered such alien seaman on board such vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General may prescribe. Bond shall not be required of any vessel while it remains in distress. Bond shall not be required of a vessel which has been libeled for the payment of any fine, and in the event such fine is subsequently remitted, refund shall be made of any bond given as security therefor. Clearance shall not be granted a vessel while it remains subject to the provisions of this section. Fines collected hereunder shall be covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. Any action to recover such fines may be brought in the district in which the vessel arrives or departs or in which the master, agent, consignee, or owner resides or may be found. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 160.)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, consignee, or charterer thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists or manifests of all persons on board such vessel, showing the following additional facts concerning each person: Whether he or she is married or single; age; calling or occupation; whether able to read or write; nationality; last permanent residence; whether in possession of $50 and by whom; whether ever before in the United States, and if so when and where; whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity; whether a polygamist; whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia; whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so what relative or friend and his name and complete address; whether having a ticket reading beyond the port of arrival; whether the transportation was paid for by himself or others; whether in possession of a railroad or steamship ticket or has paid for same; whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia; whether a person who has been deported at any time within one year prior to such arrival and, if so, the cause for deportation; whether couple or family group, and if so their relationship; whether ever before refused admission to the United States and the reasons therefor; whether going to join a husband, wife, father, or other relative, and if so, which relative and his name and complete address; whether in the United States or elsewhere during the war between the United States and Germany and its allies; whether a person who has been a member of or connected with any anarchistic or similar class of persons; whether a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law; whether a person who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government or who advocates or is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such belief or advocating such overthrow or unlawful damage; whether a person who advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property; whether a polygamist or believes in or practices polygamy; whether in good health, mental and physical; whether deformed or crippled, and if so, from what cause; height; complexion; color of hair and eyes; identification marks; and such additional information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, owner, consignee, or charterer who refuses to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists or manifests containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, including the passengers and the crew, and the information required concerning each person, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerned: Provided, That clearance shall not be refused because of a true error as to any matter of detail in the manifest when it shall appear to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge of the port that such error was made by mistake and without fraudulent intent. Any master, agent, owner, consignee, or charterer who refuses to deliver lists or manifests required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 151), when demanded, and not upon failure duly proved, the deposit stipulated in §§ 180.13–180.17, has been made.

SEC. 150.15 Liens of alien contractors; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens imposed by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 151), have been liquidated, and not then unless notice of intention to do so shall have been given to the collector of customs at the port of arrival at least 48 hours before the vessel is cleared. Such notice shall be in writing and shall state the name of the vessel, the name of the master, the number of aliens employed on board, the wages of each, and the amount of the lien claimed on account of each. Upon receipt of such notice the collector of customs shall immediately notify the master, agent, owner, consignee, or charterer of the vessel of the amount of the liens claimed, and shall withhold clearance for the vessel until the liens have been liquidated or a bond given to secure the payment thereof. Such bond shall be executed by the master, agent, owner, consignee, or charterer of the vessel as principal, and by a surety company holding a certificate of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury as surety, in a penal sum equal to the amount of the liens claimed, and shall be conditioned upon the payment of such liens as may be finally determined by the Secretary of Labor. Such bond shall be delivered to the collector of customs at the port of arrival, and shall be forwarded by him to the Secretary of Labor. Pending the determination of the liens by the Secretary of Labor, clearance shall not be granted the vessel, except upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such liens. (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Data concerning the names of all persons, including those in transit to adjacent foreign countries, shall be furnished on the lines provided for the purpose. In the case of the failure of any person named in the list to appear for examination, a report of the fact must be made to the Commissioner-General of Immigration, Washington, D. C., by the master of the vessel or the agent of the steamship company. (Form I-418.) Any person who fails to comply with the requirements of the immigration laws may be refused admission to the United States. Any master who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses to permit any immigrant to depart from the vessel, may be fined not more than $1,000 for each offense. (Sec. 10, act of February 20, 1907.)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether they intend to depart from the United States or not after the arrival of such vessel at such port. Such lists shall be delivered before the vessel shall enter the harbor of arrival; or in case pilots are employed to enter the harbor, then before the vessel passes the station at the mouth of the harbor at which the pilot first boards the vessel. Such lists shall be prepared and delivered in such manner and form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner-General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall contain such information touching each alien named therein as may be required by the said Commissioner-General of Immigration at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at before arrival at the port of entry. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who refuses to permit any immigrant to depart from the vessel, or who refuses to comply with the requirements of the immigration laws relative to the preparation and delivery of such lists, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such refusal or neglect occurs, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who knowingly or willfully refuses to pay the head tax provided for in this section, as amended, shall pay the same. Any person who knowingly or willfully makes false statements in or conceals information concerning the names, nationality, or last permanent residence of any alien employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port, or who knowingly or willfully makes false statements in or conceals information concerning the right of any alien employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port to enter the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (43 Stat. 161–162; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), (b), (c).)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the aliens employed on such vessel at the expense of the vessel or the owner thereof would cause undue hardship, such vessel may be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign country shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver after reasonable effort, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver after reasonable effort, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport. Any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave under the provisions of section 10 of this act and who remains in the United States after the revocation of such shore leave shall be deported as an alien seaman who has failed to depart with the vessel on which he arrived. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been furnished such security by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to guarantee the return of such alien seaman on board the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel to the country from which he came, or to the country to which his employment on board such vessel may subsequently take him, or to such other country as may be willing to receive him, and until the immigration officer has been furnished such bond or undertaking as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to guarantee the payment of the hospital expenses and burial expenses (which may be incurred at any time within one year after the date of the arrival of such alien seaman) of any such alien seaman who may become ill or injured from any cause during such period, and to guarantee the payment of any fine or penalty which may be imposed upon such alien seaman under the provisions of this section. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on board which he arrived shall be relieved of any bond given or undertaking entered into by him under the provisions of this section with respect to such alien seaman. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall be responsible for the removal, or deportation of each alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the district while any fine imposed by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or reduce such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs when such failure is due to sickness or death of such seaman or to his desertion of a vessel on which he was employed if the vessel is equipped with a surgeon and the sickness or death of such seaman or desertion occurred prior to the arrival of such vessel within a port of the United States and was reported by the master in the manifest required by section 12 hereof. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit the fine imposed upon the master of any vessel by reason of the presence in the United States of any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave under the provisions of section 10 hereof, if such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel during the period of his shore leave and has been duly reported by the master of such vessel upon the outward manifest of such vessel. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

(b) Every alien seaman who has been granted shore leave under the provisions of section 10 hereof, shall be deported in the same manner as provided in section 19 hereof in the case of other aliens who have been found in the United States in violation of this act, if, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on board which such alien seaman arrived has failed to furnish such security as may be required by the Secretary of Labor for the return of such alien seaman to the country from which he came, or to the country to which his employment on board such vessel may subsequently take him, or to such other country as may be willing to receive him, and until the immigration officer has been furnished such bond or undertaking as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to guarantee the payment of the hospital expenses and burial expenses (which may be incurred at any time within one year after the date of the arrival of such alien seaman) of any such alien seaman who may become ill or injured from any cause during such period, and to guarantee the payment of any fine or penalty which may be imposed upon such alien seaman under the provisions of this section. Upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on board which he arrived shall be relieved of any bond given or undertaking entered into by him under the provisions of this section with respect to such alien seaman. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on plain white approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be in duplicate for each vessel, arranged in the manner hereinafter described. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, including names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

Any list not delivered to the proper immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of arrival, or that does not contain the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, whether the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and whether they are to be paid off discharged in the port of arrival, or have contained so much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe, and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has left such vessel without having first obtained from the proper immigration officer a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who joined, or were employed on, such vessel at any port or place in the United States, and the reasons for the departure of such alien employees, so far as known or can be ascertained by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master, and to report such cases of desertion or illness of seamen as may occur before the vessel's departure from the port. Such list shall be verified by the oath of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master, or some one of them, and by the certificate of the boarding officer of the customs, and shall be in such form and contain such particulars as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall fail to report such desertion or illness of seamen, or who shall refuse to answer such questions touching such seamen as may be propounded by any immigration officer, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be cleared thereafter while it remains subject; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 890, 891; 8 U. S. C. 111.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any vessel departing from the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or internment, or pending such examinations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the time of his departure, or who fails to do so shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such return as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all beneficial alien seamen who did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which the arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, to land in the United States, unless such seaman shall be certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival to be a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deposit or detain such seaman.

(b) From and after the expiration of ninety days after the passage of this Act no vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, or have delivered on board the vessel by the master, a list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the position that each alien seaman is employed to fill on board the vessel, the name and nationality of each alien seaman who is discharged in the port of arrival, or who has been left behind on account of illness or injury, and the intended destination of each alien seaman who is discharged in the port of arrival, and such other information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe, and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has left such vessel without having first obtained from the proper immigration officer a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who joined, or were employed on, such vessel at any port or place in the United States, and the reasons for the departure of such alien employees, so far as known or can be ascertained by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master, and to report such cases of desertion or illness of seamen as may occur before the vessel's departure from the port. Such list shall be verified by the oath of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master, or some one of them, and by the certificate of the boarding officer of the customs, and shall be in such form and contain such particulars as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall fail to report such desertion or illness of seamen, or who shall refuse to answer such questions touching such seamen as may be propounded by any immigration officer, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be cleared thereafter while it remains subject; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 890, 891; 8 U. S. C. 111.)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or from a port of the United States other than a customs port of entry, the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof shall deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival; or that there is no alien employed on such vessel; and no master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer, at or before the time of such arrival, such lists as are demanded. All cases in which any such master has reason to believe that any alien on board his vessel will apply for admission into the United States shall be reported by him to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at a port. Such lists shall be prepared in the form and manner prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and shall contain such information touching each alien mentioned therein as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Commerce, or the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who knowingly or willfully delivers, or attempts to deliver, to the immigration officer any such list in which any such alien is not named or described as required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel who were not employed when the last previous list was delivered, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and the offices, if any, upon which such persons were severally employed, and the cause of the severance from the service of each person discharged. Such lists shall be prepared in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and shall contain such information touching each person mentioned therein as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Commerce, or the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who knowingly or willfully delivers, or attempts to deliver, to the immigration officer any such list in which any such person is not named or described as required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such person concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at a port. Such lists shall be prepared in the form and manner prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and shall contain such information touching each person mentioned therein as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Commerce, or the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who knowingly or willfully delivers, or attempts to deliver, to the immigration officer any such list in which any such person is not named or described as required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such person concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at a port. Such lists shall be prepared in the form and manner prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and shall contain such information touching each person mentioned therein as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Commerce, or the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who knowingly or willfully delivers, or attempts to deliver, to the immigration officer any such list in which any such alien is not named or described as required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at a port. Such lists shall be prepared in the form and manner prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and shall contain such information touching each person mentioned therein as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Commerce, or the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who knowingly or willfully delivers, or attempts to deliver, to the immigration officer any such list in which any such alien is not named or described as required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at a port. Such lists shall be prepared in the form and manner prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and shall contain such information touching each person mentioned therein as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Commerce, or the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who knowingly or willfully delivers, or attempts to deliver, to the immigration officer any such list in which any such alien is not named or described as required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at a port. Such lists shall be prepared in the form and manner prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and shall contain such information touching each person mentioned therein as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Commerce, or the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who knowingly or willfully delivers, or attempts to deliver, to the immigration officer any such list in which any such alien is not named or described as required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, Panama, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Republic of Costa Rica, or the Republic of Honduras, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the adjudicate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory who fails to detain on board the vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seamen by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

I, _____, master of the _____ do declare that the list of all the crew, furnished in said vessel from any port or place during the foregoing voyage, then the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, furnished in said vessel from any port or place during the foregoing voyage. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector portside the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be removed by the master to the principal immigration office at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate immigration and customs inspection, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port or place of arrival a complete list of all the persons on board such vessel, whether cabin passengers or members of the crew, or other persons carried on such vessel, stating their respective names in full, their ages, sex, whether married or single, their calling or occupation, the country of which they are citizens or subjects, the country from which they last came, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are in possession of $50 and if not, how much they have, whether they have been previously in the United States, and if so, when and where, whether they have been in any penitentiary, almshouse, asylum, or hospital, whether they are coming in pursuance of a previous promise, agreement, or request of any person or persons in the United States, and if so, what person or persons, whether they are in possession of a ticket to their ultimate destination, whether they have paid their own passage or it has been paid by others, whether they have the means to pay for return if not admissible, whether they are connected with any political organization subversive to the form of government of the United States, whether they are coming to the United States to perform labor if so, what kind, whether they intend to become citizens of the United States, whether they are going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their complete address, whether they are deformed or crippled, and if so, how long they have been deformed or crippled, whether they have ever been in the United States before, if so, when and where, how long they remained, what their occupation was, whether they have been in any institution or hospital for the insane or supported by charity, and whether they are coming for any purpose or object in the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, which list shall be signed by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, who shall certify to the correctness of the list at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which she sails. The master or commanding officer of every such vessel shall, at the time of the arrival of the vessel at a port of the United States, deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all persons employed on the vessel who have been left behind in a foreign country, and the cause for leaving them behind, and a description of such persons, so far as known, and the last known address of relatives or friends in the United States of such persons. Any master or commanding officer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival the list required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and to the best of his knowledge any question therein contained, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above required; but no such penalty shall be remitted or refunded unless it be affirmatively shown that the master or commanding officer has exercised due diligence in the preparation of such lists and reports and the securing of the information required. The Secretary of Labor shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper execution of this section, and such forms and procedure for the inspection of aliens and the collection of the information required by this section as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor. The Attorney General may refund fines imposed under this section in meritorious cases.

(As amended Mar. 4, 1921, 41 Stat. 1446, 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 37. (a) The master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone, or any person in charge of any aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone, shall not permit any alien to land from such vessel or aircraft in the United States except at such time and place and under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or such immigrant inspector as the Commissioner General of Immigration may designate for the purpose, unless such alien has been duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or has been found upon examination by a medical officer not to be affected with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be sufficient to exclude the alien from admission into the United States under the immigration laws. Such examination by the medical officer shall be made within five days after the arrival of the vessel or aircraft at the port of first arrival, unless the vessel or aircraft is detained at quarantine or for any cause beyond the control of the master, purser, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of any aircraft, in which case such examination shall be made within five days after the vessel or aircraft is admitted to pratique or otherwise allowed to land its passengers. Such examination shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner of each alien, except that in the case of aliens in transit through the United States, regularly employed as such on board vessels or aircraft arriving from foreign ports, the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, direct that such examination be made by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at such place as he may designate.

(b) Any alien seaman (whether an alien employed on an American vessel or an alien seaman employed on a foreign vessel) arriving in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone, who is certified by the medical examiner to be suffering from any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities for which aliens may be excluded from admission into the United States, except those specified in section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall be detained on board or at such place as the Commissioner General of Immigration may designate for the purpose, pending examination by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and pending the certification of the case to the Board of Special Inquiry and the final action of such Board thereon. Such detention shall be at the expense of the master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of the vessel or aircraft, and shall be upon the vessel or aircraft or at a station maintained by the owners of the vessel or aircraft, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration shall direct detention in a hospital. Such detention shall not exceed five days unless the Board of Special Inquiry shall certify that the case presents exceptional circumstances requiring further observation, in which case the detention may be extended for a period not exceeding five days additional. Any such alien seaman who shall be certified by the Board of Special Inquiry to be suffering from any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities for which aliens may be excluded from admission into the United States, except those specified in section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), but no such alien seaman shall be deported to a foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island unless he was a resident thereof at the time of his coming to the United States, or unless he was a native thereof, or unless he was a citizen or subject of the country to which he is deported. Any such alien seaman who shall be certified by the Board of Special Inquiry to be suffering from any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities for which aliens may be excluded from admission into the United States, except those specified in section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and who shall be ordered deported, may, in lieu of being detained on board or at such place as the Commissioner General of Immigration may designate, be permitted to land in the United States under bond, in such sum and with such security as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, conditioned for the deportation of such alien when required to such alien by the Commissioner General of Immigration or his authorized agent, and for the payment of such hospital expenses and burial expenses in the case of his death as may be incurred within one year after landing. Such alien seaman may be required to report periodically to the United States Public Health Service or immigrant inspector during the period covered by the bond. Such alien seaman may be granted a hearing before the Board of Special Inquiry upon the certification of his case by the medical officer, and the decision of the Board shall be subject to review by the Secretary of Labor upon appeal by the alien seaman. Pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor, the alien seaman shall be detained on board or at such place as the Commissioner General of Immigration may designate. Any alien seaman who shall be ordered deported and who shall refuse to land when a permit to land has been granted him by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or such immigrant inspector as the Commissioner General of Immigration may designate for the purpose, shall be deported to the country to which he belongs or from which he came to the United States at the option of the master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of the vessel or aircraft bringing him to the United States, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and of his deportation shall be borne by the master, agent, consignee, owner, or person in charge of the vessel or aircraft bringing him to the United States

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained to aid in the United States by any immigration officer in charge at the port of deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States with any alien seaman employed on board who is required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival [an inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs when such seaman is, in the Attorney General's discretion, shall think proper.

The section as amended shall apply to all immigrant aliens independent of the date of the passage of this Act.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was removed by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seaman by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that adequate detention of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be detained on shoreline vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164, 165; 28 Stat. 218; R. S. U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or internment to await the regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien seaman who does not depart from the outlying territories of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or who fails to report to the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of alien passengers or crewmen (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate vessel is a "motorship," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or other agent in charge of such vessel to report and deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons on board, including the members of the crew and all passengers, regardless of citizenship, and specifying the nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each person who is an alien, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension of any such alien not lawfully entitled to enter the United States, as may be required by the Attorney General. The Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe and may alter the arrival or sailing manifest of vessels with respect to the number of aliens to be listed thereon, the information to be given, and the form and manner of preparation and delivery thereof, and may require a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension, before the departure of a vessel to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any master, consignee, or agent of any such vessel who refuses to comply with such regulations or with any such requirement of the Attorney General shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each such refusal. Any master, consignee, or agent of any such vessel who knowingly lands or permits to land from any such vessel at any port in the United States any alien not duly listed in the manifest of such vessel at such port, or who knowingly lands or permits to land at any such port any alien who has been refused a landing by the immigration officers at any other port, unless specifically directed by the Attorney General so to land such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien so landed or permitted to land, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, refund the fine in whole or in part in the case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master of a vessel to report, list, or deliver any alien duly entitled to enter the United States who became a public charge within one year after entry, or who was found to be insane or afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease within five years after entry, if it be shown to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that the presence of such alien was due to causes not reasonably discoverable by the master, agent, consignee, or owner prior to the departure of the vessel from the foreign port from which she sailed. Whenever any fine, penalty, or forfeiture shall be incurred by the master of any vessel for the violation of any of the provisions of this section, or of any rule or regulation made by the Attorney General in pursuance thereof, or of any of the provisions of section 37 of this title, such fine, penalty, or forfeiture shall be a lien upon the vessel, her tackle, apparel, furniture, and cargo, and may be recovered by proceedings in the nature of proceedings in rem in the district court of the United States for the district within which the vessel may be found. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of any fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such remission in writing the vessel may be granted clearance. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1920.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside foreign, or that he was removed by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman for medical treatment by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place outside the Canal Zone, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements, or to secure supplies or make repairs to the vessel, or because of the necessity of bringing to the United States a substitute crew member, or for such other reasons as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe, and for the sole purpose specified. Such alien seaman shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens ordered deported from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory and bringing an alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival have inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner). If on such inspection or to any subsequent inspection it is found by such immigration officer or the medical examiner that such seaman is a member of a class ineligible to be admitted to the United States, such seaman shall be detained on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to deport such seaman. Such seaman shall be detained on board until the departure of the vessel from the port, unless such immigration officer is satisfied that adequate provision has been made for the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or to give a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, which shall be filed with the immigration officer at the port of such deposit, and upon the recommendation of such immigration officer, cancel any such bond or return any such deposit, or any part thereof, if the Attorney General shall be satisfied that the person who furnished such bond or made such deposit has complied with the requirements of this section with respect to such seaman. Any such seaman who shall depart from the United States shall not thereafter be admitted to the United States unless specifically permitted to reenter upon the certification by a consular officer at the port at which he shall apply for a visa that he is in possession of a valid unexpired passport and of an immigration visa if such be required at the time of his application for admission. Any such seaman who departs from the United States without the permission of the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure shall be deported as provided in the case of other aliens ordered deported from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

(b) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States, shall be examined before a special inquiry officer, and shall be granted a period of detention not to exceed five days, which period may be extended in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor for a further period not to exceed five days, within which period he shall be required to depart from the United States in pursuance of law. Such alien seaman shall be required to deposit with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to pay the cost of his maintenance during the period of detention, and his passage to the country to which he is destined, unless sooner removed, or unless he shall sooner depart, or unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct. Such deposit shall be refunded to the depositor, or his nominee, upon the departure of such alien seaman, or upon his removal, to the extent that it shall not have been applied to the cost of maintenance, passage, or removal. Such deposit shall not be required of any alien seaman who is in possession of a valid unexpired passport and of an immigration visa if such be required at the time of his application for admission. Any such alien seaman who shall remain in the United States for a longer period than permitted by this subdivision shall be deported as provided in the case of other aliens ordered deported from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

(c) Every alien seaman who is ordered deported from the United States under the provisions of this section who shall not be deported within ninety days from the date of such order of deportation, shall, pending such deportation, be subject to the provisions of section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), as amended by section 4 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 154; 8 U. S. C. 155).

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements, or to secure supplies or make repairs to the vessel, or because of the necessity of bringing to the United States a substitute crew member, or for such other reasons as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe, and for the sole purpose specified. Such alien seaman shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens ordered deported from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 180.)

(b) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States, shall be examined before a special inquiry officer, and shall be granted a period of detention not to exceed five days, within which period he shall be required to depart from the United States in pursuance of law. Such alien seaman shall be required to deposit with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to pay the cost of his maintenance during the period of detention, and his passage to the country to which he is destined, unless sooner removed, or unless he shall sooner depart, or unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct. Such deposit shall be refunded to the depositor, or his nominee, upon the departure of such alien seaman, or upon his removal, to the extent that it shall not have been applied to the cost of maintenance, passage, or removal. Such deposit shall not be required of any alien seaman who is in possession of a valid unexpired passport and of an immigration visa if such be required at the time of his application for admission. Any such alien seaman who shall remain in the United States for a longer period than permitted by this subdivision shall be deported as provided in the case of other aliens ordered deported from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

(c) Every alien seaman who is ordered deported from the United States under the provisions of this section who shall not be deported within ninety days from the date of such order of deportation, shall, pending such deportation, be subject to the provisions of section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), as amended by section 4 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 154; 8 U. S. C. 155).

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and not be removed in the absence of such inspector from the vessel. (Form I–418) shall not be required or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Women as alternative designation to "females", a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection and landing of citizens of the United States and aliens lawfully entitled to enter the United States, masters of vessels shall, upon arrival at a port in the United States, have ready and present to the immigration officer at the gangway, or such other place as he may designate, a correct list containing the full name of every person on board the vessel, whether citizen or alien, and the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each. The list shall be in the following form, and shall be filled out legibly with pen and ink or typewritten:

Name in full	Age	Sex	Married or single	Calling or occupation	Nationality (country of which citizen or subject)	Race or people	Last permanent residence (country, province, state, or city)	Final destination (city and State, if to the United States)	Whether going to join a relative, and if so, what relative and his name and complete address	Whether in possession of $50 in cash or more, and how much	Whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where	Whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity	Whether a polygamist	Whether an anarchist	Whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States	Whether in the United States or which otherwise subject to deportation under any provision of the immigration laws	Whether under a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia	Whether a skilled laborer, and if so, what occupation	Whether can read or write	Height	Complexion	Color of hair	Color of eyes	Identification mark

SEC. 150.15. Place of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be refused any vessel until the list required by section 30 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171) have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to detain such vessel for the purpose has been given to the administrative officer concerned by such section or to the person designated by such officer to receive such notice. Clearance shall not be refused any vessel until the list required by section 3c of said Act (39 Stat. 880; 8 U. S. C. 180) has been made, unless the master, purser, or person in charge of such vessel refuses or neglects to furnish such list when demanded, or unless it appears to the master, purser, or person in charge of such vessel that the list furnished is not made as above required, in the event such list is returned by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization for correction, or unless the master, purser, or person in charge of such vessel refuses or neglects to make oath to such list when required so to do. Clearance may be refused any vessel which has on board any alien who has been refused admission to the United States, or who has been ordered deported from the United States, until such alien has been landed at a port in the United States or has been deported therefrom, unless the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization shall certify that such alien is not required for testimony and that his detention is not necessary to secure the payment of any fine or penalty which may be imposed upon the master. Clearance may be refused any vessel which has on board any alien who has been certified to a public medical officer for physical or mental examination, pending such examination and pending the result thereof, until the master has complied with such regulations as the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may prescribe governing the detention on board or removal from such vessel of aliens certified for such examination. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any such vessel upon her departure therefrom, and prior to the granting of clearance papers, a correct list, certified to be such by the master, of all aliens on board such vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, who have been inspected and examined by the immigration officers in charge at the port of arrival and of all aliens who have been refused admission to the United States, or who have withdrawn their applications for admission, and of all aliens who have been treated in a hospital or who have died on board such vessel since the date of the last preceding list or since the date of arrival of such vessel if no such list has been required, shall pay to the collector of customs a personal penalty of $1,000 for each alien omitted from such list, or for each alien who is found to have been concealed on such vessel with intent to evade inspection, or to obtain such inspection or to obtain such examination by the medical examiners; or who fails to deliver such vessel on board after such inspection or to obtain such examination by such immigration officer or the medical examiners, pending the result thereof, or who fails to deliver such vessel to the proper immigration officer at the time of departure, or who fails to detain on board any such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has given written permission to land, any alien who has been certified to a public medical officer for physical or mental examination, pending such examination and pending the result thereof, until the master has complied with such regulations as the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may prescribe governing the detention on board or removal from such vessel of aliens certified for such examination. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or to secure other employment, or for such other reasons as the Attorney General may prescribe, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe, from the port of arrival or from the port where the vessel may be, pending the departure of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or to secure other employment, or for such other reasons as the Attorney General may prescribe, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe, from the port of arrival or from the port where the vessel may be, pending the departure of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any such vessel upon her departure therefrom, and prior to the granting of clearance papers, a correct list, certified to be such by the master, of all aliens on board such vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, who have been inspected and examined by the immigration officers in charge at the port of arrival and of all aliens who have been refused admission to the United States, or who have withdrawn their applications for admission, and of all aliens who have been treated in a hospital or who have died on board such vessel since the date of the last preceding list or since the date of arrival of such vessel if no such list has been required, shall pay to the collector of customs a personal penalty of $1,000 for each alien omitted from such list, or for each alien who is found to have been concealed on such vessel with intent to evade inspection, or to obtain such inspection or to obtain such examination by the medical examiners; or who fails to deliver such vessel on board after such inspection or to obtain such examination by such immigration officer or the medical examiners, pending the result thereof, or who fails to deliver such vessel to the proper immigration officer at the time of departure, or who fails to detain on board any such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has given written permission to land, any alien who has been certified to a public medical officer for physical or mental examination, pending such examination and pending the result thereof, until the master has complied with such regulations as the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may prescribe governing the detention on board or removal from such vessel of aliens certified for such examination. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

(b) Every alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No access shall be granted clearance papers during the detention of such vessel to any alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No access shall be granted prior to the determination of the amount of such penalty, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such amount upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such failure is due to sickness or accident and not to the fault of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, and may remit such penalty when it shall appear that there was no intention to bring in any alien unlawfully.

This section as amended shall apply to all harbor service agreements in force 2 years after June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien seaman who did not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who was not inspected by the immigration officers at the time of arrival, shall be taken before a special board of inquiry for examination, and such board shall not admit such alien seaman unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall furnish a bond in the sum of $1,000 conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived or on such other vessel as the Attorney General may direct, within such time as the Attorney General may prescribe, and upon the payment of the hospital expenses and maintenance of such alien seaman while in the United States, unless such alien seaman is admitted to the United States for permanent residence or is a citizen of the United States, or unless such alien seaman is a bona fide member of a crew who is employed on a vessel which will depart from a port of the United States within a period of thirty days after the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is satisfied that such alien seaman will depart on such vessel or on some other vessel within such period of thirty days. Such bond shall be in a form prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with sufficient sureties approved by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and shall be conditioned for the faithful performance by such alien seaman of the requirements of the immigration laws, and for the departure of such alien seaman from the United States within such time as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Such bond shall be void upon the presentation of such alien seaman to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for inspection, or upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States within the time prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or upon the admission of such alien seaman to the United States, or upon the deposit with the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization of such sum as he may require not exceeding $300 in lieu of the bond. Any such deposit shall be covered into the Treasury as a special deposit account and shall be returned to the depositor upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States within the time prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or upon the admission of such alien seaman to the United States, or upon the presentation of such alien seaman to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for inspection, or upon such other disposition of the deposit as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Any such deposit

The list described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival not less than twenty-four hours before the vessel is to leave a foreign port or place for the United States. Such list shall be prepared by the master of the vessel. The list of passengers required to be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall be verified by the oath of the master taken before a consular officer. The master shall also deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a separate list of the names of all passengers who have been landed at intermediate ports en route, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall be furnished with a list of all passengers who have been transferred from other vessels en route. Such lists shall be numbered consecutively, and the master shall certify to the correctness of the list delivered by him and to the fact that no passengers have been landed from his vessel except as stated in the list. The immigration officer at the port of arrival shall have the right to go on board any vessel for the purpose of examining the list or lists of passengers, and for the purpose of inspecting all parts of the vessel occupied by passengers or crew, and may exercise such authority while on board any such vessel as may be necessary for the purpose of such inspection.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, before proceeding to discharge any passengers, to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all such passengers who may be found on board such vessel, which list or manifest shall state the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, and nationality of each such passenger, whether he is married or single, the name and place of residence of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came, the name and complete address of the person or friend in the United States to whom he is going, whether he has a ticket through to destination, whether the passage was paid for by himself or others, whether he has been in prison or almshouse or an institution for the insane or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or is opposed to organized government, whether he is a member of a class of persons who believe in the unlawful destruction of property, whether he has been deported, whether he has ever been refused admission to the United States or deported before, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously arranged contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and whether he has a ticket through to his final destination. Said list or manifest shall also state whether such passenger is in possession of money and the amount, whether he is going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and whether his passage is paid by himself or others, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Said list or manifest shall be signed and sworn to by the master of the vessel at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which she sails for the United States. Said list or manifest shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and printed by the Government Printing Office, and shall be furnished by the United States consular officer without charge to the master of the vessel. Any master of a vessel who refuses to deliver such list or manifest, or who fails to comply with the requirements of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense, and shall be imprisoned not more than one year. Any master of a vessel who knowingly lands or permits to land from his vessel at any port in the United States any passenger who has not been listed or reported, or who lands or permits to land any passenger at any port in the United States other than the port at which such passenger is listed or reported on the list or manifest, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every passenger so landed or permitted to land, and shall be imprisoned not more than one year. Any master of a vessel who knowingly or willfully refuses to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the list or manifest required by this section, or who knowingly or willfully delivers to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a false or incomplete list or manifest of the passengers who have been taken on board his vessel at any foreign port or place, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense

The list described below shall be presented to Public Health Service officers at each port of entry. Any alien not on the list must be certified by the Public Health Service officer as clinically free from any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease before he will be allowed to land. Any alien not on the list who is certified by the Public Health Service officer as having a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease will be detained at the port of entry at the expense of the steamship company or other transportation line which brought him to the United States. Any alien not on the list who is certified by the Public Health Service officer as having a mental defect or physical defect of such a nature that it may affect his ability to earn a living will be detained at the port of entry at the expense of the steamship company or other transportation line which brought him to the United States, unless the said alien is in possession of sufficient money or property to satisfy the Public Health Service officer that he will not become a public charge. Any alien not on the list who is certified by the Public Health Service officer as having a mental defect or physical defect of such a nature that it may affect his ability to earn a living and who is in possession of sufficient money or property to satisfy the Public Health Service officer that he will not become a public charge will be detained at the port of entry at the expense of the said alien or the steamship company or other transportation line which brought him to the United States, pending examination by a Board of Special Inquiry. Any alien not on the list who arrives at a United States port on a vessel which has left a foreign port or a port of the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, or the Philippine Islands more than three days after the vessel has sailed from such port will be detained at the port of entry at the expense of the steamship company or other transportation line which brought him to the United States, pending examination by a Board of Special Inquiry. Any alien not on the list who arrives at a United States port on a vessel which has left a foreign port or a port of the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, or the Philippine Islands three days or less after the vessel has sailed from such port will be detained at the port of entry at the expense of the said alien or the steamship company or other transportation line which brought him to the United States, pending examination by a Board of Special Inquiry, unless the said alien is in possession of sufficient money or property to satisfy the Public Health Service officer that he will not become a public charge. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector stationed at the port of arrival, and such delivery to the immigration inspector shall be made before the vessel in the port of arrival leaves the dock. (Terms defined in section 1 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor pursuant thereto, shall govern in the application of this section.)

Any master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses to permit any immigrant to land from such vessel, or who refuses to detain any such immigrant on board or at quarantine when ordered so to do, or who refuses to comply with the provisions of section 16 of the Act of February 5, 1917, relative to the removal of any such immigrant who may become a public charge within three years after his arrival in the United States from causes existing prior to his landing therein, or who refuses to pay the tax imposed by section 2 of said Act, or who refuses to aid in the detention and return of any such immigrant who may be found unlawfully in the United States, or who refuses to perform any duty imposed upon him by said Act, or who violates any provision of said Act, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense, and shall be imprisoned for not more than one year.

Any master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel bringing an alien who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and who would be excluded from admission to the United States under the provisions of section 2 of said Act, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned for not more than one year. Such vessel shall be required to return to the last foreign port from which sailed, or, at the option of the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee thereof, to the nearest suitable port, as the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival may direct, and shall be required to pay the cost of the maintenance of such alien while in the United States and the cost of his removal therefrom.

Any master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who refuses to pay the tax imposed by section 2 of said Act, or who refuses to aid in the detention and return of any alien who may be found unlawfully in the United States, or who refuses to perform any duty imposed upon him by said Act, or who violates any provision of said Act, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense, and shall be imprisoned for not more than one year.

Any master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel bringing an alien who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and who would be excluded from admission to the United States under the provisions of section 2 of said Act, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned for not more than one year. Such vessel shall be required to return to the last foreign port from which sailed, or, at the option of the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee thereof, to the nearest suitable port, as the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival may direct, and shall be required to pay the cost of the maintenance of such alien while in the United States and the cost of his removal therefrom.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 16. That from and after the [redacted] day after the passage of this Act no person shall be admitted into the United States who is under sixteen years of age, unless accompanied by his father or mother or lawful guardian: Provided, That such children as may be found by the Secretary of Labor, or such agents as he may designate, to have been actually deprived of the care of their parents by reason of the death or desertion of both parents, or of the only parent authorized by law to care for them if there be but one parent living, or by reason of the insanity or imprisonment of the parents, or that the parents have voluntarily surrendered the child to the care of the institution or society by which such child is brought into the United States, may be admitted irrespective of the requirements of this section as to presentation and visa of passports: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, admit children under the age of sixteen years without regard to the provisions of this section as to presentation and visa of passports.

SEC. 17. That the Commissioner General of Immigration, the assistant commissioners general, the chief inspectors, the special agents of the Department of Labor, and such officers of the United States Immigrant Service as shall be designated for the purpose by the Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter any vessel or vehicle in which they believe aliens are being brought into the United States, to board and search the same, and to detain any such vessel or vehicle for such reasonable time as may be necessary to effect the purposes of this Act.

SEC. 18. That the Secretary of Labor shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this Act, and may employ such assistants, clerks, and other employees as may be authorized by appropriations made for the purpose.

SEC. 19. That the sum of $100,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Act, to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 20. That all Acts and parts of Acts inconsistent with this Act are hereby repealed.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States (other than an insular possession of the United States which is not contiguous to the mainland of the United States, Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Central America, the West Indies, Bermuda, the Republic of Panama, or the Canal Zone) shall, if ordered by the Secretary of Labor, be deported to the country to which he belongs, or in which he resided before coming to the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Deportation of such alien shall be effected by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien arrived in the United States, or by the steamship company which regularly operates such vessel, or by the owner of such vessel, in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may direct, and the cost of such deportation shall be a lien against such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may be found. Such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of deportation of any such alien, nor while the cost of such deportation remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Any such alien who shall have been excluded and deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section and who shall thereafter return to the United States shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act, unless prior to his return to the United States the Secretary of Labor shall have consented to his reapplying for admission. Any such alien who shall return to the United States without such consent shall be imprisoned for a term of not more than two years.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving therein from any place outside the United States (other than an insular possession of the United States which is not contiguous to the mainland of the United States, Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Central America, the West Indies, Bermuda, the Republic of Panama, or the Canal Zone) shall be required to deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty or any part thereof if he is satisfied that such seaman has not remained in the United States in violation of the immigration laws, and that such seaman was unable to obtain employment on board any vessel departing from the United States within a period of two months after the date of the imposition of such penalty, or that such seaman has been deported or has departed voluntarily from the United States without cost to the Government, or that such seaman is a bona fide member of the crew of a vessel which will depart from a port of the United States within a period of two months after the date of the imposition of such penalty, and that the master of such vessel has agreed to pay the wages of such seaman and to return him to the country to which he belongs, or in which he resided before coming to the United States, or that such seaman has been granted a visa by a consular officer for admission to the United States, or that such seaman is a bona fide member of the crew of a vessel which will depart from a port of the United States within a period of two months after the date of the imposition of such penalty, and that the master of such vessel has agreed to employ such seaman on board such vessel during such period, and to pay the wages of such seaman and to return him to the country to which he belongs, or in which he resided before coming to the United States. Clearance shall not be granted such vessel pending the remission of such penalty, or while any such seaman remains in the United States in violation of the immigration laws, except that clearance may be granted such vessel prior to the remission of such penalty upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to pay such penalty, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Such penalty shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may be found. Clearance shall not be granted such vessel while such lien remains undischarged. Such penalty shall be remitted upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to pay such penalty, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Such penalty shall be remitted upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to pay such penalty, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Such penalty shall be remitted upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to pay such penalty, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to which a penalty has been imposed under the provisions of section 35 of this Act, or his representative, to deposit with the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such penalty accrues: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs: And provided further, That whenever it appears that any alien seaman employed on such vessel left the United States prior to the arrival of such vessel at a port in the United States from any foreign port or place, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall not be liable to the payment of any penalty imposed by section 35 of this Act in respect of such alien seaman.

(b) The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name and last known address of each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (except when alien seamen employed on such vessel shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or has failed to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so. Such port shall not be changed, nor shall any seaman be removed from the vessel, before the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (except when alien seamen employed on such vessel shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or has failed to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so. Such port shall not be changed, nor shall any seaman be removed from the vessel, before the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is located the name of such seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Any vessel in the direction shall thus become liable to the payment of such penalty.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 150.15. Liens of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lien conferred by section 30 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 890; 8 U.S.C. 1171), have been discharged and not then unless notice of intention to file application for discharge of such lien has been given to the master of the vessel at least 24 hours before the application is filed. Such notice shall be given by the alien employee or his representative. Application for discharge of such lien shall be filed with the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C., and shall be accompanied by a bond in the penal sum of $300 with sufficient surety thereon, conditioned to indemnify the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel against any loss or damage which may be sustained by reason of the detention of the vessel or delay in the progress of her voyage by reason of the filing of such application. The bond shall be approved by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C., and shall be executed by the alien employee or his representative as principal and by a surety company holding a certificate of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury as surety. Upon the filing of such application and bond, the vessel may be cleared, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof shall not be liable for demurrage or damages caused by the detention of the vessel by reason of the filing of such application. Such application shall be heard and determined by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C., as soon as practicable after the filing thereof, and the decision of the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization shall be final. (Sec. 30, 39 Stat. 890; 8 U.S.C. 1171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, or any vessel touching at any port or place in the United States, except temporarily for the unloading of cargo and the taking on board thereof of sea stores or the necessary supplies of the vessel, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of some emergency, or to secure sailing orders and depart from the United States in pursuance thereof, unless he shall have been duly admitted to the United States for permanent residence or shall be in possession of a valid immigration visa and shall be otherwise admissible under the immigration laws, or unless he shall be in possession of a valid nonimmigrant visa and is destined to the United States solely for the purpose of carrying on trade between the foreign country of which he is a national and the United States under and in pursuance of the provisions of a present existing treaty of commerce and navigation between such foreign country and the United States, and shall depart in pursuance of such treaty: Provided, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien who has served in the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, or Coast and Geodetic Survey during the present war, and who has been honorably discharged therefrom, and who is found by the Attorney General to be otherwise admissible under the immigration laws.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any such vessel multiple a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) or who fails to deliver on board such vessel immediately after such inspection or to detain such seaman on board until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection to all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to detain such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question when the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs when such seaman is the property of a person who was not interested in the vessel at the time of the inception of the failure to comply with the provisions of this section. As amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, on and after the effective date of this amendatory Act.

(b) Fines and penalties under this section shall not be remitted or refunded except upon the order of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a master has been unable to detain any seaman who has deserted, shall not be granted clearance until such expenses are paid or sufficient sum deposited to pay the same, or such part thereof as the Attorney General may deem necessary, or until the master produces a certificate from the Attorney General that such seaman has been deported or that his presence in the United States is necessary as a witness in connection with the prosecution of persons charged with violating the immigration laws, or that he is a bona fide seaman and intends to ship on board some vessel within a period specified by the Attorney General and will depart on such vessel within the period specified, or that the master has furnished a bond or undertaking approved by the Attorney General sufficient to cover the cost of the maintenance of such seaman while detained, and his return to the country from which he came, or to the country to which he may be entitled to go at the option of the master, not exceeding the cost of his passage to the port of destination, and such additional sum as may be required by the Attorney General for his maintenance while awaiting departure, which bond or undertaking shall be discharged when the purposes for which it was given have been fulfilled. Nothing in this section shall be construed to amend, modify, or repeal the provisions of section 4 of the Seamen's Act of March 4, 1915, as amended (U. S. C., title 46, sec. 701), relating to the shipment and discharge of seamen in foreign ports.

SEC. 150.15 Liens of alien employees; when clearance of vessels denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens indicated by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 71), have been discharged and not then unless notice of intention to file the application provided for by said section or to that purpose has been made, and the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, or such other officer as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, a complete manifest, in triplicate, in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and such additional information relative to such immigration matters as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe, and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such vessel has sailed from a foreign port with any such alien on board who has not been included in the manifest, and the cause of the failure to include each such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last port of call in the United States all the names of those of the crew, if any, who have been hired or discharged, and of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall leave that vicinity, and the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last port of call in the United States, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed, and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver such list of the names of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or in case it appears that any names have been omitted therefrom with intent to conceal the name of any alien employee, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such correct list was not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs when such alien is the property of a person who was not interested in the vessel at the time of the inception of the failure to comply with the provisions of this section. As amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, on and after the effective date of this amendatory Act. (43 Stat. 164, 165, as amended by 48 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

(b) Fines and penalties under this section shall not be remitted or refunded except upon the order of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a master has been unable to detain any seaman who has deserted, shall not be granted clearance until such expenses are paid or sufficient sum deposited to pay the same, or such part thereof as the Attorney General may deem necessary, or until the master produces a certificate from the Attorney General that such seaman has been deported or that his presence in the United States is necessary as a witness in connection with the prosecution of persons charged with violating the immigration laws, or that he is a bona fide seaman and intends to ship on board some vessel within a period specified by the Attorney General and will depart on such vessel within the period specified, or that the master has furnished a bond or undertaking approved by the Attorney General sufficient to cover the cost of the maintenance of such seaman while detained, and his return to the country from which he came, or to the country to which he may be entitled to go at the option of the master, not exceeding the cost of his passage to the port of destination, and such additional sum as may be required by the Attorney General for his maintenance while awaiting departure, which bond or undertaking shall be discharged when the purposes for which it was given have been fulfilled. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list checked below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the first port of arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place if a sick or injured person is on board and desires to be landed. Such person will be required by the immigration officer to be detained on board the vessel unless he is certified by the medical examiner to be free from any contagious disease. The list of aliens must be prepared in duplicate, and the original will be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. If there are no aliens on board, a list to that effect should be made out and delivered.

(See Rule 28, Immigration Regulations, 1924.)

Sec. 18. That alien seamen, natives of and vessels in the United States from any foreign port or place if about to depart from the United States for any foreign port or place, shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel, before the departure thereof, to report to the proper immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival; or place contiguous thereto, all aliens employed on such vessel; and the functions that respectively fall to the alien seamen on the vessel, and where they were respectively employed on such vessel; and shall furnish such immigration officer, or his authorized agent, with such information as may be required by him touching such alien seamen; and shall furnish to such immigration officer, or his authorized agent, a description of such alien seamen as may be required by him for the identification of any alien seamen who may fail to report for departure or who may desert from such vessel while in port; and shall furnish such immigration officer or his authorized agent with such other information likely to lead to the apprehension of any such alien seamen who may fail to depart with the vessel on which employed or who may desert while in the United States; and shall furnish to such immigration officer or his authorized agent such assistance as may be within the power of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officers of such vessel to render effective the departure of such alien seamen and their detention on board until the departure of the vessel from the port; and also the failure to report or the report of any such desertion or departure of any such alien seamen as required by this section shall be reported in writing to the Secretary of Labor and to the United States attorney for the district in which such vessel may arrive, by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officers of such vessel, within twenty-four hours after the vessel shall have arrived at the port to which such alien seamen deserted or departed or would have departed but for such failure or refusal to detain them, and the cause or reason for such failure or refusal, if known or ascertained by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officers of such vessel. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to comply with any requirement of this section or any lawful regulation made thereunder shall pay to the United States a penalty of $300 for each such refusal or failure, and no such vessel shall have clearance granted it by the collector or other officer of the customs until such penalty has been paid or good and sufficient bond given to the United States for the payment thereof. The Attorney General is authorized and directed to remit, mitigate, or cancel any penalty incurred under this section whenever in his judgment such remission, mitigation, or cancellation is justified by the circumstances of the case, and he may prescribe such terms or conditions precedent to any remission, mitigation, or cancellation as he deems just. ALIEN SEAMEN

Sec. 15. No alien seaman employed from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of such contingencies as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

Sec. 16. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States (except vessels touching only at ports in the United States contiguous to foreign territory), or any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States (except vessels touching only at ports in the United States contiguous to foreign territory) which has landed at any such port any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or shall have received from the medical examiner in charge at the port of arrival a report in writing that such examination is unnecessary, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit, mitigate, or cancel any such fine, or refund any money paid in connection therewith, if he is satisfied that the vessel has arrived at a port where there is no United States immigration officer, or that the failure of the master to report the desertion of such alien seaman was due to sickness or death of the master, or other cause beyond the master's control, or that such alien seaman was not employed on such vessel, or that such alien seaman was forced to leave the vessel without the master's knowledge or consent, or that the vessel was unreasonably detained after the master had reported the desertion of such alien seaman, or that the fine is excessive in relation to the offense, or that the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States has been sold to a purchaser in good faith before the master knew or had reason to believe that such alien seaman intended to desert, or for other reasons shall seem to him sufficient, and he may prescribe such terms or conditions precedent to any remission, mitigation, or cancellation as he deems just. Except as provided in this section, no fine imposed under the provisions of this section shall be remitted or refunded. (43 Stat. 164, 165; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

Sec. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the limitation imposed by section 16 of the immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 191), have been complied with, but not unless notice of application therefor has been received by said section or if that prescribed by section 32 of said Act (43 Stat. 806; 8 U. S. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the time the vessel at the port of arrival is first inspected by the immigration officer. In order to facilitate inspection, a line should be left between each race or people, and there should be entered in the column headed "Nationality" a notation to that effect should the master or the immigration officer so desire. "Negro" as an alternate designation may be entered as "mulatto," "quadroon," or "octoroon," as the case may be. The list or manifest of aliens must be signed by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, who shall in no instance be allowed to make any other person sign his name for him. (Act Feb. 5, 1903.)

SEC. 36. That from and after the expiration of ninety days after the passage of this Act it shall be unlawful for any person, company, or corporation to bring into the United States from any foreign port or place any alien, except in the case of a seaman or a person in transit through the United States from a foreign country contiguous to the United States and entering the United States at a port of entry where the immigrant inspector has not been stationed, any alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa or other document required by this Act, or who is not in possession of a valid passport issued by the government of the country of which he claims nationality, or some other country which will permit him to enter, or who is not in possession of a border-crossing identification card issued by the United States Department of Labor: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the requirements of this section in the case of any alien who has been a resident in the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the requirements of this section in the case of any alien who has been a resident in the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad to Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Central America, the West Indies, Panama, the Canal Zone, Colombia, Venezuela, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, Argentina, Brazil, Paraguay, Uruguay, or Europe: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the requirements of this section in the case of any alien who has been a resident in the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad to any country not contiguous to the United States: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the requirements of this section in the case of any alien who has been a resident in the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad to any country not contiguous to the United States, if such alien establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa or other document required by this Act, and that he is returning to the United States within a period not exceeding four months from the date of his departure therefrom, or within such further period as may be authorized by the Secretary of Labor in special cases where extensions beyond four months are considered necessary by him: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this section, and any person who violates any such rule or regulation shall be fined not more than $200 or imprisoned not more than six months, or both.

SEC. 37. (a) Any alien who at any time after entering the United States is found to have been at the time of entry a member of one of the classes of aliens excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act for the deportation of aliens who become public charges from causes not affirmatively disclosed at the time of admission. The cost of the maintenance of any alien detained for examination and of his return in case he is ordered returned under the provisions of this section shall be borne by the owners of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States.

(b) Any alien who at any time after entering the United States is found to have been at the time of entry a member of the class excluded by paragraph (15) of section 3 of this Act, shall, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act for the deportation of aliens who become public charges from causes not affirmatively disclosed at the time of admission. The cost of the maintenance of any alien detained for examination and of his return in case he is ordered returned under the provisions of this section shall be borne by the owners of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien by reason of the existence of any of the conditions described in section 19 of this Act, he may, in his discretion, grant such alien a temporary visit to the United States under such bond and such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, irrespective of the provisions of section 3 of this Act, but no such visit shall be considered as an admission of the alien into the United States within the meaning of section 19 of this Act. (43 Stat. 162, as amended by 44 Stat. 812; 8 U. S. C. 156.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or shipwreck, and for the purpose of obtaining surgical or hospital treatment, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment by a duly accredited practitioner of osteopathy or chiropractic, during the period of the vessel's stay in port, or for the purpose of rendering assistance in such emergencies as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe, or for the purpose of participating in the organization, maintenance, or management of a labor organization, fraternal, benevolent, or religious association, or cooperative enterprise, or for the purpose of participating in such other activities as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe, but no such alien shall be employed in any such activities for hire, nor shall he be admitted to the United States for permanent residence if otherwise inadmissible. Any such alien who shall land in the United States for any purpose or purposes shall, at the discretion of the Attorney General, be required to furnish a bond or undertaking, in such sum and with such sureties and conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe, to guarantee the departure of such alien from the United States, and to prevent him from becoming a public charge. Any such alien who lands in the United States for any purpose or purposes without having furnished such bond or undertaking, if required, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act. Any such alien who lands in the United States for any purpose or purposes and remains for a period of more than twenty-nine days shall, for the purposes of this Act, be presumed to have landed for permanent residence, unless such alien establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, by clear, convincing, and unequivocal evidence, and by the testimony of at least two credible witnesses other than himself, that he entered solely for the purpose of participating in the organization, maintenance, or management of a labor organization, fraternal, benevolent, or religious association, or cooperative enterprise, or for the purpose of participating in such other activities as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe, or for the purpose of rendering assistance in such emergencies as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe, and that he has not remained in the United States for any purpose or purposes for more than twenty-nine days. Any such alien who lands in the United States for any purpose or purposes and remains for a period of more than twenty-nine days, unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he entered solely for the purpose of participating in the organization, maintenance, or management of a labor organization, fraternal, benevolent, or religious association, or cooperative enterprise, or for the purpose of participating in such other activities as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe, or for the purpose of rendering assistance in such emergencies as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe, and that he has not remained in the United States for any purpose or purposes for more than twenty-nine days, shall be presumed to have landed for permanent residence, and shall be subject to all the provisions of this Act relating to aliens who enter the United States for permanent residence. Any alien who lands in the United States for any purpose or purposes without having furnished such bond or undertaking, if required, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act. Any such alien who lands in the United States for any purpose or purposes and remains for a period of more than twenty-nine days shall, for the purposes of this Act,

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such emergencies as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alien's departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 180)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to deliver on board any such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry has granted a permit for the landing of such alien, except that such inspection may be conducted at any time after the vessel shall have been reported and the inspection fee paid. All aliens arriving at any port shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer for such inspection, and such inspection shall be completed as soon as practicable after the vessel shall have been reported and the inspection fee paid. Such inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner.

(b) Any alien who shall refuse to submit to such physical examination shall be deemed a person likely to become a public charge and may be excluded from admission to the United States unless such alien shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such refusal was based upon religious or moral grounds or upon well-founded objection to the form or character of the physical examination required by the United States immigration officers at the port of arrival: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to affect or limit the right of any alien to enter the United States for the purpose of and to the extent provided by any existing treaty of commerce now in force.

(c) Any alien who shall willfully fail or refuse to submit to such physical examination provided for in subdivision (b) of this section shall be taken before a special inquiry officer for such action as may be necessary in his case pursuant to the provisions of section 19 of this Act.

(d) Any alien who shall be certified by the medical examiner as afflicted with any contagious disease, or with any mental disease or defect which will render such alien likely to become a public charge, or who is found to be a person who has been deported, or who has been arrested and deported, or who has been excluded and deported, or who has been apprehended and deported, or who has been permitted to withdraw his application for admission and depart voluntarily from the United States at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor or his authorized representatives, or who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is a polygamist, or who practices polygamy or believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or who is an anarchist, or who believes in or advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who advises, advocates, or teaches the unlawful destruction of property, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching any of the doctrines above specified, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization that writes, prints, publishes, or causes to be written, printed, published, or knowingly circulated, distributed, or displayed any book, paper, document, or any written or printed matter in any form, containing the propagation of any of the doctrines above specified, or who is found to be an alien who has come to the United States in violation of any law or laws forbidding the entry of aliens into the United States, or who has entered the United States at any time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who is found in the United States in violation of this Act or any other law of the United States, or who is found in the United States in violation of any treaty or convention to which the United States is a party, or who is found to have come to the United States in violation of any such treaty or convention, shall be taken into custody and deported in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act.

(e) Any alien who shall be certified by the medical examiner as afflicted with any contagious disease, or with any mental disease or defect which will render such alien likely to become a public charge, or who is found to be a person who has been deported, or who has been arrested and deported, or who has been excluded and deported, or who has been apprehended and deported, or who has been permitted to withdraw his application for admission and depart voluntarily from the United States at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor or his authorized representatives, or who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is a polygamist, or who practices polygamy or believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or who is an anarchist, or who believes in or advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who advises, advocates, or teaches the unlawful destruction of property, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching any of the doctrines above specified, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization that writes, prints, publishes, or causes to be written, printed, published, or knowingly circulated, distributed, or displayed any book, paper, document, or any written or printed matter in any form, containing the propagation of any of the doctrines above specified, or who is found to be an alien who has come to the United States in violation of any law or laws forbidding the entry of aliens into the United States, or who has entered the United States at any time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who is found in the United States in violation of this Act or any other law of the United States, or who is found in the United States in violation of any treaty or convention to which the United States is a party, or who is found to have come to the United States in violation of any such treaty or convention, shall be taken into custody and deported in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act.

(f) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared while such expense has been paid or its payment Enforced to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on plain white approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector. When an alien seaman is a "witness", a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens (Form I-420) shall not be furnished on board but shall be delivered by the master to the branch immigration officer at the port of arrival. Where an alien seaman is a witness, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for repairs only, and not destined to land in the United States, except temporarily for such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to such less sum as $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such failure was due to sickness or accident and not to the fault of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, and may remit the entire penalty in the case of a seaman who was a stowaway.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in the manner and at the time required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States contrary to any order or regulation made by the Attorney General, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and may be arrested and deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully. Any such alien seaman who shall willfully fail or refuse to depart from the United States within a period of ten days from the date of his lawful order of deportation, or shall willfully fail or refuse to make application for a passport within such period of time after such order as the Attorney General may prescribe, or shall connive or conspire, or take any other action designed to prevent or hamper or with intent to prevent or hamper his departure from the United States pursuant to such order, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That alien seamen of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, consignee, or purser thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and shall be the duty of the master of each such vessel to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel from the United States from any port, a complete list or manifest of all the persons on board such vessel, showing the number thereof, and in such manner as may be required by the rules and regulations to be made by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, touching the admission of aliens, which list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered in quadruplicate, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master of such vessel, and by the purser or surgeon thereof, if there be one, or by such other officer of the vessel as may be designated by the master in case of the absence from any cause of the master and purser and surgeon, and shall show the name, nationality, last residence, and intended destination of every alien seaman on board, whether he is in transit through the United States or not, and such other items of information as may be required by the rules and regulations to be made by the Commissioner General of Immigration touching the admission of aliens. Any master or commanding officer of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or manifest, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge and belief all questions touching the same, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board his vessel any alien seaman who has been ordered by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to be detained on board, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any such alien seaman so detained on board his vessel at the time of departure from the United States, unless such alien seaman has been regularly discharged in accordance with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse or neglect to report and deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival any alien seaman who has deserted his vessel while in port, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain any such alien seaman on board his vessel after notice that such alien seaman is required as a witness in any case or proceeding before the Commissioner General of Immigration or any board of special inquiry, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any other duty required of him by the immigration laws or regulations, or who shall willfully or knowingly land or permit to be landed from his vessel any alien seaman not shown in the list or manifest delivered by him to the immigration officer in charge at the port, except in case of such emergency or for such cause as may be allowed by the rules and regulations to be made by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Such penalty shall not be remitted or refunded. Clearance shall be granted any vessel upon the payment of such penalty for which she may be held liable, or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to the satisfaction of the collector of customs of the district in which the port is located, conditioned upon the payment of such penalty as may be finally determined by the Secretary of Labor. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty. No bond given to secure the payment of such penalty shall be discharged until the question of liability of the master to such penalty has been finally determined by the Secretary of Labor. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the penalty has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for repairs only, and not destined to land in the United States, except for such time as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164 & U.S.C. 160.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for repairs only, and not destined to land in the United States, except for such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to such less sum as $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such failure was due to sickness or accident and not to the fault of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, and may remit the entire penalty in the case of a seaman who was a stowaway. The decision of the Attorney General in the question shall finally determine the amount, if any, due under the provisions of this section, and such amount, when determined, shall be a lien upon the vessel to which the seaman belonged, and may be recovered in the name of the United States in the district court of any district within which the vessel may be found. (43 Stat. 164, 165; 8 U.S.C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in the manner and at the time required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States contrary to any order or regulation made by the Attorney General, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and may be arrested and deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of an emergency, or to secure supplies, or for such other reasons as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alien's departure, and not then unless duplicate lists of such aliens, showing their full names, ages, and last permanent addresses in their own countries, shall have been delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, who shall deliver one of such lists to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which such aliens arrived, and shall require a bond in such amount as he may deem sufficient, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such bond is required, conditioned that such alien seaman will depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, and will not land in the United States at any time without the permission of the Attorney General. Such bond shall be in lieu of the tax required to be collected from such alien seaman by section 2 of the Act of February 18, 1903, as amended (U.S.C., title 8, sec. 132). The master, captain, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman who is required by this section to be listed, or who lands or secures the discharge of such alien seaman in violation of the provisions of this section, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien seaman, and such penalty shall constitute a lien upon the vessel which may be enforced by libel in rem. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any penalty or portion thereof incurred under this section when it appears that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel had no reason to believe that the alien seaman was an alien, or that the alien seaman had been in the United States for a sufficient period prior to the departure of the vessel to secure a visa and passport, or that the vessel was unable to depart from the port within the period limited by the immigration officer without danger to the vessel or cargo, or that the vessel sailed from a foreign port before the receipt of the message requiring the detention of such alien seaman, or that such alien seaman was forced to land in the United States by reason of illness, injury, or other emergency, or that such alien seaman has been granted the privilege of pilotage under section 4081 of the Revised Statutes (U.S.C., title 46, sec. 214), or that such alien seaman has been lawfully granted shore leave under such conditions as the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel may prescribe. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any alien seaman prior to the completion of the inquiry provided for in section 16 of this Act, or to require the detention in the United States of any alien seaman after the vessel on which he arrived shall have departed from the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States during the period his vessel is in port and who fails to depart on board of such vessel or on some other vessel before she departs from the United States, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to citizenship unless subsequently admitted to the United States for permanent residence

SEC. 3. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the foreign immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively applied or entered, and whether they intend to depart or land after the arrival of such vessel; or pass coupons so to do of such aliens. Every master or commander of any such vessel shall also report to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the name of each alien who may have been left behind on account of illness or injury, and produce a certificate of the medical officer, if any, in relation thereto, and deposit with the immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has deserted, together with the amount of money and effects left by him, and a description of such alien. Duplicate lists of all aliens employed upon any vessel arriving from any foreign port or place shall be delivered by the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located before any of such aliens shall be granted permission to land, except in cases where such aliens are seamen employed in good faith in the vessel in which they arrived at such port or place, and are continuing in such employment, and except also in cases where such aliens are in possession of valid passports issued by the country to which the vessel belongs, and are destined to such country: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing any alien who is not in possession of a valid passport issued by the country to which the vessel belongs, or who intends to land in the United States, shall, before such vessel departs from the port at which such alien is on board, report the name, nationality, and last permanent residence of such alien to the United States consul at such port, and failure to make such report shall be punished as provided in section 8 of this Act.
